Reporting fund status

Where "reporting fund" status is obtained, Shareholders who are resident in the United Kingdom for tax purposes (other than persons who are dealing in the shares who are subject to different rules) should be liable for capital gains tax (or corporation tax on chargeable gains) in respect of any gain realised on disposal or repurchase of the shares or on conversion from one sub-fund to another within J O Hambro Capital Management Umbrella Fund plc ("the Company").

Each sub-fund has received certification as a "reporting fund" under the UK reporting fund regime. It is intended that the Company will conduct its affairs so as to enable each sub-fund to maintain "reporting fund" status.

It cannot, however, be guaranteed that "reporting fund" status will be maintained in respect of any relevant period of account. It should be noted that it is not necessary to obtain "reporting fund" status on an annual or certificated basis; a sub-fund that obtains "reporting fund" status will maintain that status until such time as a material breach of the reporting regime occurs (for example, if the sub-fund does not report its income as required).

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT REPORT

for the financial period ended 30 June 2023

Performance

The JOHCM Continental European Fund was up +7.92%, net of fees and in Sterling terms for the "A" share class, for the six-month period to 30 June 2023. The MSCI Europe ex UK Composite Index (12pm adjusted) was up +8.04% in Sterling terms over the same period.

Portfolio review

European markets experienced modest gains in the first half of 2023, accompanied by declining market volatility. The period was also marked by sustained inflationary pressures and interest rate hikes in Europe and other developed regions. Inflation shifted from being driven by energy and food to wages, particularly in the services sector. The European Central Bank raised rates, while the asset purchase program reinvestments are expected to end from July. Technology emerged as the strongest performing sector, while communication services and energy lagged.

In aggregate, financials performance was strong, where the sub-fund, on average, was slightly overweight for the period. During the period, we maintained a defensive positioning with overweight allocations in utilities, communications and staples. Industrials saw the largest increase in weight, driven by strong demand for companies involved in environmentally-friendly initiatives like Schneider and Saint-Gobain.

The top contributors for the period were Unicredit (financials), CRH (materials), ING Group (financials), Infineon Technologies (information technology) and Schneider Electric (industrials). The strongest single stock contributor came from Unicredit following strong 2022Q4 and 2023Q1 results, raising guidance and the commitment to a 2023 shareholder distribution similar in size to 2022 and a continued low deposit beta drove the stock. The technology sector led the way over the quarter, as the Nasdaq saw its best quarter since 2020, with Infineon contributing positively. The Green Deal and the overwhelming focus on energy efficiency are set to be with us for a prolonged period, and the likes of Schneider and Infineon will keep benefitting. CRH will specifically benefit from the policy driven by an uplift in US infrastructure spending, as well as being a terrifically managed company with an engrained mentality of continuous business improvement. CRH is also helped by its desire to have a primary listing in the US.

The bottom contributors included Swatch (consumer discretionary), RWE (utilities), ASR (financials) and Ubisoft (communications services). Swatch was disappointing as doubts were cast over the strength of the consumer recovery in China, while it has fairly low exposure to the US, where there remain question marks over the sustainability of the growth in luxury consumption. We believe Swatch is particularly well placed in China with the Omega and Longines brands, which may yield more margin leverage than expected, not least due to the degree of cost-cutting during the pandemic years. RWE was weak despite increasing full year profit guidance, mainly driven down by the decline in gas prices. The contagion in financials in March and concerns over commercial real estate led to a selloff in ASR, but this remains unjustified given its low and largely rural exposure. Ubisoft was held back by a profit warning early in the quarter.

Outlook

The first half of 2023 surpassed expectations with strong market performance, particularly driven by developments in the technology sector. However, we anticipate challenges in the second half as the impact of monetary policy changes and increasing interest rates are likely to pose headwinds. Europe is expected to raise rates in July and possibly in September, while inflation remains a concern with wage growth potentially exceeding 4%. We anticipate rates staying higher for an extended period, limiting growth prospects and delaying the optimism of a monetary policy shift. Consumer confidence and consumption outlook are key focal points, with incremental improvements seen despite challenges from rates, housing prices and food costs. Positive real wage growth later in the year could boost confidence. Currently, we maintain a higher weighting in non-cyclicals and are satisfied with our portfolio's exposure to structural themes like electrification, decarbonisation, healthcare and digitalisation. Europe's valuations are at average cycle levels, making the region comparatively attractive, and we believe a medium-term re-rating story may unfold, driven by faster growth, higher quality and a less cyclical outlook.

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT REPORT

for the financial period ended 30 June 2023

Performance

The JOHCM UK Growth Fund was up +4.32%, net of fees and in Sterling terms for the "A" share class, for the six-month period to 30 June 2023. The FTSE All Share Index (12pm adjusted) was up +2.24% in Sterling terms over the same period.

Portfolio review

Despite growing cautionary voices and the firm stance of the Federal Reserve on rates, markets started the year positively. The higher-for-longer narrative gained traction in February, supported by strong data and earnings. However, in March, two bank collapses shattered the fragile peace. In Q2, the UK economy defied recession fears, with raised GDP forecasts and positive economic indicators. Mainstream investors abandoned the market, but private equity and company directors showed interest, resulting in multiple bids for UK PLCs at premiums. This clashed with the prevailing narrative of structural decline.

In terms of the sub-fund's performance, technology, consumer staples and consumer discretionary sectors were the top performing sectors contributing. On the negative side, energy, industrials and telecommunications were the worst performing sectors.

At stock level, Alfa Financial Software (technology), Rank (consumer discretionary), Gooch & Housego (technology), FD Technologies (technology) and Alphawave (technology) were the top performing holdings. Perhaps the best news, however, came in Rank, where not only did we see a positive profits forecast driven by strong trading momentum, but the long-awaited white paper on gambling delivered a very favourable outcome for the company. Its publication marks not only an important de-risking but sets the framework for a potentially considerable opportunity. Given the significant investment that has gone into its digital platform and the reformulation of its trading estate, the business is ideally poised to take advantage of what lies ahead. Using relatively conservative assumptions, it is perfectly feasible for the company to treble profitability from its current level and arguably considerably more. The share price had a modest bump on all this, but it is still hopelessly detached from the underlying reality of such a powerful trajectory. Three of the sub-fund's clear Artificial Intelligence ("AI") enablers, Alphawave, Oxford Metrics and Gooch & Housego drifted higher as the dots finally started to get joined on where they fit into these huge and accelerating addressable markets. Meanwhile, a fourth, FD Technologies, further burnished its credentials by signing an important partnership with Snowflake, adding to important previously announced deals with Microsoft and Google.

The most significant negative contributors included BT Group (telecommunications), HSBC (financials), Anglo American (basic materials), Ebiquity (consumer discretionary) and BP (energy). BT rolled over from recent highs as investors reflected on its decision to reinvest the tax incentives from the budget into the rollout of its Next Generation Network. Most long-term holders should surely see this as a positive development and, was after all, the entire purpose of introducing the breaks in the first place, but equally, some are evidently concerned about the immediate impact on cashflow and combined with some pension niggles this saw the share price slip back. Anglo American saw a weak sector backdrop but also some analyst scepticism over its substantial new greenfield investment, Woodside. The company has a strong track record in delivering such projects and has faced similar short term focused carping before; there is nothing of substance to believe this time will be any different.

Outlook

With over 23% of the sub-fund allocated to technology, we look forward to the benefits of direct and indirect exposure to this sector. The approach has been to identify companies that provide direct tools or resources to help unlock AI's full potential or those with highly unique and proprietary datasets that can be trained on AI to accelerate product innovation and revenue growth. The emergence of AI as a disruptive technology has surpassed expectations, transforming business processes and gaining public attention. Seismic results from Nvidia fuelled market excitement. AI's rapid progress and real-world impact have outpaced hype cycles, with the potential to be the most disruptive force in 27 years. The JOHCM UK Growth Fund is well-positioned for this disruption, with a focus on critically important enablers at favourable valuations.

