An investment company with variable capital incorporated with limited liability in Ireland under registration number 239901

Offer of Participating Shares of no par value

Manager: Man Fund Management Limited

Investment Manager and AIFM: AHL Partners LLP

Under Swiss law, Man AHL Diversified plc is a foreign fund for alternative investments with special risks which invests (based on an alternative investment strategy) predominantly in derivatives of any kind which could, because of Man AHL Diversified plc's leverage, lead to substantial fluctuations in the price for Participating Shares. Applicants must be prepared to suffer the loss of a substantial portion or even all of the money they invest in the Company and are explicitly referred to the risk factors set out in the section entitled 'Risk factors' of this Prospectus. Swiss investors should also refer to the section entitled 'Information for investors in Switzerland' for further information.

Investment in the Participating Shares issued by Man AHL Diversified plc should be viewed as a medium-term investment. Applicants should note that the costs of advertising the Participating Shares and certain marketing expenses are payable by the Marketing Adviser and are not borne by Man AHL Diversified plc. In case of Participating Shares being redeemed within six years after they have been issued, Man AHL Diversified plc will deduct from the Redemption Price a sliding scale redemption fee, the highest of which is 3% of the Redemption Price. That fee will, in turn, be paid by Man AHL Diversified plc to the Marketing Adviser primarily to compensate it for the costs of marketing. Investors should refer to the section entitled 'Redemption fee' for further information.

The Participating Shares have been admitted to the Official List and to trading on the Main Securities Market of the Irish Stock Exchange. The Directors do not anticipate that an active secondary market will develop in the Participating Shares.

The date of this Prospectus is 1 July 2014.

If you are in any doubt about the contents of this Prospectus, you should consult your stockbroker, bank manager, solicitor, accountant or other financial adviser.

The Directors, whose names appear within the section entitled 'Management and administration', are the persons responsible for the information contained in this Prospectus and accept responsibility accordingly. The Company invests in unregulated collective investment schemes which may not be subject to the same legal and regulatory protection as afforded by collective investment schemes authorised and regulated in the European Union or equivalent jurisdictions. Investment in unregulated schemes involves special risks that could lead to a loss of all or a substantial portion of such investment.

An investment in the Company is not suitable for all investors. A decision to invest in the Company should take into account your own financial circumstances and the suitability of the investment as a part of your portfolio. You should consult a professional investment adviser before making an investment.

Investments in the Company are not deposits or obligations of, or guaranteed or endorsed in any way by Citibank Europe plc or any of its affiliates. None of Citibank Europe plc nor any of its affiliates, branches or subsidiaries, directly or indirectly, guarantees, assumes or otherwise insures the obligations or performance of the Company or any other investment that the Company makes. Principal fees

Investment Manager's fees

The Investment Manager is entitled to:

- (a) an investment management fee (calculated weekly and payable monthly) equal to one-fifty second (1/52) of 3% of the Net Asset Value at each Valuation Point (approximately 3% per annum); and
- (b) a performance fee (calculated weekly and payable monthly) equal to 20% of any net new profits (as described in the section entitled 'Investment Manager's fees') as determined at each Valuation Point.

The Depositary shall be entitled to receive as remuneration for its services to the Company 0.02% per annum of the Net Asset Value at the last Valuation Point in each month. In addition to such fee, the Depositary shall also be entitled to be reimbursed all reasonable expenses incurred by it in the exercise of its duties in connection with the Depositary Agreement. Such reimbursement of reasonable expenses shall be payable out of the assets of the Company. Any sub-Depositary fees incurred shall be paid out of the assets of the Company provided that such fees are at normal commercial rates. The remuneration which the Depositary shall be entitled to receive as remuneration for its services to the Company may be increased up to 0.03% per annum of the Net Asset Value at the last Valuation Point in each month without prior notification to Shareholders.

Management fees

The fees payable to the Manager are calculated and paid quarterly in arrears. They are based on the following sliding scale and are calculated by reference to the Net Asset Value at the last Valuation Point in each quarter (being the last Valuation Point in March, June, September and December).

Amount of the Net Asset Value to which the fee will be applied (USD)	Fee
0-50,000,000.00	The sum of: (a) USD 12,500; and (b) one-quarter of 0.30% of the Net Asset Value at that Valuation Point.
50,000,000.01- 100,000,000.00	An amount equal to one-quarter of 0.20% of the Net Asset Value at that Valuation Point.
100,000,000.01- 249,999,999.99	An amount equal to one-quarter of 0.125% of the Net Asset Value at that Valuation Point.
250,000,000.00- 499,999,999.99	An amount equal to one-quarter of 0.10% of the Net Asset Value at that Valuation Point.
500,000,000.00 or more	An amount equal to one-quarter of 0.05% of the Net Asset Value at that Valuation Point.

By way of illustration, if the Net Asset Value at the last Valuation Point of a quarter was USD 150 million the fees described above would comprise USD 50,000 (USD 12,500 and USD 37,500) in respect of the first USD 50 million, USD 25,000 for the portion of the Net Asset Value over USD 50 million and up to and including USD 100 million and USD 15,625 in respect of the remaining amount of the Net Asset Value.

- (e) The sum of fees (a) to (d) shall be subject to an annual cap of 20 basis points of Net Asset Value.

The Manager shall also be entitled to be reimbursed all reasonable and vouched expenses incurred in the performance of its duties under the Management Agreement (including those expenses incurred by third party service providers such as the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar).

Any such fees paid will be disclosed in the annual and semi-annual report and accounts of the Company for the period to which they relate.

The Manager is solely responsible for the payment of fees to the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar, the Valuations Service Provider and the Principal Paying Agent and the Company will have no liability for such fees.

The Swiss Paying Agent has been appointed at a cost of CHF 5,000 per annum.

Third party costs

To the extent that the Manager delegates any of its duties to a third party, the charges of such party (other than out-of-pocket expenses) shall be for the account of the Manager and shall be paid by the Manager from the fees it receives from the Company.

Brokerage fees

The Company bears all costs of trading transactions and interest on borrowing. Man AHL Diversified plc

Introduction

This Prospectus comprises information relating to 'Man AHL Diversified plc' (originally named 'AHL Diversified plc'), an open-ended company with variable capital organised under the laws of Ireland. It qualifies, and is authorised in Ireland by the Central Bank, as a designated investment company under Part XIII of the Act. The Participating Shares are available for subscription in accordance with the Articles and this Prospectus. The Participating Share capital of the Company shall at all times equal the Net Asset Value.

Investment objective and policies

The Company seeks to achieve medium - term growth of capital, while restricting the associated risks, by trading a diversified portfolio of Investments on derivative and inter - bank currency markets using the AHL Diversified Programme.

The Company aims to perform independently of traditional stock and bond investments thereby providing valuable diversification benefits and enhancing the risk/reward profile of a traditional investment portfolio. It is the objective of the Company to generate capital gains rather than interest.

At any point in time no more than 15% of the Net Asset Value will be applied towards margin requirements with respect to Off-Exchange contracts. The Liquidity Reserves will be held by the Depositary. On the instructions of the Investment Manager, the Depositary may deposit such monies with banks or credit institutions and may also invest part or all of such monies in money related instruments that the Investment Manager considers to be of high quality and to be short-term including, but not limited to, fixed deposits, certificates of deposit, money market collective investment schemes, commercial paper, treasury bills and bonds issued or guaranteed by the government of any country of the OECD. The Liquidity Reserves may also be invested in reverse repurchase agreements subject to the conditions set out in the section headed "Cash Management".

In pursuit of its investment policy, the Company may also invest up to 20% of its net assets in open ended Investment Funds other than money market investment funds. These Investment Funds will be managed by the Investment Manager or an affiliate and will be managed with the same fundamental philosophy as the Company giving the Company exposure to part of the AHL Diversified Programme. These Investment Funds will therefore invest in a diversified portfolio of exchange traded and OTC derivatives using trading programmes that are similar to the AHL Diversified Programme. These Investment Funds may be collective investment schemes established in OECD or non-OECD jurisdictions including jurisdictions such as Bermuda, the Channel Islands, the Cayman Islands, the Bahamas, the Netherlands Antilles and similar offshore jurisdictions. These Investment Funds may be leveraged and, while typical leverage levels will be between 400% to 1000%, no limit has been established in relation to the extent to which an Investment Fund may be leveraged. These Investment Funds will use derivatives to access either directly or indirectly markets in stocks, bonds, currencies, indices, interest rate swaps and commodities, including utilities, metals and agriculture. In line with the principle of diversification, the Investment Manager will ensure that the Investment Funds' exposure is spread across the full range of sectors and markets. Particular attention will be paid to the Company's correlation with the Investment Funds' trading programmes in terms of exposure to markets and sectors, expected returns, market access costs and market liquidity. The Investment Funds' portfolios will be regularly reviewed and, when necessary, the Company's exposure will be adjusted to reflect changes in these factors. The Investment Manager will also adjust its real time exposure to particular Investment Funds to reflect changes in the volatility of one or more Investment Funds. These Investment Funds may be Regulated Funds or Unregulated Funds. Unregulated Funds will not provide a level of investor protection equivalent to schemes authorised under Irish laws and subject to Irish regulations and conditions. However, all Investment Funds invested in the Company will be subject to independent audit in accordance with generally accepted international accounting standards and must have arrangements in place such that all assets are held by parties independent of the investment manager of the Investment Fund. No percentage limitations have been imposed on the amount which may be invested in any different category of Investment Funds other than the general limitations set out under "Investment and Borrowing Restrictions" below.