Retail investors and pension funds may still be allocating away from the UK, but other investors, among the most sophisticated and knowledgeable in the market, are increasingly filling the vacuum. The sub-fund has a long track record of attracting disproportionate corporate interest in its portfolio holdings. With the highest proportion of well-invested clear market leaders it has ever had, let alone the astonishing valuations, there is every expectation that will continue.

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT REPORT

for the financial period ended 30 June 2023

Performance

The JOHCM European Select Values Fund was up +1.23%, net of fees and in Sterling terms for the "A" share class, for the six-month period to 30 June 2023. The MSCI Europe Composite Index (12pm adjusted) was up +6.68% in Sterling terms over the same period.

Portfolio review

European equities started the year in a strong position, but the collapse of Silicon Valley Bank and the Swiss government-enforced takeover of struggling Credit Suisse by UBS dominated markets at the end of the first quarter. Declining energy costs and improving leading indicators continue to restore risk appetite, even as interest rates rose. Better than expected economic activity, structurally higher energy costs and inflation have finally forced central banks to "normalise" monetary policies by raising base rates and, even in Europe, reverse quantitative easing. After more than 40 years of declining interest rates, the tide is turning. The European Central Bank ("ECB") is committed to containing inflation, the 10-year euro benchmark yield rose above 2.60%, a level not seen since the July 2011 Euro debt crisis, and the ECB started running down its massive bond holdings in March. European markets resumed their upward trajectory in April, supported by improving economic conditions and declining inflation. May saw European markets reaching new highs but ended the month with a decline due to concerns about inflation and weakening economic data. In June, European equities rebounded, driven by optimism surrounding past-peak inflation.

The sub-fund underperformed the benchmark, with the liquidity factor largely driving share prices, but some stock-specific contributions stood out. On the negative side Corbion, United Internet and Metro Wholesale & Foods. Bio-based ingredients company Corbion reiterated its very positive mid and long-term guidance, in line with the December 2022 investor event, yet the shares declined by -15%, retreating to levels last seen in early December. Despite being a growing business with a very attractive valuation (7x expected earnings), shares of telecom group United Internet fell 20%, even after the company reported in-line results and executed the partial spin-off and listing of its Internet hosting business Ionos.

Rolls-Royce Holdings, Oracle and Vitesco Technologies were the most significant contributors over the period. Small caps performed well, and we note a very strong contribution from aerospace and defence group Rolls-Royce. Rolls-Royce shares rallied 37% on strong results and a positive outlook. Long-distance air traffic continues to recover towards pre-pandemic levels and China's reopening.

We invested in two technology small caps, AMS-Osram (EUR 1.6bn market cap) and PSI Software (EUR 500mn market cap). AMS is a global leader in optical solution technologies, with the 2021 acquisition of Osram going through a deep transformation. German PSI Software develops process control software systems for energy grid operations and industrial production. Its solutions are mission critical for the minute-by-minute operations of energy (electricity/gas) grids, water networks and production management.

Outlook

The intrinsic value of the sub-fund's investments shows an aggregate +127% upside versus current prices in the market. Only twice in the last 20 years has the sub-fund had a similar upside, in March-April 2009 (at the depth of the financial crisis) and March-April 2020 (COVID). In 2009 the whole market was cheap, including large and small caps, classic value and quality stocks. But today, not dissimilar to 2020, valuations are very polarised. Stock selection will be essential to strong future performance.

INVESTMENT MANAGER'S REPORT

for the financial period ended 30 June 2023

Performance

The JOHCM Global Select Fund was down -1.94%, net of fees and in Sterling terms for the "A" share class, for the six-month period to 30 June 2023. The MSCI AC World NR Index (12pm adjusted) was up +7.09% in Sterling terms over the same period.

Portfolio review

The first half of 2023 was a wild ride for the markets, with the S&P 500 up 7% but the 10 largest stocks in the index up 59%. This is the widest dispersion between the top 10 and the rest of the index since records began, and it is a major reason why we underperformed the benchmark. We believe this dispersion is unsustainable, and the second half of the year will see a mean reversion, with the 10 largest stocks starting to underperform and other stocks/sectors/regions starting to outperform. We are particularly interested in defensive sectors, such as staples, healthcare, utilities, and telecoms. These sectors have been beaten down in recent months but are now trading at attractive valuations. We also like Japan, which is benefiting from corporate restructuring and an improving economic outlook.

Boliden, in the materials sector, suffered from a fire which will temporarily limit production. In the consumer staples sector, Estée Lauder has a temporary inventory problem in China. In consumer discretionary, not owning Amazon and Tesla was negative, as was owning Aptiv, which saw temporary weakness in the share price despite earnings estimates going up (the stock is now recovering). Overweight positions in healthcare, such as Agilent, Elevance, Repligen and United Health, were all weak after strong relative returns last year. We think this weakness is temporary and we are buyers of their dips. In technology, not owning Apple, Nvidia and other US mega-cap stocks, which rallied on the Artificial Intelligence theme/bubble, was negative, as was owning Globalant and Keysight, both of which saw weakness despite their earnings estimates going up (the stocks are now recovering). Epam, Danaher and Morningstar all had earnings downgrades, which made us sell the stocks as we do not believe the cuts will be one-offs.

ANSYS, in the technology sector, was among the main positive contributors, driven by positive earnings outlook. Chart Industries and GXO Logistics in the industrial sector, were also positive, driven by good earnings outlooks; Banco Bradesco and B3 in the financial sector, rose due to improving fundamentals in Brazil; excess returns in Vertex and Novo Nordisk, in the health care sector, were driven by positive new drug trials.

During the period we purchased Danone (consumer staples), GXO Logistics (industrials), Infineon (semiconductors) and PTC (technology for factory automation) due to a combination of positive earnings outlook, attractive valuation and positive price trends. These were funded by the sales of Agco, Epam, Danaher, Morningstar and United Rentals, sold due to earnings concerns.

Outlook

Looking forward, there is statistically a high probability that the 10 largest US stocks start underperforming and other stocks/sectors/regions start outperforming during the second half of 2023. The largest 10 USA stocks are up 59% year to date, versus 7% for the equally weighted S&P 500 index, and 11.3% for the MSCI World ex USA Index. The outperformance of the 10 largest S&P 500 stocks relative to the equally weighted S&P 500 index is at its widest since records began and is a major reason for our underperformance year to date.

We only own Microsoft and Google (Alphabet) within the top 10, because they are the only two that fit our investment process, which requires a combination of positive relative earnings, attractive valuation and a positive price trend.

The current 11% contribution from the largest 10 USA stocks to total Index performance year to date is the highest by far of any half-year period. It is around 60% greater than the second and third six-month periods which were the tech bubbles of 2020 and 1999 (which saw 6.9% and 6.8% contributions respectively).

Given that just a handful of technology-related stocks drove the first-half rally, sector performance has been extremely lopsided, and several defensive sectors have now reached statistically significant oversold levels. For example, the Ned Davies defensive SHUT (staples, healthcare, utilities, telecoms) Index is almost 3.0 standard deviations oversold, its worst first-half performance of any year since it began in 1972. There is a high probability of this mean-reverting, driven by the Fed tightening cycle and a deteriorating economic outlook, leading to a defensive-sector resurgence in the second half of 2023.

Outside the US equity market, we have not seen this extraordinary disparity between the top 10 largest companies and the rest. The most notable thing we are seeing is the deterioration in the Chinese stock market due to economic and geo-political concerns, versus the improvement in the Japanese stock market due to corporate restructuring that is being driven by the Tokyo Stock Exchange's insistence that listed firms take action to raise their price-to-book ratio above one. In other words, "Abenomics third arrow" of corporate restructuring to increase profitability is finally being implemented. As a result, Japan is probably transitioning from "sell the rallies" to "buy the dips".

We are also “buyers of the dips” in mid-cap technology as it will probably catch up to mega-cap technology, health care and consumer staples which are now three standard deviations oversold, global champions trading at a valuation discount in UK and Europe, and domestic growth stocks in selected emerging markets (ex-China).

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT REPORT

for the financial period ended 30 June 2023

Performance

The JOHCM Global Emerging Market Opportunities Fund was up +0.82%, net of fees and in Sterling terms for the "A" share class, for the six-month period to 30 June 2023. The MSCI Emerging Markets Index (12pm adjusted) was down -0.61% in Sterling terms over the same period.

Portfolio review

The first half of 2023 started with a continuation of the market rebound seen in the last months of 2022, with more optimism about global growth being broadly reflected in emerging equity markets. However, as the period progressed, continued inflationary pressures and interest rate hikes in the developed world, and evidence of renewed weakness in the Chinese economy, led to more modest returns. Overall, in the period MSCI Emerging Markets Index returned +4.9% in USD terms.

Chinese economic data continued to show a weak and asymmetric recovery. Parts of the consumer and services economy are benefiting from re-opening, but data from the manufacturing and real estate sectors largely reflected weak economic conditions. In the financial system, money supply growth, which had been strengthening, turned lower, while loan growth also undershot expectations, reflecting continuing build-up of deposits by cautious households and companies. MSCI China returned -5.5% in USD terms in the period.

The recovery in the Eurozone continued to feed through to European emerging markets, with Greece and Hungary, Poland and Czechia among the best performing emerging markets in the period. This did not feed through to Turkey, which was the weakest performing market in the period as political risks around the May election and the serious imbalances in the Turkish economy caused MSCI Turkey to return -19.1% in USD terms.

The period saw ongoing investor enthusiasm for bonds and equities in the emerging markets with stable currencies and strong economic and corporate earnings growth. MSCI Brazil returned +16.8% in USD terms, with economic growth surprising to the upside and inflation coming in lower than expected. Also seeing strong economic growth and lower inflation were India, with MSCI India returning +5.1% in USD terms; Indonesia, with MSCI Indonesia returning +8.9% in USD terms; and Mexico, the standout from this group, with MSCI Mexico returning +27.1% in USD terms.

Despite weak economic and export data, Taiwanese and Korean equity markets performed better in the period, as renewed optimism about the Artificial Intelligence industry's demand for tech hardware drove strength globally in technology hardware stocks. MSCI Taiwan and MSCI Korea returned +19.9% and +14.4% in USD terms respectively in the period.

During the period, the portfolio continued to benefit from overweight positions in markets seeing trade balances that are strong in historic terms, strengthening growth and the prospect of lower interest rates later in the year. The portfolio remained overweight Mexico, Brazil, India and Indonesia, but South Africa was reduced to a neutral position on weaker prospects.

Outlook

Emerging market equities look to be benefiting from both accelerating domestic demand in many key markets and from increased capital inflows related to a weaker US dollar. As well as being supportive for returns from the asset class, these drivers are leading to a change in leadership within the asset class, with better prospects for current account deficit markets such as Mexico, Brazil, India and Indonesia. The sub-fund is overweight these markets in preference to Korea, Taiwan and China, and should be well positioned for a weaker US dollar and rising emerging equity markets.

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT REPORT

for the financial period ended 30 June 2023

Performance

The JOHCM Asia ex Japan Fund was down -6.33%, net of fees and in Sterling terms for the "A" share class, for the six-month period to 30 June 2023. The MSCI AC Asia ex Japan Index (12pm adjusted) was down -2.35% in Sterling terms over the same period.

Portfolio review

January 2023 marked a relief rally in Asian equities. Inflation prints in the US decelerated, fuelling expectations that the Fed would slow or even stop raising rates. Consequently, the US dollar depreciated, helping a risk on sentiment. However, of all the risks for 2023, a run on regional banks in the US threatening the Swiss banking system and forcing Credit Suisse to merge with UBS was not on my list. Several companies in China declared results for the year ending December 2022. Heartening to note was that our largest holdings in China remain on track and focused on restructuring. Cash flow generation is now a priority instead of growth at any price. The most surprising announcements in the quarter were from Alibaba management, who are planning to split the firm into six entities. The dominant discussion in Asia during Q2 revolved around the ongoing economic normalization in China. The severity of the economic contraction last year suggests that the recovery will be gradual and uneven, similar to other global regions. Challenges such as high debt levels, rising unemployment and geopolitical tensions require a focus on specific companies that can navigate this phase effectively. Asian markets are influenced by geopolitical tensions, US debt ceiling negotiations and recession concerns.

Despite the sub-fund's underperformance, the results of companies in the portfolio were encouraging, particularly Tencent and NetEase. These technology-related companies exhibited strong top-line growth, improved margins and significant cash flow growth.

It further reinforced our belief that successful companies prioritise cash flow generation and utilise excess cash for share buybacks or dividends. NetEase, one of our larger holdings, made significant strides in the field of generative Artificial Intelligence by training its own large language model on Song dynasty literature, powering in-game responses and enhancing the gaming experience. There were also positive contributions from Siemens India (industrials), Bajaj Auto Limited (consumer discretionary), BYD CO (consumer discretionary) and AKR Corporindo (energy).

Over the period, the main negative contributors included Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Company (information technology), Haidilao (consumer discretionary), Meituan (consumer discretionary), Jubilant Ingrevia (materials) and Gland Pharma (health care).

The main transaction during the period was to sell out of the only insurance company we owned in the sub-fund.

Outlook

We have previously mentioned our thoughts on investing in specific businesses that fit into the lens of restructuring. Faced with a slowing economy and challenging macroeconomic conditions, those managements, in our view, recognise the need to restructure their organisations, and we believe these companies will be better prepared for the challenges that lie ahead. This theme is most relevant in China. Since March/April 2022, through our screenings and analysis, we have identified several Chinese companies that fit our criteria and are in our fund. Also, we continue to believe that India is expensive, a point we have laboured before, and the Adani "saga" was just an excuse for the markets to continue selling down. The rest of ASEAN remains resilient, while Taiwan and Korea are areas of interest for the sub-fund as we look further into 2023.

The theme of Artificial Intelligence ("AI") garnered attention, with Nvidia delivering impressive results and optimistic prospects. However, we remain cautious about the AI theme, as even the best Asian businesses associated with AI generate only minimal revenues from it. Instead, we will continue to concentrate on real cash-generating businesses, particularly in China, which trade at attractive valuations and form a significant part of our portfolio.

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT REPORT

for the financial period ended 30 June 2023

Performance

The JOHCM Asia ex Japan Small and Mid-Cap Fund was down -8.49%, net of fees and in Sterling terms for the "A" share class, for the six-month period to 30 June 2023. The MSCI AC Asia ex Japan SMC Index (12pm adjusted) was up +3.28% in Sterling terms over the same period.

Portfolio review

Asian equities made a roaring start to the year after a bruising 2022 as optimism picked up that central banks have succeeded in reining-in run-away prices after a few months of soft inflation data. The rally was further fuelled by China's accelerated and concerted efforts to reinvigorate its economy through favourable policy shifts to prop up its long-suffering property and technology sectors, abandoning its COVID-zero strategy and maintaining supportive monetary and fiscal policies. However, profit-taking set in subsequently amid strong US employment and consumer spending data, spurring the US Federal Reserve to hike interest rates and reaffirm the need for rates to remain elevated for an extended period to bring inflation under control.