The Company may not invest in feeder funds or fund of funds.

Details of investments in Investment Funds, their investment managers and domiciles will be set out in the periodic reports of the Company together with an outline of the maximum management and performance fees charged by those Investment Funds and the impact of such fees on Shareholder returns.

Any change to the investment objective or any material change to the investment policies of the Company will be subject to the prior approval by way of a majority of the votes cast at a general meeting of the Company. Shareholders will be given one month's notice in writing prior to the implementation of any change to the Company's investment objective and/or material change to its investment policies to enable them to redeem their Participating Shares, if they so wish. The base reference currency of the Company is US dollars.

Restricted Stocks

In recognition of the fact that certain investors may be prevented or constrained from having direct or indirect exposure to certain stocks ("Restricted Stocks") by virtue of law, statute, rule, regulation or policy, the policy of the Investment Manager in such instances is to consider submissions from Shareholders which request exclusions of Restricted Stocks in relation to direct investments of the Company or indirect investments of the Company (through its investment in open ended investment funds of which the Investment Manager or an affiliate is investment manager) giving the Company exposure to the AHL Diversified Programme.

The Investment Manager whether in relation to the Company or an underlying investment fund in which the Company invests in order to carry out the AHL Diversified Programme, is under no obligation to act on such submissions and will only exclude such Restricted Stocks from the Company (or underlying investment fund, if applicable) in circumstances where it is considered, in its absolute discretion, that such exclusion would enable the Investment Manager or any underlying investment fund to continue to discharge its duties and obligations as investment manager and that such exclusion will make no material effect to the performance and operation of the Company (or any underlying investment fund, if applicable). The Investment Manager may, at its absolute discretion, determine not to act on any request to exclude such Restricted Stocks.

The Company and any underlying funds in which it may invest have, respectively, limited capacity to agree to any requests for stock exclusions. Those investors who make a request at a later date to earlier investors bear an increased risk of rejection in order to guard against inadvertent strategy drift and a cumulative and material reduction in the number of investable assets. A list of the stocks that have been excluded by the Company or by underlying funds in which the Company may invest, is available on request.

Cash Management

The Company will have significant Liquidity Reserves. Certain techniques in relation to the management of Liquidity Reserves are noted above. In addition to these the Company may also use reverse repurchase arrangements and other cash management techniques.

Reverse Repurchase Agreements

The Company may enter into reverse repurchase agreements in accordance with the following conditions:-

1. Reverse repurchase agreements ("reverse repo contracts") may only be effected in accordance with normal market practice.
2. Collateral given and obtained under a reverse repurchase agreement must at all times meet the following criteria:
 - a) Liquidity: Collateral must be highly liquid and traded on a regulated market or multi-lateral trading facility with transparent pricing in order that it can be sold quickly at a robust price that is close to its pre-sale valuation;
 - b) Valuation: Collateral must be valued on at least a daily basis and must be marked to market daily; and
 - c) Issuer Credit Quality: Where the collateral issuer is not rated A-1 or equivalent, conservative haircuts must be applied.
3. Until the expiry of the reverse repo contract, collateral obtained under such contracts or arrangements:
 - (i) must be marked to market daily;
 - (ii) must equal or exceed, in value, at all times the value of the amount invested or securities loaned;
 - (iii) must be transferred to the Depositary, or its agent; and

- (iv) must be immediately available to the Company, without recourse to the counterparty, in the event of a default by that entity.

Paragraph (iii) is not applicable in the event that the Company uses tri-party collateral management services of International Central Securities Depositories or relevant institutions which are generally recognised as specialists in this type of transaction. The Depository must be a named participant to the collateral arrangements.

Non-cash collateral:

- (i) cannot be sold or pledged;
- (ii) must be held at the risk of the counterparty;
- (iii) must be issued by an entity independent of the counterparty; and
- (iv) must be diversified to avoid concentration in one issue, sector or country.

Cash collateral:

Cash may not be invested other than in the following:

- (i) deposits with relevant institutions;
- (ii) government or other public securities;
- (iii) daily dealing money market funds which have and maintain a rating of AAA or equivalent. If investment is made in a fund managed by the Manager or by an associated or related company, no subscription, conversion or redemption charge can be made by the underlying money market fund.

Invested cash collateral held at the risk of the Company, other than cash collateral invested in government or other public securities or money market funds, must be invested in a diversified manner. The Company must be satisfied, at all times, that any investment of cash collateral will enable it to meet its repayment obligations.

Invested cash collateral may not be placed on deposit with, or invested in securities issued by the counterparty or a related entity.

4. The Company shall conduct reverse repurchase agreements only with first class counterparties and intermediaries specialising in transactions such as this type, such as banks brokers and insurance companies or recognised securities clearing organisations that guarantee the proper execution of the reverse repurchase agreements and provided always that the counterparty to a reverse repo contract must have a minimum credit rating of A-2 or equivalent, or must be deemed by the Company to have an implied rating of A-2 or equivalent. Alternatively, an unrated counterparty will be acceptable where the Company is indemnified or guaranteed against losses suffered as a result of a failure by the counterparty, by an entity which has and maintains a rating of A-2 or equivalent.

5. Reverse repo contracts do not constitute borrowing or lending for the purposes of the Central Bank's requirements.

Other Cash Management Techniques and Instruments

New techniques may be developed for the management of the Liquidity Reserves. The Company may use such other cash management techniques and instruments from time to time in accordance with the requirements of the Central Bank for their use.

The Investment Manager maintains a liquidity risk management policy to monitor the liquidity risk of the Company, which includes, among other tools and methods of measurement, the use of stress tests under both normal and exceptional liquidity conditions. The liquidity management systems and procedures employed by the Investment Manager allow the Investment Manager to apply various tools and arrangements necessary to respond appropriately to redemption requests. In normal circumstances, redemption requests will be processed as set out in this section.

Other arrangements may also be used in response to redemption requests (as set out below) which, if activated, will restrict the redemption rights from which Shareholders benefit in the ordinary course. The Company may also temporarily suspend redemptions in certain circumstances as set out below under the section headed "Temporary Suspension of Dealings".

Techniques in relation to the management of Liquidity Reserves are subject to the conditions and limits applicable to retail investor AIFs as provided for in the AIF Rulebook. In the event that the Investment Manager uses techniques for the management of Liquidity Reserves, any related revenues net of direct and indirect operational costs and fees (which do not include hidden revenue), will be returned to the Company. No such direct and indirect operational costs and fees are currently applied. In the event that such costs and fees are applied Shareholders will be notified of the identities of the recipient(s) of any such costs and fees

Credit Ratings

The ratings referred to in this Prospectus are Standard and Poors. An "equivalent rating" for the purposes of this Prospectus is one which has been provided by an internationally recognised rating agency and which is deemed equivalent to the rating stipulated in the Notice. An "implied rating" arises where a decision on an unrated entity is made by the Company on the basis of a relationship between an issuer and its rated parent, or where an issuer has a senior debt/long term rating but no short term rating.

Investment and borrowing restrictions

The Company will at all times adhere to the principle of diversification of risk in its derivatives trading. The following investment and borrowing restrictions shall apply.