Market volatility picked up in March as the collapse of Silicon Valley Bank in the US triggered bank runs on other regional peers. In response, the US authorities acted swiftly to guarantee the safety of deposits for all depositors of Silicon Valley Bank and provided liquidity to the rest of the banking sector. This helped to stabilise and reduce systemic risk in the financial system. Attention quickly turned to the banking sector in Europe where banks perceived to have operational and capital vulnerabilities saw their share prices sustain heavy selling. It didn't take long for the Swiss authorities to be forced to engineer a bailout of Credit Suisse by its rival UBS.

Despite the banking crises, the US Federal Reserve and the European Central Bank proceeded with interest rate hikes to cool their economies' still elevated inflation numbers. With investor optimism that central banks will be on hold and potentially pivot to an easier monetary policy before the end of the year given the new challenge of maintaining financial stability, stock markets resumed their upward march. Indeed, technology stocks were viewed as relative safe havens amidst the banking turmoil, and coupled with the generative Artificial Intelligence ("AI") euphoria, the technology-heavy equity markets of Taiwan and Korea tracked the Nasdaq higher for the first half of the year. After a lacklustre first quarter performance, Indian equities rebounded strongly in the second quarter as its resilient economic growth, declining inflation print to within its central bank target range and narrower current account deficit lifted investor sentiment. On the other hand, China, Hong Kong and ASEAN posted dismal equity returns amid elevated US-China geopolitical tensions, loss of momentum in China's economic recovery and fears of a US recession.

The sub-fund underperformed the benchmark for the first half of 2023, dragged down by our overweight stance in China, Hong Kong and the ASEAN markets and underweight positions in Taiwan and Korea. Our significant position in India helped to reduce the portfolio drawdown. During the period, we readjusted a few of our China and Hong Kong holdings - taking profit on one and selling out of a couple where corporate developments disappointed; and initiating new positions in Jiumaojiu, Samsonite and ASM Pacific (their investment merits are discussed in our Monthly Portfolio Reviews). While equity returns in the China and Hong Kong markets have disappointed as geopolitical concerns continue to swirl and the optimism of a strong growth rebound with China's reopening faded, we are of the view that these are more than reflected in current market valuations. We believe the profitability of several of our holdings have bottomed and will be on a much stronger footing going forward after streamlining their operations and learning to navigate through an extremely challenging three years of sporadic COVID lockdowns. Hence, we remain overweight these markets.

Outlook

While we agree that generative AI will see increasing adoption as it has the potential to raise productivity substantially through revolutionising how businesses operate and individuals work, we are mindful not to get swept up by the AI-themed stock euphoria and overpay for the exposure. Turning to India and ASEAN, with commodity prices remaining benign, inflationary pressures in these economies have eased substantially. This will provide scope for their central banks to pivot towards supporting domestic demand and ease monetary policy should economic growth falter. As such, we continue to favour these markets.

We have previously mentioned our thoughts on investing in specific businesses that fit into the lens of restructuring. Faced with a slowing economy and challenging macroeconomic conditions, those managements, in our view, recognise the need to restructure their organisations, and we believe these companies will be better prepared for the challenges that lie ahead. INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT REPORT

Performance

The JOHCM Global Opportunities Fund was down -0.24%, net of fees and in Sterling terms for the "A" share class, for the six-month period to 30 June 2023. The MSCI AC World NR Index (12pm adjusted) was up +7.09% in Sterling terms over the same period.

Portfolio review

The equity market rally, which began in October 2022, continued for most of the first half of 2023. Having rallied more than 25% since that trough, on a total return basis, almost all developed markets are within 5% of their peak at the end of 2021. The same is broadly true on a sector basis; for example, technology, health care, utilities and financials are down a very similar amount over the last 18 months, although, energy has been a notable outperformer and consumer discretionary and communications have been much weaker than average.

The year began with three positive dynamics driving the equity market upwards; optimism around China reopening, relief that a mild European winter was averting an energy crisis and excitement about Artificial Intelligence ("AI"). Over time the first of these faded while the last accelerated, particularly in May after Nvidia's Q1 report and guidance. As a result, most market gains for the six months as a whole were accounted for by a small number of mega cap stocks in the technology and related sectors, although it should be noted that unlike recent periods of tech leadership, Europe and Japan were almost as strong as the US, driven by cyclical sectors like industrials and autos.

The sub-fund underperformed over the six months, with March and May being particularly weak. Most of the sub-fund's underperformance was attributable to sector allocation, given the sub-fund's limited exposure to technology mega caps. The sub-fund lost over 3% of relative performance in technology, consumer discretionary and communication services, of which over 2.5% came from three stocks (Apple, Nvidia and Meta). This was compounded by our overweight exposure to health care, utilities and consumer staples, which fell in absolute terms and contributed more than 2% of underperformance. It is important to note that this is not simply defensive positioning due to a negative short-term macroeconomic view. The sub-fund is overweight energy, materials and industrials on the expectation of rising capital spending and infrastructure renewal. The reason we own names like Sempra Energy, Exelon, Henry Schein, Thermo Fisher, Philip Morris and Heineken is because we believe their growth potential is underappreciated and, therefore, attractively valued at present.

We should also note the large loss we suffered on First Republic in March, only a few months after initiating the position. In retrospect, our initial thesis, focused on its high-quality service-based customer relationships and growth potential, and its exceptional track record on credit quality, was insufficiently focused on the vulnerability of the liability side of their balance sheet to contagion effects from problems elsewhere in the sector. The speed with which a formerly strong franchise found itself in acute distress was shocking, and although we continue to believe that part of our investment "edge" lies in finding underappreciated quality characteristics in less conventional parts of the market, there are some important lessons we can learn specifically about owning banks. We sold both US banks in the sub-fund, which had been a combined 4.1% of the sub-fund in December, but we continue to hold our positions in Svenska Handelsbanken and DBS Group in Singapore.

On the upside, we enjoyed positive performances from several more cyclical names, especially among European-listed names such as CRH, Continental, Schneider Electric and Thales. Cameco was another notable winner, as evidence continues to gather in support of a nuclear power renaissance, as was GXO Logistics, whose weakness last year had provided an opportunity for us to build into our largest position, and whose Investor Day in January confirmed the substantial growth opportunity for outsourced contract logistics and automated warehouses.

Outlook

In 2021 we talked a lot about the emergence of a "forgotten middle" of high-quality companies with strong multi-year growth potential, generally outside the technology sector and, in many cases, with more idiosyncratic than thematic growth drivers. They were ignored in the stampede towards tech-focused "lockdown winners" during COVID, and it is happening again. While everyone else seems to have been reading research notes about how AI is going to transform various sectors and companies, we have been reading about the ongoing nuclear renaissance, the improving corporate governance at various Japanese and emerging market companies, and attending investor days with companies like GXO Logistics, Sanofi and Shell.

for the financial period ended 30 June 2023

Performance

The JOHCM UK Dynamic Fund was up +2.64%, net of fees and in Sterling terms for the A share class, for the six-month period to 30 June 2023. The FTSE All Share Index (12pm adjusted) was up +2.24% in Sterling terms over the same period.

Portfolio review

The macro backdrop in the UK continued to be a challenge in the first half of 2023, with at least four differing market narratives to navigate.

The year began with positive sentiment following the full re-opening of the Chinese economy, declining gas prices and optimism that central banks could achieve a "soft landing" scenario, following their accelerated hiking cycles in 2022. This provided a supportive backdrop for cyclical to outperform and, accompanied with positive idiosyncratic developments within the sub-fund's holdings, was a more supportive environment to the fund's relative performance through January and February.