1. The deposits or short-term securities in which the Company may invest may include securities with a maturity of up to seven years.
2. The Company shall not keep on deposit assets with a value greater than 10% of its Net Asset Value from time to time with any one institution; this limit is increased to 30% for deposits maintained with:
 - (a) an EU credit institution;
 - (b) a bank authorised in a member state of EFTA; or
 - (c) a bank authorised by a signatory state, other than a Member State, or a member state of EFTA, to the Basle Capital Convergence Agreement of July 1988. Related companies are regarded as 'one institution' for the purposes of this paragraph 2.
3. At no time will the obligations of any single third party (other than a Broker) owed to the Company exceed in value an amount equal to 15% of the Net Asset Value (excluding segregated customer monies of the Company held by the Depository or any sub-Depository which it may appoint in which case such limit would apply to the party actually holding such segregated customer monies). At no time will the risk exposure of the Company to a counterparty to an OTC derivative transaction exceed 10% of the Net Asset Value where the counterparty is a Relevant Institution, or, in any other case, 5% of the Net Asset Value.
4. Not more than 5% of the Company's assets may be invested in the debt securities of companies, other than banks, with shareholder funds of less than EUR 1.25 billion (or its equivalent in another currency).
5. The Company may invest up to 10% of of its Net Asset Value in securities issued by the same institution. This requirement does not apply to investments in other open ended Investment Funds. The Company may invest up to 100% of its assets in different transferable securities issued or guaranteed by any EEA or OECD member state or Croatia.
6. Save as set out in paragraph 7 below, Investments of the Company will be traded on a Recognised Exchange or Recognised Market.
7. The Company may trade Investments Off-Exchange provided that:
 - (a) The counterparty to the Broker is a Relevant Institution or an investment firm, authorised in accordance with MiFID in an EEA member state, or is an entity subject to regulation as a Consolidated Supervised Entity ("CSE") by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission;
 - (b) In the case of a counterparty to the Broker which is not a Relevant Institution, the counterparty to the Broker is rated A2 or better by S&P or Moody's or given an equivalent rating by any other recognised rating agency or which, if unrated, has in the opinion of the Investment Manager an implied rating of A2 or better. Alternatively, an unrated counterparty is acceptable where the Company is indemnified against losses suffered as a result of a failure by the counterparty, by an entity which maintains a rating of A2;
 - (c) the Manager is satisfied that:

- (i) the counterparty to the Broker has agreed with the Investment Manager that the transactions will be valued with reasonable accuracy and on a reliable basis at least weekly; and
 - (ii) the transaction will be closed out (at the request of the Investment Manager or the Company) at a fair value; and
- (d) such Investments are subject to reliable and verifiable valuation on a weekly basis and that appropriate systems, controls and processes, adequate and proportionate to the nature and complexity of the Investments, are in place to achieve this.
8. The assets of the Company must include liquid assets which have a total minimum value, at all times except in extraordinary circumstances, at least equal to the sum of margins deposited, and all premiums paid, in respect of transactions which have not been closed out. (The Manager shall notify the Depository immediately if such extraordinary circumstances occur.)
9. The Company will not hold an open position in any one Investment for which the margin or premium requirement is in excess of an amount equal to 5% of the Net Asset Value.
10. The Company will not hold an open position in Investments concerning a single commodity or single financial instrument for which the margin requirement is in excess of an amount equal to 10% of the Net Asset Value.
11. The Company may invest in the units or shares of other Investment Funds provided that:
- (a) no more than 20% of its Net Asset Value is invested in aggregate in Investment Funds;
 - (b) no more than 20% of its Net Asset Value is invested in aggregate in Unregulated Funds, in accordance with the requirements of the Central Bank; and
 - (c) no more than 20% of its Net Asset Value is invested in any one single Investment Fund.

Where a commission is received by the Manager or Investment Manager by virtue of an investment by the Company in the units or shares of any Investment Fund, this commission shall be paid to the Company. Where the Company invests in the units or shares of an Investment Fund that is managed, (a) directly or indirectly, by the Manager; or (b) by any other company with which the Manager is linked (a 'linked company') by: (i) common management; (ii) control; or (iii) a direct or indirect interest of more than 10% of the capital or voting rights, the Manager or linked company may not charge subscription, conversion or redemption fees on the Company's investment in the units of such Investment Fund and the applicable management fees levied in respect of the investment in the units of such other Investment Fund are reduced to a maximum of 0.25% of the Net Asset Value corresponding to the value of the units held in such Investment Fund.

12. The Company may invest 10% of its Net Asset Value in Investments traded on stock exchanges and markets not listed in the constitutional documents or this Prospectus.
13. For the purposes of the AIFM Directive, leverage is calculated through two methods: (i) the gross method; and (ii) the commitment method, these are set out below.

Gross method

The gross method of calculation aggregates the gross notional values of all financial derivative contracts. This method may give rise to exceptionally high leverage when short-term interest rate strategies are employed, and these notional values do not typically reflect the actual market risks associated with these positions. Attention should also be drawn to the fact that one derivative contract may partially or perfectly offset the market risk of another derivative contract. Although the disclosure of the gross notional value of derivatives is a requirement under AIFM Directive, this measure does not allow for the netting or offsetting just described, therefore it does not necessarily represent the market risk incurred through the use of derivatives. The level of leverage to be incurred through the use of financial derivative instruments is not expected to exceed 35,000% of the Net Asset Value of the portfolio using the sum of gross notional methodology.

Commitment method

The commitment method of calculation allows for some netting of interest rates exposure. The level of leverage under the commitment approach is not expected to exceed 4,300% of the Net Asset Value of the portfolio

General

In normal circumstances the portfolio's leverage is expected to be considerably less than the maximum outlined above. However, leverage within the portfolio will increase and may approach the maximum leverage in circumstances where short term interest rate derivatives are employed to express an investment theme within the portfolio. For example, the portfolio may invest in short-term interest rate securities. However, this shorter duration also means that such investments are likely to be less volatile. This lower volatility means that it may be necessary to enter into short-term interest rate derivatives with large gross notional values in order to generate a meaningful contribution to the risk and return of the portfolio.

The risk within the portfolio is monitored daily and positions are amended in accordance with these limits and the AIFM Directive. For the reasons outlined above, the extent to which the portfolio engages in the use of short-term interest rate strategies will have a significant bearing on the leverage figure calculated using the sum of the notionals methodology.

14. The percentage restrictions set out above will not apply in cases where, owing to appreciation or depreciation in the value of the Company's holding of such Investments and/or variations in exchange rates, the limit will thereby be breached. The limits will, however, be taken into account when considering changes or additions to the Company's Investments. Subject to numbered paragraph 15 below, the Company may take short as well as long positions with regard to its Investments.
15. Without prejudice to numbered paragraph 14 above, the Company may not carry out the sale of transferable securities if such securities are not owned by the Company.
16. Call options with respect to securities may be written/sold by the Company only on the condition that the Company at all times maintains ownership of the relevant security which is the subject of the call option.

17. The Company may not invest in physical commodities or real property.
18. No more than 30% of the Net Asset Value may at any time, except in extraordinary circumstances, be held by the Brokers and used for initial margin purposes. The Investment Manager shall notify the Depositary and the Central Bank immediately if such extraordinary circumstances occur.

The Company may, at the discretion of the Directors and with the consent of the Depositary, undertake short-term borrowing secured on the assets of the Company:

- (a) to fund the payment of Redemption Proceeds; or
- (b) as short-term funding for the acquisition of Investments, in each case pending receipt by the Company of the proceeds of sale or redemption of other Investments.

The aggregate borrowing capacity of the Company shall be limited to a maximum of an amount equal to 10% of its Net Asset Value at any time and from time to time. Additionally, a Broker (or one of its affiliated companies) may lend monies to the Company in currencies other than the US dollar to finance non-US dollar margins (both initial and variation). Back-to-back foreign currency borrowing for financing margins, is backed by cash deposited with the Broker or with a credit institution instructed by the Broker. In calculating the amount of the deposit, currency fluctuations will be adequately considered. Any such foreign currency borrowing will not be taken into account in the 10% limit referred to above (on the basis that such borrowing would be made on a back-to-back basis only). However, the sum of back-to-back foreign currency borrowing and the aggregate borrowing of the Company described above will be limited to an amount equal to 50% of the Net Asset Value at any time and from time to time.

The Investment Manager has designed and implemented a statistically derived measure of risk through its computer-based trading systems. This proprietary risk control mechanism (which is continually monitored and updated) operates to control the application of leverage to the Company's Investments, such leverage being variable, depending on the nature of the Investments and the markets traded and prevailing market conditions.

For as long as the Participating Shares are listed on the Irish Stock Exchange:

- (a) the Company will not take legal or management control over any of the entities in which the Liquidity Reserves are invested; and
- (b) the Company will adhere to the principle of diversification of risk in its derivatives trading activities.

The above Irish Stock Exchange restrictions are in addition to, and do not override, any investment restrictions imposed on the Company by the AIF Rulebook of the Central Bank.

The Company may not, nor shall it appoint a Manager or AIFM which would, acquire shares carrying voting rights which would enable it to exercise significant influence over the management of the issuing body.

The limits on Investments set out in the paragraphs above are deemed to apply at the time of purchase of the Investments. If the limits set forth are subsequently exceeded for reasons beyond the control of the Investment Manager (for example due to market movements or where a security is downgraded by a rating agency) or as a result of the exercise of subscription rights, the Investment Manager shall remedy that situation within such period of time as it deems reasonable (for example taking due account of the potential value of an affected security i.e. the potential for the affected security to regain its rating) and the interests of Shareholders.