The UK market reached a new high in mid-February, but with inflation remaining elevated, the team continued to take a more cautious stance on portfolio positioning, trimming back some of the sub-fund's highest beta names. This action was helpful moving into March, with the collapse of both SVB and Signature Bank bringing fears of a credit crunch within the global banking sector. The crisis deepened as the future of long-troubled Credit Suisse remained uncertain until a rescue merger with UBS brought stability, but not before markets had sold off aggressively, led by financials. This led to a period of underperformance, primarily driven by the sub-fund's overweight positions in insurance and investment companies.

As fears over the banking sector faded, attention returned to the inflationary backdrop. April and May brought two inflation prints that surprised to the upside. With UK inflation proving stickier compared to Europe and the US, the market moved to price in a more hawkish stance from the Bank of England, who raised interest rates by a surprise 0.5% in June to 5%. Bond yields climbed higher, negatively impacting the performance of the sub-fund's interest rate sensitive real estate and house-builder-related holdings.

Finally, a profit warning from Chegg and revenue upgrades from Nvidia in the US, cast a lens on the potential disruption of generative Artificial Intelligence ("AI"). Media companies were considered amongst the cohort most "at risk" of disruption from AI, leading to negative read-across in WPP and Pearson. The euphoria over AI winners also established investor preferences towards technology and growth factors in the second quarter, providing a further headwind to relative performance.

The three names that had the most material positive impact on fund performance over the half year were 3i Group, Centrica, and Money supermarket. 3i Group, the sub-fund's largest position, showed yet again the power of compounding with Action, delivering peer-leading performance under challenging conditions. Centrica upgraded earnings again and is expected to make material free cash flow over the medium term with plenty of optionality for reinvestment and buybacks. Lastly, Money supermarket beat expectations led by its insurance division and a strategy focused on helping consumers manage the cost-of-living crisis.

On the negative side, Anglo American, Direct Line and NCC Group were the most significant negative contributors. Anglo American fell from a convergence of many small issues. These included weak global demand for rough diamonds, declining PGM (Platinum group metal) prices, impairment of the Woodsmith site and fears over De Beers' negotiation outcomes with Botswana. DirectLine waned owing to poor motor underwriting performance and the solvency position of the company remaining depressed, despite a cut to the final dividend. CEO Penny James has departed, and the board's focus from here is to restore profitability within the motor division and rebuild balance sheet resilience through internal levers, which have been laid out. NCC Group issued a profit warning at the end of March, having already warned of lengthening sales cycles in its US cyber security business in February. Management downgraded 2023 operating profit expectations by c.35%, citing a demand contraction in the Assurance division due to a downturn in US technology sector budgets.

Outlook

With some indicators pointing to an imminent decline in inflation, the team believe there is scope for the UK to outperform other regional equity markets. The valuation differential of growth versus value factors, when considered in the context of higher bond yields, also looks stretched, having been exacerbated by AI trends. The team believe continued underperformance of the higher-yielding components of the market is not sustainable.

The sub-fund remains balanced in terms of positioning, as a range of possible macroeconomic outcomes remain feasible. The performance of the sub-fund will continue to be driven by idiosyncratic developments in the long term.

for the financial period ended 5 May 2023 (date of termination)

Performance

The JOHCM Global Income Builder Fund was up +1.04%, net of fees and in Sterling terms for the A share class, from the beginning of the review period until the sub-fund's closure on 5 May 2023.

Portfolio review

Global equities performed well in the period as the crisis in the US banking sector, sparked by the failure of Silicon Valley Bank in March, led to meaningful declines in short-term and long-term interest rates. While the pressure on the global banking system weighed on financial services stocks in particular, stocks in other sectors, especially growth stocks, reacted positively to the rapid shift in the interest rate environment. Fixed income in general fared well, even as credit spreads widened somewhat in response to the macroeconomic turmoil.

In response to the turmoil in the US banking sector, interest rates came in sharply by the end of the period, while credit spreads were generally stable. The 10-year Treasury started the year at a 3.88% yield and finished at 3.47%, while the 2-year Treasury yield fell from 4.43% to 4.03%. The ICE BofA BBB US Corporate Index Option-Adjusted Spread edged up from 1.72% to 1.77%, while the ICE BofA BB US High Yield Index Option-Adjusted Spread contracted from 3.08% to 2.88% at the end of March.

Our top contributors for the period were Advanced Micro Devices, NVIDIA and SAP. All three of these holdings are technology names that participated in the improved sentiment towards growth stocks as interest rates declined. NVIDIA additionally benefited from its perceived standing as a beneficiary of ChatGPT.

Our top detractors for the period were Truist, Pfizer and International Flavors & Fragrances. Truist declined as deposit outflows and broader uncertainty plagued the banking sector. Pfizer shares lost ground as investors recalibrated the profit potential of the Covid vaccine franchise. International Flavors & Fragrances posted earnings results during Q1 which reflected ongoing difficulties with its turnaround efforts.

CGT Policy – Unrealised Gains

The Company estimates potential tax liability which may arise due to disposal of assets in India. This is to protect remaining investors from the adverse effect of redemptions placed by investors exiting the sub-funds. At the end of each Indian fiscal year, the Company will review transactions over the period and reimburse individual sub-funds for any losses which had been shared with other sub-funds in order to reduce the Company's overall tax liability.

5 Share capital

The authorised share capital of the Company was Euro 40,000 divided into 40,000 subscriber shares of one Euro each and 500,000,000,000 Redeemable Participating Shares of no par value. As only redeemable participating shares can represent an interest in a sub-fund, the subscriber shares have no entitlement or interest in such sub-funds.

Subscriber Shares

40,000 subscriber shares were issued to J O Hambro Capital Management Limited or its nominees to comply with the requirements of the Act.

J O Hambro Capital Management Limited redeemed 39,993 of these subscriber shares on 22 November 2001. The remaining seven subscriber shares are fully paid up.

Each holder of subscriber shares is entitled to attend and vote at any General Meeting except that any holder of subscriber shares is not entitled to vote at any such General Meeting at any time that more than one shareholder holds participating shares in issue. The subscriber shares do not form part of the NAV of the Company and are thus disclosed in the financial statements by way of this note only. In the opinion of the Directors, this disclosure reflects the nature of the Company's business as an investment fund.

The rights attached to any class of share may, whether or not the Company is being wound up, be varied or abrogated with the consent in writing of the holders of 75% of the issued shares of that class or with the sanction of a special resolution passed at a separate general meeting of the holders of the shares of that class.

Redeemable Participating Shares

The issued redeemable participating share capital is at all times equal to the NAV of the Company. The movement in the number of participating shares is shown in the Statement of Changes in Net Assets Attributable to Holders of Redeemable Participating Shares.

Capital Management Policies

The Company may from time to time by ordinary resolution increase its capital, consolidate and divide its shares into shares of a larger amount or subdivide its shares into shares of a smaller amount or cancel any shares not taken or agreed to be taken by any person. The Company may by special resolution from time to time reduce its share capital in any way permitted by law.

Dilution Adjustment Mechanism ("DAM")

In the event of a sub-fund being in a net subscription or net redemption position that exceeds a predetermined threshold on any dealing day, the Company may make a Dilution Adjustment to the NAV per share of the relevant share classes to cover the duties and charges and spreads, being the costs involved in rebalancing the Fund's portfolio in respect of the net issue of shares on that dealing day. For further details please refer to the Prospectus.

During the period ended 30 June 2023, Dilution Adjustment affected the NAV per share of the sub-funds, table below shows the total impact of adjustments applied for the period:

In accordance with the requirements of UCITS, any transactions carried out with a UCITS by a manager, depositary, investment manager and/or associated or group companies of these ("Connected Persons") must be carried out as if negotiated at arm's length. Transactions must be in the best interests of the Shareholders.

The Directors confirm that there are arrangements (evidenced by written procedures) in place to ensure that any transactions carried out with the Company by its manager, investment manager, depositary and/or associated or group companies of these ("Connected Persons") are carried out as if negotiated at arm's length and are in the best interests of the Shareholders. The Directors are satisfied that the transactions with Connected Persons during the financial period were carried out as if negotiated at arm's length and in the best interests of the Shareholders.

Directors' remuneration

A list of members of the Board of Directors is shown on page [?] of this report. Directors' remuneration is discussed in note 6.

8 Risk associated with financial instruments

The sub-funds utilise various methods to value investments measured at fair value on a recurring and non-recurring basis.

Risk Management Structure

The Board of Directors of the Manager have delegated responsibility to the Designated Persons for Fund Risk Management for day-to-day monitoring and ensuring all applicable risks pertaining to the sub-funds can be identified, monitored and managed at all times.

The Designated Person shall be responsible for monitoring compliance of the relevant sub-fund in accordance with risk limits established by the Company. The Designated Person places reliance on the risk management and compliance controls operated by the Investment Manager and receives regular reporting from Service Providers to ensure that all applicable risks pertaining to the Company and its sub-funds are identified, monitored and managed at all times.

The Manager has established and maintains its own permanent risk management function, the day-to-day operations of which are performed by the Investment Manager, due to the nature, scale and complexity of the Manager's business and the nature and range of services and activities undertaken in the course of that business. The permanent risk management function, through the Investment Manager, will take steps with respect to the subfunds in order to assess, manage and monitor the exposures of the Sub-Funds to the relevant risks, including market risks, liquidity risks, counterparty risks and operational risks.

The Board of Directors of the Manager aim to discharge its compliance obligations through the receipt of and review of reports from the service providers and through the receipt and review of reports from the Designated Person with responsibility for Fund Risk management. The Designated Person will identify, monitor and manage all risks pertaining to the Manager and in doing so may consult with the Investment Manager and other service providers.

The Investment Manager will provide a monthly investment management report to the Designated Person which will be designed to enable the Designated Person and the Board of Directors of the Manager to monitor the level of investment risk in each sub-fund on an ongoing basis generally and against any guidelines issued by the Manager.

The Board of Directors of the Manager will carry out a periodic assessment (at least annually) of the risk management policy to determine its adequacy and efficiency including a review of the effectiveness of measures taken to address any deficiencies in the performance of the Manager's risk management policy.

The Board of Directors of the Manager have appointed the Investment Manager to adopt proportionate and effective risk measurement techniques in respect of each sub-fund, in order to measure the risks to which each sub-fund is or might be exposed.

Fair Valuation Estimation

Inputs are used in applying the various valuation techniques and broadly refer to the assumptions that market participants use to make valuation decisions, including assumptions about risk. Inputs may include price information, volatility statistics, specific and broad credit data, liquidity statistics, and other factors. A financial instrument's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement (lowest being Level 3).

Observable inputs are those that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability based on market data obtained from sources independent of the Company. Unobservable inputs reflect the Board of Directors of the Manager's assumptions, made in good faith, about the inputs market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability developed based on the best information available in the circumstances. The determination of what constitutes "observable" requires significant judgment by the Board of Directors of the Manager. The Board of Directors of the Manager considers observable data to be that market data which is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable, not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market.

The categorisation of a financial instrument within the hierarchy is based upon the pricing transparency of the instrument and does not necessarily correspond to the Board of Directors of the Manager's perceived risk of that instrument.

Fair value is a market-based measure considered from the perspective of a market participant rather than an entity-specific measure. Therefore, even when market assumptions are not readily available, the Board of Directors of the Manager's own assumptions are set to reflect those that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date.

The Board of Directors of the Manager uses prices and inputs that are current as of the measurement date, including periods of market dislocation. In periods of market dislocation, the observability of prices and inputs may be reduced for many securities. This condition could cause a security to be reclassified to a lower level within the fair value hierarchy.

The three levels of inputs are defined as follows:

Level 1 - The unadjusted quoted price in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date (Level 1);

Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable (i.e. developed using market data) for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly (Level 2); and

Level 3 - Inputs that are unobservable (i.e. for which market data is unavailable) for the asset or liability (Level 3).

Unlisted Equities

Unlisted equities are valued at the probable realisation value as determined with care and in good faith by such competent persons as may be appointed by the Board of Directors of the Manager and approved for the purpose by the Depositary. The unlisted securities or stated prices securities are agreed by the pricing committee at J O Hambro Capital Management Limited.

Transfer between Level 1 and 2

There have been no significant transfers between Level 1 and Level 2 during the financial period ended 30 June 2023 and financial year ended 31 December 2022.

Valuation Techniques

The fair value of ordinary shares or preference shares that do not have a quoted market price in an active market is reliably measurable if:

(i) the variability in the range of reasonable fair value estimates is not significant for that asset; or

(ii) the probabilities of the various estimates within the range can be reasonably assessed and used in estimating fair value.

There are many situations in which the variability in the range of reasonable fair value estimates of assets that do not have a quoted market price is likely not to be significant. Normally it is possible to estimate the fair value of ordinary shares or preference shares that an entity has acquired from an outside party. However, if the range of reasonable fair value estimates is significant and the probabilities of the various estimates cannot be reasonably assessed, an entity is precluded from measuring the ordinary shares or preference shares at fair value.

If a reliable measure of fair value is no longer available for an asset measured at fair value (e.g. ordinary shares or preference shares measured at fair value through profit or loss), its carrying amount at the last date the asset was reliably measurable becomes its new cost. The entity shall measure the ordinary shares or preference shares at this cost amount less impairment until a reliable measure of fair value becomes available.

The Company has investment guidelines that set out its overall business strategies, its tolerance for risk and its general risk management philosophy and has established processes to monitor and control economic hedging transactions in a timely and accurate manner. The Company's accounting policies in relation to derivatives are set out in Note 2 to the financial statements and the Company has a Risk Management Process in place for the use of financial derivative investments which has been approved by the Board of Directors of the Manager and the Central Bank of Ireland by the Board of Directors of the Manager and the Central Bank of Ireland.

The Board of Directors of JOHCM Funds (Ireland) Limited had engaged Carne Global Financial Services Limited ("Carne") to provide Designated Persons for the required risk roles to the Manager until April 2023, at which point, another third party, Clifton Fund Consulting Limited t/a KB Associates (a Waystone Group Company) ("KBA") took on these roles. Where relevant, the Company leverages the risk management framework, which the Manager has in place. This framework seeks to ensure that all significant risks to the Company can be identified, monitored and managed at all times. Carne and KBA reported through to the Board of Directors of the Manager quarterly based on the reports supplied by the Company's Investment Manager and Administrator.

Set out below is a description of some of the more important types of risk and an outline of the processes the Investment Manager has implemented to assess, monitor and control these specific risks:

The Company invests in the following financial instruments which are classified under Level 2. These instruments are valued as follows:

OTC Options

Options contracts are valued at the settlement price as determined by the market in question. If such market price is not available, the value shall be the probable realization value estimated with care and in good faith by the Directors or such other competent person approved for the purpose by the Depositary.

Forward Contracts

Forward exchange contracts are valued by reference to the price at which a new forward contract of the same size and maturity could be undertaken.

Global Exposure to Financial Derivative Instruments

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the Manager, the Investment Manager's Risk Management department and the Designated Person for Fund Risk Management have assessed the risk profile of the Company and the related sub-funds on the basis of the investment policy, strategy and the use of Financial Derivative Instruments ("FDIs"). Based on the risk profile, Risk Management and the Designated Person for Fund Risk Management have determined that the method for the calculation of the global exposure to FDIs for all sub-funds will be the commitment approach, where the sub-fund holds FDIs.