Collateral received by the Company (other than in the context of reverse repurchase agreements which is subject to the requirements set out above) must at all times meet with the following criteria:

- (i) Liquidity: Collateral (other than cash) must be highly liquid and traded on a regulated market or multi-lateral trading facility with transparent pricing in order that it can be sold quickly at a robust price that is close to its pre-sale valuation.
- (ii) Valuation: Collateral must be valued on a daily basis and must be marked to market daily;
- (iii) Issuer credit quality: Where the collateral issue is not rated A-1 or equivalent, conservative haircuts must be applied;
- (iv) Safe-Keeping: Collateral must be transferred to the Depositary, or its agent;
- (v) Enforceable: Collateral must be immediately available to the Company without recourse to the counterparty, in the event of a default by that entity;
- (vi) Non-cash collateral cannot be sold, pledged or re-invested; must be held at the risk of the counterparty; must be issued by an entity independent of the counterparty and must be diversified to avoid concentration risk in one issue, sector or country; and
- (vii) Cash collateral must only be invested in risk-free assets.

Investment Restrictions imposed in jurisdictions in which Shares are marketed

Without limitation, the Company may adopt additional investment restrictions to facilitate the distribution of Shares in the Company to the public in a particular jurisdiction. In addition, the investment restrictions set out above may be changed from time to time by the Company in accordance with a change in the applicable law and regulations in any jurisdiction in which Shares in the Company are currently offered. In the event of any such addition to, or change in, the investment restrictions applicable to the Company, a reasonable notification period will be provided by the Company to enable Shareholders in the Company to redeem their Shares prior to implementation of these changes.

For the benefit of German investors in the Company, the Company intends to adhere to the legal requirements as set out in the grandfathering provisions under Sec. 22 para. 2 of the German Investment Tax Act (Investmentsteuergesetz) in its amended version according to the AIFM Tax Adoption Act (AIFM Steuer-Anpassungsgesetz) and in this respect, it should be noted that the above sections under the heading “Investment objective and policies” and “Investment and borrowing restrictions” shall ensure compliance with (and in some circumstances are even more restrictive than) the following requirements/restrictions under Section 112 of the former German Investment Act of 15 December 2003 (as amended), and the Company thereby adheres to such requirements / restrictions until the grandfathering period will expire which will be the accounting period of the Company ending on 30 June 2017.

1. In accordance with the Company's terms and conditions for investment, the Company applies the principle of risk diversification in the meaning of Sec. 1 sentence 2 of the former German Investment Act ("GIA"). This relates especially to trading in derivative instruments in the context of applying the AHL Diversified Programme. Further, in line with the scope of the investment strategy, the Company has invested and may invest more than 90% of the Net Asset Value in the eligible assets according to Sec. 2 para. 4 number 1 to 4, 10 and 11 of the former GIA without any restrictions as well as in shares or units of investment funds in accordance with Sections 50, 66, 83, 90g and Sec. 112 of the former GIA and in corresponding foreign investment funds (Sec. 112 para. 1 sentence 1 of the former GIA).
2. The Company's terms and conditions for investment include the use of derivatives - as futures, swaps and other derivative financial instruments - in the context of applying the AHL Diversified Programme in order to achieve leverage for the Company's investments (Sec. 112 para. 1 sentence 2 number 1 of the former GIA).
3. The Company's terms and conditions for investment also include the possibility of utilising short-selling by the Company. Short-selling in this context means the sale of assets for joint account of the investors, which - at the time of the transaction - do not belong to the funds property (Sec. 112 para. 1 sentence 2 number 2 of the former GIA).
4. Investments of the Company in real estate and other comparable assets according to Sec. 2 para.4 number 5 GIA will not be made. Investments of the Company in shares of companies, which - according to their articles of association or their memorandum/prospectus - exclusively invest in real estate (real estate corporations), will not be made (Sec. 2 para. 4 number 6 of the former GIA). This does not exclude listed REITs and comparable listed companies.
5. Investments of the Company in private equity (shares of companies which are not listed on a stock exchange or included in an organized market) are limited to 30 % of the Company's net asset value (Sec. 112 para. 1 sentence 3 of the former GIA).
6. Investments of the Company in physical commodities (except for precious metal) will not be made (Sec. 2 para. 4 number 11 of the former GIA). I.e. listed derivatives would have to be closed out before having to take physical delivery. Investments of the Company in uncertified loan receivables will not be made (Sec. 2 para. 4 number 10 and 11 in conjunction with Sec. 114 of the former GIA).

AHL Diversified Programme

AHL manages the AHL Diversified Programme which employs sophisticated computerised processes to identify trends in markets around the world. Trading signals are generated and executed via a finely tuned trading and implementation infrastructure. This process is quantitative and primarily directional in nature, meaning that investment decisions are entirely driven by mathematical models based on market trends and other historical relationships. It is underpinned by rigorous risk control, ongoing research, diversification and the constant quest for efficiency.

The cornerstone of the investment philosophy is that the financial markets exhibit persistent trends and other inefficiencies. Trends are a manifestation of serial correlation in financial markets – the phenomenon whereby past price movements influence price behaviour. Although they vary in their intensity, duration and frequency, price trends are universally recurrent across all sectors and markets. Trends are an attractive focus for active trading styles applied across a diverse range of global markets.

Trading takes place around-the-clock and real-time price information is used to respond to price movements across a diverse range of global markets. The AHL Diversified Programme invests in a varied portfolio of instruments including, but not limited to futures, options, forward contracts, CFDs, swaps and other financial derivatives both on and off exchange. These markets may be accessed directly or indirectly and include, without limitation, stocks, debt, bonds, currencies, short-term interest rates, energies, metals, credit and agriculturals.

As well as emphasising sector and markets diversification, the AHL Diversified Programme has been constructed to achieve diversification by allocating to multiple trading strategies. Most of these strategies work by sampling prices in real time and measuring price momentum and breakouts, aiming to capture price trends and close out positions when there is a high probability of a different trend developing. Signals are generated across different time frames, ranging from a few days to several months. In aggregate, the systems currently run around 2,000 price samples each day spread across the 350 or so markets traded. The AHL Diversified Programme also includes other technical systems, as well as quantitative models based on a variety of fundamental inputs, such as interest rate and equity valuation data.

In line with the principle of diversification, the approach to portfolio construction and asset allocation is premised on the importance of deploying investment capital across the full range of sectors and markets. Particular attention is paid to correlation of markets and sectors, expected returns, market access costs and market liquidity. Portfolios are regularly reviewed and, when necessary, adjusted to reflect changes in these factors. A systematic process for adjusting market risk exposure in real time to reflect changes in the volatility of individual markets is also in place. Through AHL's ongoing investment in research and technology, the number and diversity of markets and strategies traded directly or indirectly by the AHL Diversified Programme may change over the life of the investment, but always subject to any restrictions set out in this Prospectus. It should also be noted that the AHL Diversified Programme traded by the Company may differ from the AHL Diversified Programme traded by other investment products managed by entities within the Man Group.

AHL

AHL is one of the world's leading quantitative managed futures managers. It is an investment division of Man Group and operates through various legal vehicles including AHL Partners LLP. AHL provides investors with highly liquid and efficient trading strategies which offer low correlation to more traditional investment disciplines. The business was established in 1987 as a division of Man Investments Limited and has developed a long and successful track record, offering strong returns with a low correlation to other asset classes. As of February 2013, AHL merged with Man Systematic Strategies, another investment division of Man Group, which brought increased breadth and depth of quantitative research capability. With primary offices in London, UK, AHL maintains a trading office in Hong Kong and research offices in Oxford, UK and Pfaffikon, Switzerland. As at 31 March 2014, AHL managed approximately USD 11.3 billion in assets. AHL is able to draw on the substantial business and corporate infrastructure, information technology, administration, logistics, compliance and legal functions, and client servicing offered by Man Group through a worldwide network of offices and staff.

Investment Manager

AHL Partners LLP, a member of the Man Group, is appointed as the Investment Manager and AIFM of the Company and is responsible for the investment selection, portfolio construction and portfolio management in respect of the Company's portfolio.

The Investment Manager is authorised and regulated by the FCA in the conduct of its regulated activities in the United Kingdom. The Investment Manager, along with other Man Group entities, provides access for private and institutional investors worldwide to alternative investment strategies through a range of innovative products and solutions designed to deliver long-term investment performance.

Man Group was founded in 1783. Today, the UK listed entity in the FTSE 250 index has a market capitalisation of around £1.5 billion. As at 31 December 2013, Man Group had approximately USD 54.1 billion under management. The business employed approximately 1,200 people in 18 jurisdictions worldwide as at 31 March 2013, with key centres in London, Switzerland, New York, Tokyo, Hong Kong and Sydney.

Man Group is a world-leading alternative investment management business. It has expertise in a wide range of liquid investment styles including managed futures, equity, credit and convertibles, emerging markets, global macro and multi-manager, combined with powerful product structuring, distribution and client service capabilities.

Research process

The Investment Manager draws on both academic research and market experience for its product design. The Investment Manager's belief in the need for on-going research and development has led to significant investment in this area. The research process takes advantage of advanced computing power and powerful, proprietary, analysis software to provide solutions to the problems of quantitative trading.

The Investment Manager retains the right to make changes to the AHL Diversified Programme as a result of its continued research and development (provided that any material change has been made in accordance with the requirements of the Central Bank and is promptly notified to the Shareholders and to the Irish Stock Exchange). Such changes may include an increase in the number and diversity of markets and instruments traded directly or indirectly including through collective investment schemes.

Risk management

Risk management is an essential component of AHL's investment management process. AHL has put in place a risk management framework which is designed to identify, monitor and mitigate the portfolio, operational and outsourcing risks relevant to its processes. AHL's risk management framework is part of, and is supported by, the overarching risk management framework of Man Group.

The Investment Manager covers potential professional liability risks resulting from those activities which it carries out pursuant to the AIFM Regulations through additional own funds which are appropriate to cover potential liability risks arising from professional negligence.

Key principles of AHL's risk management framework include the segregation of functions and duties where material conflicts of interest may arise and having an appropriate degree of independent and senior management oversight of business activities. As part of this independent oversight, AHL's activities are subject to regular review by Man Group's internal audit function.

Risk management consists primarily of monitoring risk measures and ensuring the systems remain within prescribed limits. The major risk monitoring measures and focus areas include value-at-risk, stress testing, implied volatility, leverage, margin-to-equity ratios and net exposures to sectors and different currencies.

Remuneration Policies and Practices

The Investment Manager is subject to remuneration policies, procedures and practices (together, the "Remuneration Policy"). The Remuneration Policy is consistent with and promotes sound and effective risk management. It is designed not to encourage risk-taking which is inconsistent with the risk profile of the Company. The Remuneration Policy is in line with the business strategy, objectives, values and interests of the Investment Manager and the Company and includes measures to avoid conflicts of interest. The Remuneration Policy applies to staff whose professional activities have a material impact on the risk profile of the Investment Manager or the Company and ensures that no individual will be involved in determining or approving their own remuneration. The Remuneration Policy will be reviewed annually.

Brokerage

The nature of futures brokerage arrangements differs substantively from securities brokerage in that significant exposure to the futures markets can be effected with minimal capital commitments. Derivative and currency contracts are entered into on a margin basis whereby the customer is required to deposit only a percentage of the relevant contract value with the broker. As the Company must have access to cash assets to satisfy margin calls there is no prescribed limit on the amount of cash assets the Company may hold (which, in any event, will not exceed the NAV of the Company).

Based on such margin deposits, the Broker(s) will enter into derivatives and currency contracts with the Company on a principal to principal basis. All monies paid by the Company to the Broker(s) as margin deposits, together with any net realised and certain unrealised profits held by the Broker(s) for margin purposes, will be held in the Brokerage Account and the Company's assets will be designated as those of the Company by the Broker(s) for the purposes of the Brokerage Account. The assets in the Brokerage Account shall be subject to a lien in favour of the Broker(s) in respect of liabilities of the Company due to the Broker(s) since such monies constitute the Broker(s)'s collateral in the event of trading losses. See also the section entitled 'Risk factors'.

Subject to the rights of the Depositary pursuant to the Depositary Agreement, monies held by the Depositary shall be subject to the Broker(s)'s right to call for such monies in the event of trading losses being incurred. The Broker(s) will accept trading instructions for the Brokerage Account directly from the Investment Manager on the basis of a formal trading authorisation received from the Company.

Distribution policy

The Company is an accumulating fund and, therefore, does not intend to distribute dividends to Shareholders. The Company's income and other profits will be accumulated and reinvested on behalf of Shareholders. Dividends, if paid on the Participating Shares, may be paid out of the net revenues of the Company (being the income of the Company less its expenses) and out of realised and unrealised capital gains on the disposal/valuation of Investments and other assets less realised and unrealised capital losses of the Company.

Risk factors

Investment in the Company is subject to certain risk factors. As investors could lose some or all of their investment, potential investors should carefully consider the information contained in this Prospectus and each relevant Supplement before making any investment in Shares. In particular, but without limitation Investors should consider the following factors in determining whether investment in the Company is suitable for them. The following list of risk factors does not purport to provide a complete explanation of the risks associated with acquiring and holding the Participating Shares. As the AHL Diversified Programme evolves, an investment in the Company may become subject to risk factors not described in this section. Investors should only invest in the Shares if they understand the terms on which the Shares are offered and should, where appropriate, seek advice from relevant adviser(s) before making an investment.

Suitability for investment

1. An investment in the Company is suitable only for investors who are capable of evaluating the merits and risks of such an investment and who have sufficient resources to be able to bear any losses which may result from such an investment. An investment in the managed futures industry involves a significant degree of risk. There can be no assurance that the Company will achieve its objectives or avoid substantial loss. Investment in the Company (by the purchase of Participating Shares) may not be suitable for all investors.

2. There can be no assurance that the Company will achieve its investment objective. An investment in the Shares is not guaranteed or subject to principal or capital protection and investors could lose some or all of their investment. Both an investment in the Company and the investments which the Company proposes to make are speculative. Regardless of the fact that the Investment Manager intends to manage the Company diligently in pursuit of the Company's investment objective, no guarantee or representation can be made that the Company's investment programme will be successful, that the various investment strategies and trading strategies utilised will have low correlation with each other or that the Company's returns will exhibit low correlation with an investor's traditional investment portfolio. The Company may utilise a variety of investment techniques, each of which can involve substantial volatility and can, in certain circumstances, substantially increase the adverse impact to which the Company's investment portfolio may be subject.
3. The European Union Savings Directive 2003/48/EC (the 'Directive') came into force with effect from 1 July 2005. The Directive requires a paying agent (as defined in the Directive), established in a Member State, associated/dependent territories, or certain third countries, to either report or withhold tax from payments of 'savings income' to an individual beneficial owner residing in another EU member state or covered territory. 'Savings income' is defined in the Directive and can include coupon and dividend payments, distribution and redemption payments in respect of investments in securities and certain investment funds. The European Commission has proposed certain amendments to the Directive, which may, if implemented, amend or broaden the scope of the requirements described above. All Applicants should seek independent advice on the impact (if any) of the Directive on their investment.
4. Prospective investors should carefully review and evaluate the risks and the other information contained in this Prospectus before making a decision to invest in the Company. Prospective investors should also seek their own personal financial advice from their independent financial advisers prior to making an investment. The success of the Company is significantly dependent upon the ability of the Investment Manager to develop and implement effectively the Company's investment objective. Except as otherwise discussed herein, investors will be relying entirely on the Investment Manager to conduct and manage the affairs of the Company. Subjective decisions made by the Investment Manager may cause the Company to incur losses or to miss profit opportunities on which it could otherwise have capitalised.
5. The performance of the Investment Manager is largely dependent on the talents and efforts of the highly skilled personnel of AHL. The success of the Company depends on AHL's ability to identify and willingness to provide acceptable compensation to attract, retain and motivate talented investment professionals and other personnel. There can be no assurance that AHL's investment professionals will continue to be associated with AHL throughout the life of the Company and there is no guarantee that the talents of AHL's investment professionals could be replaced. The failure to attract or retain such investment professionals could have a material adverse effect on the Company and its Shareholders.

6. The Company depends on the Investment Manager to develop appropriate systems and procedures to control operational risk. These systems and procedures may not account for every actual or potential disruption of the Investment Manager's operations. The Investment Manager's business is dynamic and complex. As a result, certain operational risks are intrinsic to the Investment Manager's operations, especially given the volume, diversity and complexity of transactions that the Investment Manager is expected to undertake daily on behalf of its clients. Disruptions in the Investment Manager's operations may cause the Company to suffer, among other things, financial loss, the disruption of its businesses, liability to third parties, regulatory intervention or reputational damage.
7. The Company depends on the Investment Manager and its other service providers to develop and implement appropriate systems for the Company's trading activities. Further, the Company relies extensively on computer programmes and systems (and may rely on new systems and technology in the future) for various purposes including, without limitation, to trade, clear and settle transactions, to evaluate certain financial instruments, to monitor its portfolio and net capital, and to generate risk management and other reports that are critical to oversight of the Company's activities. Certain of the Company's and the Investment Manager's operations interface will be dependent upon systems operated by third parties, including the Valuations Service Provider, market counterparties and their sub-custodians and other service providers, and the Investment Manager may not be in a position to verify the risks or reliability of such third-party systems. These programmes or systems may be subject to certain limitations, including, but not limited to, those caused by computer "worms", viruses and power failures. The Company's operations are highly dependent on each of these systems and the successful operation of such systems is often out of the Company's and Investment Manager's control. The failure of one or more systems or the inability of such systems to satisfy the Company's new or growing businesses could have a material adverse effect on the Company. For example, systems failures could cause settlement of trades to fail, lead to inaccurate accounting, recording or processing of trades, and cause inaccurate reports, which may affect the ability of the Company to monitor its investment portfolio and risks.
8. The complex trading programmes operated by the Investment Manager and the speed and volume of transactions invariably result in occasional trades being executed which, with the benefit of hindsight, were not required by the trading programme. To the extent an error is caused by a counterparty, such as a broker, the Investment Manager may attempt to recover any loss associated with such error from such counterparty. To the extent an error is caused by the Investment Manager, a formalised process is in place for the resolution of such errors. Given the volume, diversity and complexity of transactions executed by the Investment Manager on behalf of the Company, investors should assume that trading errors (and similar errors) may occur, and may result in losses to the Company

Investment in the Shares

9. The Net Asset Value is not guaranteed and may go down as well as up. Shareholders redeeming Participating Shares may not realise the amount originally invested.

Each Applicant must decide the amount to invest in Participating Shares, taking into consideration the risk factors described in this section and the terms and conditions described in this Prospectus. It should be borne in mind that the risks involved in this type of investment are greater than those normally associated with other types of investment, as Company's Investments may be subject to sudden, unexpected and substantial price movements (which may be influenced by factors such as changes in interest rates, currency exchange rate and economic and political events which are beyond the control of, and not predictable by, the Investment Manager). Unexpected and substantial price movements may lead to substantial fluctuations in the Net Asset Value per Share within a short period of time. Accordingly, an investment in the Shares should be made only by those persons who could afford to sustain a loss in such an investment. Consequently, the trading of such Investments can lead to substantial losses as well as gains in the Net Asset Value per Share within a short period of time. Accordingly, an investment should be made only by those persons who could sustain a loss in that investment.

10. An Applicant should only allocate a small percentage (5%–10%) of its overall portfolio to an investment in the Company. The difference at any one time between the price paid for a Participating Share and the price at which a Participating Share is redeemed means that investment in the Participating Shares should be viewed as a medium-term investment. The Investment Manager specifically warns that the AHL Diversified Programme is designed and constructed as a medium-term investment.
11. There can be no assurance that information on the Investment Manager or the investment strategies including information on past performance, will be indicative of how the Shares will perform (either in terms of profitability or low correlation with other investments) in the future. No assurance can be given that profits will be achieved or that substantial losses will not be incurred.
12. Certain Investments within the Company's portfolio may, for timing reasons, be based on an estimate of the value provided by the manager or adviser of the Investments. The Investment Manager has been appointed as a competent person for the purposes of determining the fair value of these Investments as being one of fair value. Accordingly, the Net Asset Value may contain an element of estimated pricing. This valuation method is in accordance with the terms of the Articles and this Prospectus.
13. Applicants will need to submit to the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar an Application Form by no later than four Business Days before the Dealing Day on which the subscription is required to be made. Applicants will, therefore, not know in advance of submitting the Application Form the Subscription Price for the Participating Shares for which they are applying. In the period between Valuation Points the underlying Net Asset Value per Share may change substantially due to market movements and, therefore, the Subscription Price which will be payable by the Applicant on any Dealing Day may vary significantly from the Subscription Price on any preceding Dealing Day. Applicants are not entitled to withdraw an Application Form unless the Directors otherwise determine.
14. Shareholders will need to submit to the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar (or the appropriate Clearing System, as the case may be) a Redemption Notice at least three Business Days before the Dealing Day on which the redemption is required to be made. There is currently no secondary market for the Shares. Shareholders will, therefore, not know in advance of giving the Redemption Notice the Redemption Price. In the period between Valuation Points the underlying Net Asset Value per Share may change substantially due to market movements and, therefore, the Redemption Price may vary significantly from the Redemption Price on any preceding Dealing Day. Shareholders are not entitled to withdraw a request for redemption unless the Directors otherwise determine or unless a suspension of dealings and/or calculations has been declared on the terms set out in this Prospectus.

15. The Directors have the ability to suspend temporarily the redemption of Shares in the circumstances set out in the section of this Prospectus entitled 'Temporary suspension/postponements'.
16. The Company may, in its absolute discretion, and subject to the requirements of the Central Bank, waive, reduce or vary any notice periods, conditions to redemptions, periods for or terms of remittance of redemption proceeds, or other requirements or limitations relating to redemptions, either for Shareholders generally or for particular Shareholders or classes of Shareholders and either at the time a particular redemption is proposed or in advance by agreement with one or more Shareholders

Overall Investment Approach

17. The success of the Company's activities will be affected by general economic and market conditions, such as interest rates, availability of credit, credit defaults, inflation rates, economic uncertainty, changes in laws (including laws relating to taxation of the Company's investments), trade barriers, currency exchange controls, and national and international political circumstances (including wars, terrorist acts or security operations). These factors may affect the level and volatility of financial instruments' prices and the liquidity of the Company's investments. Volatility or illiquidity could impair the Company's profitability or result in losses. The Company may maintain substantial trading positions that can be adversely affected by the level of volatility in the financial markets — the larger the positions, the greater the potential for loss.

The economies of some countries may differ favourably or unfavourably from the US and Western European economies in such respects as growth of gross domestic product, rate of inflation, currency depreciation, asset reinvestment, resource self-sufficiency and balance of payments position. Further, certain economies are heavily dependent upon international trade and, accordingly, have been and may continue to be adversely affected by trade barriers, exchange controls, managed adjustments in relative currency values and other protectionist measures imposed or negotiated by the countries with which they trade. The economies of certain countries may be based, predominantly, on only a few industries and may be vulnerable to changes in trade conditions and may have higher levels of debt or inflation.

18. Investors should carefully consider the text within the sections entitled 'Investment objective and policies' and 'Investment and borrowing restrictions' above and remember that the Net Asset Value per Share (i.e. the price of Participating Shares) may fall as well as rise. There is no guarantee that the Company or the Investment Manager will realise the investment objective.

19. Shareholders' returns on the Participating Shares (by way of any payments of Redemption Proceeds or their equivalent) will be determined by reference to any cumulative net gains or losses (if any) arising from the investment activities of the Company and any appreciation earned on the Liquidity Reserves. The Net Asset Value per Share (and therefore the return on the Participating Shares) may vary significantly over time, and may decrease as well as increase, depending upon trading profits and investment gains. The Company makes no representation as to any return that a Shareholder will earn on the Participating Shares and there can be no assurance that information on the Investment Manager or the AHL Diversified Programme set out in this Prospectus will be, in any respect, indicative of how they will perform (either in terms of profitability or low correlation with other investments) in the future.
20. Identification and exploitation of the AHL Diversified Programme involves a high degree of uncertainty. No assurance can be given that the Investment Manager will be able to locate suitable investment opportunities in which to deploy all of the allocated assets.
21. Investments by the Company on the advice of the Investment Manager may be concentrated and a significant proportion of the Company's assets may be in the securities of a single issuer or Agency. This limited diversity could expose the Company to losses disproportionate to market movements in general. Even when the Investment Manager attempts to control risks and diversify the portfolio, risks associated with different assets may be correlated in unexpected ways, with the result that the Company faces concentrated exposure to certain risks. In addition, many pooled investment vehicles pursue similar strategies, which creates the risk that many funds would be forced to liquidate positions at the same time, reducing liquidity, increasing volatility and exacerbating losses.
22. The Company may make leveraged investments in markets that are volatile and/or which may become illiquid. Accordingly, although Investments may give greater liquidity than an equity investment, it may be impossible (in the event of trading halts or daily price fluctuation limits on the markets traded or otherwise) or expensive for the Company to liquidate positions against which the market is moving. Alternatively, it may not be possible, in certain circumstances, for a position to be initiated or liquidated promptly (in the event of insufficient trading activity in the relevant market or otherwise). Accordingly, the Company's ability to respond to market movements may be impaired. These risks may be accentuated where the Company is required to liquidate positions to meet margin requests, margin calls, redemption requests or other funding requirements.
23. Although the Company is prohibited from selling transferable securities if such securities are not owned by the Company, it may undertake short selling of other Investments. Short selling involves agreeing to sell assets at a future date although, at the time of such agreement, the assets to be sold may not be owned by the seller. The seller may, at times, have to borrow assets of the same type for delivery to the purchaser, with an obligation on the seller (i.e. the Company) to replace any such borrowed assets at a later date. Short selling allows the investor to profit from declines in market prices to the extent such declines exceed the transaction costs and any costs of borrowing the assets. However, if the borrowed assets must be replaced by purchases at market prices in order to close out the short position, any appreciation in the price of the borrowed assets would result in a loss. Purchasing assets to close out the short position can itself cause the price of the assets to rise further, thereby exacerbating the loss. There can also be no guarantee that assets necessary to cover the short position will be available for purchase. In addition, in some markets there are rules prohibiting short sales at prices below the last sale price, which may prevent the Investment Manager from executing short sales on behalf of the Company at the most desirable time.

24. Investment in derivatives involves special risks and may result in losses. The value of futures depends upon the price of the financial instruments, such as commodities, underlying them. The prices of futures are highly volatile, and price movements of futures contracts can be influenced by, among other things, interest rates, changing supply and demand relationships, trade, fiscal, monetary and exchange control programmes and policies of governments, and national and international political and economic events and policies. In addition, investments in futures are also subject to the risk of the failure of any of the exchanges on which the Company's positions trade or of its clearing houses or counterparties. Futures positions may be illiquid because certain commodity exchanges limit fluctuations in certain futures contract prices during a single day by regulations referred to as "daily price fluctuation limits" or "daily limits". Under such daily limits, during a single trading day no trades may be executed at prices beyond the daily limits. Once the price of a particular futures contract has increased or decreased by an amount equal to the daily limit, positions in that contract can neither be taken nor liquidated unless traders are willing to effect trades at or within the limit. This could prevent the Company from promptly liquidating unfavourable positions and subject the Company to substantial losses or prevent it from entering into desired trades. In extraordinary circumstances, a futures exchange or other regulator could suspend trading in a particular futures contract, or order liquidation or settlement of all open positions in such contract. The price of stock index futures contracts may not correlate perfectly with the movement in the underlying stock index because of certain market distortions. First, all participants in the futures market are subject to margin deposit and maintenance requirements. Rather than meeting additional margin deposit requirements, shareholders may close futures contracts through offsetting transactions that would distort the normal relationship between the index and futures markets. Secondly, from the point of view of speculators, the deposit requirements in the futures market are less onerous than margin requirements in the securities market. Therefore, increased participation by speculators in the futures market also may cause price distortions. Successful use of stock index futures contracts by the Company also is subject to the Investment Manager's ability to correctly predict movements in the direction of the market.

25. The Company may make extensive use of forward contracts, particularly in relation to its currency trading. Forward contracts are transactions involving an obligation to purchase or sell a specific instrument or entitlement at a future date at a specified price. Forward contracts may be used by the Company for hedging purposes, such as to protect against uncertainty in the level of future foreign currency exchange rates. Forward contracts may also be used to attempt to protect the value of the Company's existing holdings of securities held in currencies other than the base currency of the Company. As is the case for any attempt at hedging downside risk, there is a risk that there is an imperfect correlation between the value of the securities and the forward contracts entered into with respect to those holdings resulting in an unprotected loss. Forward contracts may also be used for investment, non-hedging purposes to pursue the Company's investment objective, for example where it is anticipated that a particular currency will appreciate or depreciate in value.
26. Forward contracts and options thereon, unlike futures contracts, are not traded on exchanges and are not standardised; rather, banks and dealers act as principals in these markets, negotiating each transaction on an individual basis. Forward and "cash" trading is substantially unregulated; there is no limitation on daily price movements and speculative position limits are not applicable. As in the case of a futures contract, a forward usually only requires a much smaller amount of margin to be provided relative to the economic exposure which the forward contract provides to the relevant investment; it creates a 'gearing' or 'leverage' effect. This means that a small margin payment can lead to enhanced losses as well as enhanced gains. It also means that a relatively small movement in the underlying instrument can lead to a much greater proportional movement in the value of the forward contract. The principals who deal in the forward markets are not required to continue to make markets in the currencies or commodities they trade, and these markets can experience periods of illiquidity, sometimes of significant duration. There have been periods during which certain participants in these markets have refused to quote prices for certain currencies or commodities or have quoted prices with an unusually wide spread between the price at which they were prepared to buy and that at which they were prepared to sell. Disruptions can occur in forward markets, particularly the currency markets, due to unusually high trading volume, political intervention, market dislocations, unanticipated third country events affecting the underlying asset, unscheduled holidays and market closures or other factors. The imposition of controls by governmental authorities might also limit such forward trading to less than that which the Investment Manager would otherwise recommend, to the possible detriment of the Company. Market illiquidity or disruption could result in major losses to the Company.
27. The complex trading programmes operated by the Investment Manager and the speed and volume of transactions invariably result in occasional trades being executed which, with the benefit of hindsight, were not required by the trading programme. Shareholders will receive the benefit or bear the loss resulting from any unintentional trades conducted in this manner. The Investment Manager relies heavily on quantitative models (both proprietary models developed by the Investment Manager, and those supplied by third parties) and information and data supplied by third parties ("Models and Data") rather than granting trade-by-trade discretion to the Investment Manager's investment professionals. Models and Data are used to construct sets of transactions and investments, to value investments or potential investments (whether for trading purposes, or for the purpose of determining the Net Asset Value of the Company), to provide risk management insights, and to assist in hedging the Company's investments.

When Models and Data prove to be incorrect, misleading or incomplete, any decisions made in reliance thereon expose the Company to potential risks. For example, by relying on Models and Data, the Investment Manager may be induced to buy certain investments at prices that are too high, to sell certain other investments at prices that are too low, or to miss favourable opportunities altogether. Similarly, any hedging based on faulty Models and Data may prove to be unsuccessful. Furthermore, when determining the Net Asset Value of the Company, any valuations of the Company's investments that are based on valuation models may prove to be incorrect.

Some of the models used by the Investment Manager are predictive in nature. The use of predictive models has inherent risks. For example, such models may incorrectly forecast future behaviour, leading to potential losses on a cash flow and/or a mark-to-market basis. In addition, in unforeseen or certain low-probability scenarios (often involving a market disruption of some kind), such models may produce unexpected results, which can result in losses for the Company. Furthermore, because predictive models are usually constructed based on historical data supplied by third parties, the success of relying on such models may depend heavily on the accuracy and reliability of the supplied historical data.

All models rely on correct market data inputs. If incorrect market data is entered into even a well-founded model, the resulting valuations will be incorrect. However, even if market data is input correctly, "model prices" will often differ substantially from market prices, especially for securities with complex characteristics, such as derivative securities.

The Company is unlikely to be successful in its quantitative trading strategies unless the assumptions underlying the models are realistic and either remain realistic and relevant in the future or are adjusted to account for changes in the overall market environment. If such assumptions are inaccurate or become inaccurate and are not promptly adjusted, it is likely that profitable trading signals will not be generated. If and to the extent that the models do not reflect certain factors, and the Investment Manager does not successfully address such omission through its testing and evaluation and modify the models accordingly, major losses may result. The Investment Manager will continue to test, evaluate and add new models, as a result of which the existing models may be modified from time to time. Any modification of the models or strategies will not be subject to any requirement that shareholders receive notice of the change or that they consent to it. There can be no assurance as to the effects (positive or negative) of any modification on Company's performance.

There is significant competition among quantitatively-focused managers and the ability of the Investment Manager to deliver returns that have a low correlation with global aggregate equity markets and other hedge funds is dependent on their ability to employ models that are simultaneously profitable and differentiated from those employed by other managers. To the extent that the Investment Manager is not able to develop sufficiently differentiated models, the shareholders' investment objectives may not be met, irrespective of whether the models are profitable in an absolute sense. In addition, to the extent that the Investment Manager's model comes to resemble those employed by other managers, the risk that a market disruption that negatively affects predictive models will adversely affect the Company is increased, as such a disruption could accelerate reductions in liquidity or rapid repricing due to simultaneous trading across a number of funds in the marketplace.

The research and modelling processes engaged in by the Investment Manager is extremely complex and involves financial, economic, econometric and statistical theories, research and modelling; the results of that process must then be translated into computer code. Although the Investment Manager seeks to hire individuals skilled in each of these functions and to provide appropriate levels of oversight, the complexity of the individual tasks, the difficulty of integrating such tasks, and the limited ability to perform "real world" testing of the end product raise the chances that the finished model may contain an error; one or more of such errors could adversely affect the Company's performance and likely would not constitute a trade error under the Investment Manager's policies.

The ability of the Investment Manager to achieve its investment goals for the Company is dependent in large part on its ability to develop and protect its models and proprietary research. The models and proprietary research and the Models and Data are largely protected by the Investment Manager through the use of policies, procedures, agreements, and similar measures designed to create and enforce robust confidentiality, non-disclosure, and similar safeguards. However, aggressive position-level public disclosure obligations (or disclosure obligations to exchanges or regulators with insufficient privacy safeguards) could lead to opportunities for competitors to reverse-engineer the Investment Manager's models, and thereby impair the relative or absolute performance of the Company.

28. The Investment Manager manages the risk for the Company by seeking to ensure that the underlying risk is within predetermined levels. Nevertheless, Applicants should note that in the event of an exceptional decline in the value of the Company's trading capital to a level insufficient to sustain access to the AHL Diversified Programme, the Company may have to cease trading activities in the AHL Diversified Programme.

Market Risks

29. Certain markets in which the Company may invest are extremely competitive for attractive investment opportunities and, as a result, there may be reduced expected investment returns, or the liquidity of the Company's portfolio positions may be reduced. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager will be able to identify or successfully pursue attractive investment opportunities in such environments. Among other factors, competition for suitable investments from other pooled investment vehicles, the public equity markets and other investors may reduce the availability of investment opportunities. There has been significant growth in the number of firms organised to make such investments, which may result in increased competition to the Company in obtaining suitable investments.
30. The Company may make investments in markets that are volatile and/or which may become illiquid. Accordingly, the ability of the Company to respond to market movements may be impaired, which may result in significant losses to the Company. A public exchange typically has the right to suspend or limit trading in all securities that it lists. Such a suspension could render it impossible for the Company to liquidate its positions and thereby exposes it to losses. In addition, there is no guarantee that markets will remain liquid enough for the Company to close out positions.
31. Credit risk may arise through a default by one of several large institutions that are dependent on one another to meet their liquidity or operational needs, so that a default by one institution causes a series of defaults by the other institutions. This is sometimes referred to as a "systemic risk" and may adversely affect financial intermediaries, such as clearing agencies, clearing houses, banks, securities firms and exchanges, with which the Company interacts on a daily basis.
32. The Company may borrow money for cash management purposes and to meet redemptions that would otherwise result in the premature liquidation of its investments. The use of short-term borrowing creates several additional risks for the Company. If the Company is unable to service the debt, a secured lender could liquidate the Company's position in some or all of the financial instruments that have been pledged as collateral and cause the Company to incur significant losses. The occurrence of other material defaults and other financing agreements, may trigger cross-defaults under the Company's agreements with other brokers, lenders, clearing firms or other counterparties, multiplying the materially adverse impact to the Company. The amount of debt which the Company may have outstanding at any time may be large in relation to its assets. Consequently, the level of interest rates generally, and the rates at which the Company can borrow particularly will affect the operating results of the Company.
33. The Company's portfolio is subject to the risk of loss arising from exposure that it may incur, directly or indirectly, due to the occurrence of various events, including, without limitation, hurricanes, earthquakes and other natural disasters, terrorism and other catastrophic events. These risks of loss can be substantial and could adversely affect the return of the Company.

34. The Company's investment strategies and trading strategies depend on its ability to establish and maintain an overall market position in a combination of financial instruments selected by the Investment Manager. The Company's trading orders may not be executed in a timely and efficient manner due to various circumstances, including, without limitation, trading volume surges or systems failures attributable to the Investment Manager, the Company's counterparties, brokers, dealers, agents or other service providers. In such event, the Company might only be able to acquire or dispose of some, but not all, of the components of such position, or if the overall position were to need adjustment, the Company might not be able to make such adjustment. As a result, the Company would not be able to achieve the market position selected by the Investment Manager, which may result in a loss

Investment in Regulated and Unregulated Funds

35. As a shareholder of an Investment Fund, the Company will bear, along with other shareholders, its pro rata portion of the expenses of the Investment Fund, including management and/or other fees. The Company incurs the costs of two forms of investment advisory services: the investment management fee and performance fee (if applicable) paid to the Investment Manager and the incentive and other fees paid to portfolio managers of the Investment Fund. In addition, the investor bears a proportionate share of the fees and expenses of the Company (including operating costs, distribution expenses and administrative fees) and, indirectly, similar expenses of the Investment Funds. Investors should be aware of the cumulative effect of the fact that performance/incentive fees are payable both at the level of the Company and the Investment Funds.
36. At the time of striking the Net Asset Value of the Company, it is possible that only estimated prices will be available for certain of the Investment Funds or in certain appropriate circumstances, the Directors may have estimated the probable realisable value of any holding in an Investment Fund, in which case CEP will rely on such estimates when calculating the Net Asset Value of the Company. The reliance on such estimated values shall be final and conclusive notwithstanding any subsequent variation in the net asset value per share or unit of the relevant investment fund as issued by such investment fund or its duly appointed delegate.
37. The Investment Funds generally are invested wholly independently of one another and may at times hold economically offsetting positions. To the extent that the Investment Funds do, in fact, hold such positions, the Company, considered as a whole, cannot achieve any gain or loss despite incurring expenses. In addition, an Investment Fund will be compensated based on the performance of its investment. Accordingly, a particular Investment Fund may receive incentive compensation in respect of its portfolio for a period even though the Company's overall portfolio depreciated during such periods.
38. The Investment Funds invested in by the Company may face similar risks or greater risks in regard to their investments as are described in these risk factors as applicable to the Company and consequently the Company will also bear these risks indirectly. Certain investment practices or trading strategies employed, such as investment in financial and commodity futures and in derivative instruments and use of other investment techniques entail separate and substantial risk. Leverage can be employed by the Investment Funds invested in by the Company in a number of ways including direct borrowing, margining, short selling and the use of futures, warrants, options and other derivative products. Generally, leverage is used to increase the overall level of investment in a portfolio. Higher investment levels may offer the potential for higher returns. This exposes investors to increased risk as leverage can increase the portfolio's market exposure and volatility; the risk of leverage in futures contracts and investing in warrants is that small price movements can result in large losses or profits. No assurance can be given that a liquid market will exist for any particular futures contract at any particular time. If assumptions made by the Investment Manager are wrong or if the instruments do not work as anticipated, the Company could lose more than if the Investment Funds had not used such investment techniques.

39. The Company may be materially affected by the actions of other funds investing in the underlying Investment Funds invested in by the Company. Consequently, if another fund were to redeem from such Investment Funds, the remaining funds, including the Company, may experience higher pro rata operating expenses, thereby producing lower returns, and the Investment Funds may become less diverse due to a redemption by a larger fund, resulting in increased portfolio risk.
40. Investment Funds may have redemption periods that affect liquidity. In the course of performing its duties, the Company may be required to accept in specie redemptions from an underlying Investment Fund. In such a situation, the investment may not be sufficiently liquid in order to be readily realisable. However, redemption proceeds shall always be paid within 90 calendar days of the cut-off time for receipt of Redemption Notices.
41. Prospective investors should note that Unregulated Funds will not provide a level of investor protection equivalent to funds authorised under Irish laws and subject to Irish regulations and conditions.

Fees and transaction costs

42. The Company will be subject to the payment of substantial fees. Unless significant trading profits and interest income are earned by the Company there may, after the payment of fees and expenses of the Company, be little or no return to the Shareholders. See information within the section entitled 'Fees and expenses'. Such fees and transaction costs are to a substantial degree payable to the Man Group.
43. The performance of the Company will be affected by charges related to the investments of the Company. The Company, through the Investment Manager, may be engaged in a high level of trading resulting in commensurably higher transaction costs. Typically, high portfolio turnover may result in correspondingly high transaction costs and the exact amount of brokerage and related transaction costs that will be incurred will depend upon a number of factors, including the nature and frequency of the market opportunities presented, the size of transactions and the transaction rates in effect from time to time. Such fees and transaction costs are to a substantial degree payable to the Man Group.
44. The fees and transaction costs payable by the Company may be subject to renegotiation over the life of the Company.

Counterparty risk

45. The Company will have significant credit and operational risk exposure to its counterparties, which will require the Company to post collateral to support its obligations in connection with transactions involving forwards, swaps, futures, options and other derivative instruments. Generally, counterparties will have the right to sell, pledge, re-hypothecate, assign, use or otherwise dispose of the collateral posted by the Company in connection with such transactions. Additionally, for example, the Company may lend securities on a collateralised and an uncollateralised basis, from its portfolio.
46. Investments will normally be entered into between the Company and brokers as principal (and not as agent). Accordingly, the Company is exposed to the risk that brokers may, in an insolvency or similar event, be unable to meet their contractual obligations to the Company. This includes contractual obligations relating to margin monies held by the Broker(s) on behalf of the Company. The Company is also exposed to the default of the Broker(s). Should any counterparty transacting with the Company become insolvent, any claim that the Company may have against such counterparties would ordinarily be unsecured.
47. Such “counterparty risk” is accentuated for contracts with longer maturities where events may intervene to prevent settlement, or where the Company has concentrated its transactions with a single or small group of counterparties. If there is a default by the counterparty to a transaction, the Company will under most normal circumstances have contractual remedies and in some cases collateral pursuant to the agreements related to the transaction. However, exercising such contractual rights may involve delays or costs which could result in the Net Asset Value of the Company being less than if the Company had not entered into the transaction.
48. If one or more of the Company’s counterparties that act as custodian or broker-dealer for the Company, or the Depository or any sub-custodian appointed by the Depository were to become insolvent or the subject of liquidation proceedings, there exists the risk that the recovery of the Company’s securities and other assets from the Depository, such custodian, sub-custodian or broker-dealer will not be capable of being recovered and/or will be delayed or be of a value less than the value of the securities or assets originally entrusted to the Depository, such custodian, sub-custodian or broker-dealer.
49. Investors should assume that the insolvency of any