Breaches of the exposure limits, if any, are identified using the commitment approach, addressed by the Investment Manager and the Designated Person for Fund Risk Management and reported to the Directors. An annual FDIs report is provided to the Central Bank detailing any exposure breaches in either the global exposure or counterparty risk exposure in respect of FDIs. During the financial period ended 30 June 2023 and financial year ended 31 December 2022 there were no breaches of the FDIs exposure limits.

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices and includes currency risk, interest rate risk and price risk. The Company's market risk management strategy is driven by the investment objectives of each of the sub-funds. The sub-funds are actively managed.

Price Risk

The Company's equity securities and FDIs are susceptible to market price risk arising from uncertainties about the future prices of the instruments. The Company's market price risk is managed through diversification of the portfolios of the sub-funds. Asset allocation is determined by the Company's Investment Manager who manages the allocation of assets to achieve each sub-fund's investment objective.

Market risk exposures are measured through monitoring sector and country exposures against the relevant benchmark indices on a daily basis via live spreadsheets.

Currency Risk

Currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in foreign exchange rates.

The Company's functional currency is Sterling (GBP). The Company invests in securities and other investments that are denominated in currencies other than the functional currency. Accordingly, the value of the Company's assets may be affected favourably or unfavourably by fluctuations in currency rates. Sub-funds may employ techniques and use instruments intended to provide protection against exchange rate risks in the context of the management of the assets and liabilities in line with the Company's Risk Management Process. This will involve the buying or selling of a foreign currency in order to complete a forward contract entered into at the same time as the initial transaction to eliminate exchange rate risk. A sub-fund may enter into forward foreign currency exchange contracts to hedge the foreign exchange risk implicit in the value of the portfolio securities denominated in a foreign currency.

The rates of exchange to GBP as at 30 June 2023 and 31 December 2022 were:

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the Manager, the Investment Manager seeks to mitigate foreign currency risk by launching share classes denominated in currencies other than the functional currency of the sub-fund. The functional currency of the J O Hambro Capital Management Umbrella Fund plc is GBP, however USD and GBP hedged share classes have been introduced on the JOHCM Continental European Fund to provide investors with the same return as the underlying assets denominated in EUR, which is the share classes reporting currency. Similarly EUR hedged share class on the JOHCM UK Growth Fund provides the same return as the underlying assets denominated in GBP and EUR and GBP hedged share classes on the JOHCM Global Opportunities Fund provide the same return as the underlying assets denominated in USD.

Interest rate risk

The sub-funds may invest in interest bearing securities. Any change to the interest rates relevant for the particular securities may result in the relevant Portfolio Manager being unable to secure positive returns on the expiry of contract or the sale of securities. In addition, changes to prevailing rates or changes in expectations of future rates may result in an increase or decrease in the value of the securities held. In general, if interest rates rise, the value of the fixed interest securities will decline (along with certain expenses calculated by reference to the assets of the sub-fund). A decline in interest rates will in general have the opposite effect.

Cash Account Risk

Subscription monies will become the property of a sub-fund upon receipt and accordingly investors will be treated as a general creditor of a sub-fund during the period between receipt of subscription monies and the issue of shares.

Any failure to supply the sub-fund or the Administrator with any documentation requested by them for anti-money laundering purposes may result in a delay in the settlement of redemption proceeds or dividend payments. In such circumstances, the Administrator will process any redemption request received by a shareholder and by doing so that investor will no longer be considered a shareholder notwithstanding that they have not received the redemption proceeds.

In the event of the insolvency of the Company or the relevant sub-fund, the shareholder will rank as an unsecured creditor of the sub-fund until such time as the Administrator is satisfied that its anti-money-laundering procedures have been fully complied with, following which redemption proceeds will be released or the dividend paid (as applicable) to the relevant shareholder. Accordingly, shareholders are advised to promptly provide the sub-fund or Administrator (as appropriate) with all documentation requested to reduce the risk in this scenario.

The Administrator also operates the Cash Account with respect to receipt of subscription monies. In this scenario, the investor is subject to the risk of becoming an unsecured creditor in the event of the insolvency of the Company or the relevant sub-fund during the period between receipt of subscription monies and the Dealing Day on which the shares are issued.

In the case of sub-funds which operate on a cleared funds basis, in the event of an insolvency of the Company or the relevant sub-fund, the rights of the investor to money held in the Cash Account which have been received from the investor in advance of shares being issued, are those of an unsecured creditor of the sub-fund. In such a case the investor will not be a shareholder.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that an issuer or counterparty will be unable to meet a commitment that it has entered into with the Company. It is the Company's policy to enter into financial transactions with a range of reputable counterparties thus diversifying the risk. Therefore, the Company does not expect to incur material credit losses on its financial instruments.

The depositary agreement between the Manager, Company and the Depositary provides that the appointment of the Depositary shall continue until terminated by either party on not less than 90 days' prior written notice or earlier upon certain breaches or the insolvency of either party. The Depositary is liable for any loss suffered by the Company or the Shareholders as a result of the Depositary's negligent or intentional failure to properly fulfil its obligations under the UCITS Regulations. In the event of a loss of financial instrument held in custody, the Depositary must immediately return a financial instrument of identical type or the corresponding amount to the Company.

With respect to Financial Derivative Instruments ("FDIs"), credit risk arises from the potential failure of counterparties to meet their obligations under the contract or arrangement.

Portfolio Management Risk

Due to the nature of futures, cash to meet initial and future margin deposits may be held by a broker with whom the sub-fund has an open position. On execution of the option the sub-fund may pay a premium to a counterparty. In the event of bankruptcy of the counterparty the option premium may be lost in addition to any unrealised gains where the contract is "in the money". The sub-funds have not entered into any such contracts to date.

Operational Risk

Operational risk comprises the risk that deficiencies in the effectiveness and accuracy of information systems or internal controls will result in a material loss. The risk arises from human error, systems failures, inadequate procedures or internal management controls.

Cross Liability Between Sub-funds

The Company is established as an umbrella fund with segregated liability between sub-funds. As a matter of Irish law, the assets of one sub-fund will not be available to satisfy the liabilities of another. However, the Company is a single legal entity which may operate or have assets held on its behalf or be subject to claims in other jurisdictions which may not necessarily recognize such segregation. There is no guarantee that the courts of any jurisdiction outside Ireland will respect the limitations on liability associated with segregated liability companies nor is there any guarantee that the creditors of one sub-fund will not seek to enforce such sub-fund's obligations against another sub-fund.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the sub-funds will encounter difficulty in realising assets or otherwise raising funds to meet commitments associated with financial instruments.

Ultimate responsibility for liquidity risk management rests with the Board of Directors of the Manager which has built an appropriate liquidity risk management framework for the management of the Manager's liquidity management requirements.

Generally the sub-funds' assets are composed of actively traded and highly liquid securities. The liquidity risks associated with the need to satisfy Shareholders' requests for redemptions are mitigated by maintaining a constant pool of cash to satisfy usual levels of demand and by holding liquid securities. Redemptions are settled on a T+3 basis (redemptions are paid out three days after trade date) and therefore it is possible to sell securities to meet redemptions as appropriate.

The sub-funds avoid entering into derivative contractual arrangements that produce an exposure not covered by sufficient liquid assets or a total investment exposure in excess of total Shareholders' funds.

The risk management framework adopted requires coverage to be composed of cash reserves or physical securities.

Such certification is granted retrospectively and there can be no guarantee that certification will be obtained. The Company has been certified as a reporting Fund in respect of all sub-funds and share classes in respect of the financial period ended 30 June 2023 and 30 June 2022.

Certain sub-funds may also enter into stock lending with one or more counterparties for the purposes of efficient portfolio management, and in particular with the aim of generating additional income for the sub-funds with an appropriate level of risk, taking into account the risk profile of the sub-funds and subject to the conditions and limits as set out in the UCITS Regulations and within any further limits laid down by the Central Bank from time to time (see note 14).

The changes in unrealised gains and losses and realised gains and losses on financial derivative instruments used for EPM are disclosed in note 12, Gains and Losses on Financial Assets.

Techniques and instruments relating to transferable securities utilised for the purposes of efficient portfolio management may be used only in accordance with the investment objectives of a collective investment scheme. Any such technique or instrument must be one which is reasonably believed by the Investment Manager to be economically appropriate to the efficient portfolio management of the Company, i.e. the use of a technique or instrument may only be undertaken for the purposes of one or more of the following:

- i) a reduction in risk;
- ii) a reduction in costs; or
- iii) an increase in capital or income returns to the scheme.

14 Stock lending

Certain sub-funds may lend securities to brokers, dealers and other financial organisations to earn additional income. Each security is collateralised with collateral assets in an amount greater than the current market value of the loaned securities.

The Company appointed Northern Trust Fiduciary Services (Ireland) Limited (the "Agent") as its Collateral Manager with the authority to service, administer and exercise any and all rights and remedies, on behalf of the Company in respect of the Collateral. Without limiting the foregoing, to the extent necessary or appropriate to perform its duties under this Agreement, the Agent, as collateral manager, has the power to negotiate, execute and deliver all necessary documents and instruments and take actions, on behalf of the Company, with respect to the Collateral and with respect to the rights and obligations that the Company may have under the relevant Loan Agreement. Under the ESMA requirements the Fund must be able to recall any security that has been lent out or terminate any securities lending agreement into which it has entered, at any time. In this regard, the Company authorises the Depository to accept directions and instructions from the Agent in respect of the

Collateral as if such directions and instructions were issued by the Company and agrees that it shall not seek to deal in or otherwise effect transactions in respect of the Collateral.

The aggregate market value provided in respect of a sub-fund shall never be less than the higher of:

- (a) (i) in respect of Collateral consisting of bonds, 102% of the aggregate market value of the loaned Available Securities of such sub-fund; or (ii) in respect of Collateral consisting of equities, 105% of the aggregate market value of the loaned Available Securities of such sub-fund, whichever is applicable, and
- (b) the percentage of the aggregate market value of the loaned Available Securities of such sub-fund which is required by the applicable stock lending requirements of the CBI.

The Agent monitors and calculates the market value of both the Collateral and loaned Securities, at least daily or otherwise in accordance with standard market practice, and, as appropriate, diligently request additional Collateral from a Securities Borrower under the relevant Loan Agreement. The Collateral shall be deposited with the Depositary and the Depositary will keep adequate accounting records that record the sub-fund's proportionate interest in the Collateral. The Company acknowledges and agrees that the Depositary may use sub-custodians or intermediaries (which may include the Agent or another affiliate of the Depositary) to hold the Collateral, as provided in the Depositary Agreement. The Company acknowledges and agrees that Collateral held with intermediaries (including but not limited to, the Agent, as aforesaid) may be held as part of a pool of collateral consisting of the Collateral and collateral delivered by the sub-custodian's or intermediary's other clients, provided that such sub-custodians or intermediaries shall maintain the Collateral in an account or accounts separate from accounts holding their own financial assets or those of their clients other than clients with an interest in the collateral pool.

At 30 June 2023, the aggregate value of securities on loan by the Company amounted to GBP Nil (31 December 2022: GBP 316,252,288) and the value of collateral held by the Company in respect of these securities amounted to GBP Nil (31 December 2022: GBP 332,066,196).

At 30 June 2023, there were no securities on loan and collateral pledged by the sub-funds.

The following table is a breakdown of the net income earned from stock lending by each sub-fund for the financial period ended 30 June 2023. These amounts are included in other income in the Statement of Comprehensive Income. The Company has engaged a securities lending agent (the "Agent") to arrange these transactions on its behalf. The company engaged RBC Investors Services Bank Ireland Limited prior to 3 April 2023. Effective from 3 April, Northern Trust International Fund Administration Services (Ireland) Limited took over as the Agent. All revenues from the stocklending transactions, net of direct and indirect operational costs, will be returned to the relevant sub-fund. The Agent is entitled to retain, as a fee for its services, 15% of all fees collected from securities borrowers, out of which the Agent will pay all of its costs and out of pocket expenses incurred in relation to the lending of the relevant sub-fund's securities. These costs and fees do not include hidden revenue. The appointed Agent as of the date of this Prospectus is Northern Trust Fiduciary Services (Ireland) Limited which is a related party to the Depositary.

16 Significant events during the period

The Russia-Ukraine conflict is likely to continue for the foreseeable future. We are wholly committed to compliance with all relevant laws, regulations and sanctions. Pre-existing Russian and Belarusian investments are frozen by sanctions, and we have a complete account of those assets. Further information is available on the JOHCM website: www.johcm.com.

In 2022, JOHCM announced its plans to migrate its middle office and fund services from RBC Investor Services to Northern Trust, designed to enhance the efficiency of its operational model and improve its services to clients. The middle office transition went live in February 2023. Northern Trust International Fund Administration Services (Ireland) Limited replaced RBC Investor Services Ireland Limited as the new Administrator, Registrar and Transfer Agent to the Fund, and Northern Trust Fiduciary Services (Ireland) Limited replaced RBC Investor Services Bank S.A. as the new Depositary to the Fund, effective 3 April 2023.

On 11 January 2023, application was made to the Central Bank to withdraw the authorisation of the JOHCM Japan Fund and JOHCM Concentrated Global Share Fund.

On 23 January 2023 Perpetual Group acquired Pandal Group, the parent of the Fund's Investment Manager ("JOHCM"). Despite many complexities, we are grateful that our teams have shown commitment and professionalism throughout. We believe that the knowledge, expertise and diversity of the new group will provide significant benefits to the Fund and its clients. JOHCM operated as an investment boutique within Pandal from October 2011, prior to which it was a private company owned by founder shareholders and staff.

In February 2023, the change in Helen Vaughan's designation from Non-Executive Director to Independent Non-Executive Director was approved by the Board of Directors of the Manager.

On 24 February 2023, the GBP Non-Distributing X share class within the JOHCM Global Opportunities Fund was re-launched.

In March 2023 liquidity issues related to rising interest rates affected the banking sector in some cases with significant consequences. A small number of our investment strategies were impacted by the crisis but none to a material extent.

The JOHCM Global Opportunities Fund had an exposure to the First Republic Bank of GBP 8,483,000, 1.52% of the NAV as of 31 December 2022. This asset has been impacted by the banking crisis and subsequently sold out on 17 March 2023 with the overall loss of GBP 6,592,000 to the sub-fund.

On 24 March 2023, shareholders in the JOHCM Global Income Builder Fund were notified of an Extraordinary Meeting held on 20 April 2023 and approved a resolution proposing the closure of the sub-fund. On 5 May 2023, all outstanding shares in the JOHCM Global Income Builder Fund were compulsorily redeemed. The JOHCM Global Income Builder Fund is now closed and an application to withdraw its authorisation will be made to the Central Bank in due course.

On 29 March 2023, following the decision not to launch the JOHCM UK Equity Income Fund and JOHCM UK Opportunities Fund, the Central Bank withdrew the authorisation for these two sub-funds in response to the request made by JOHCM.

On 13 April 2023, Amy Johnson was approved as the Non-Executive Director to the Board of Director by the Central Bank of Ireland.
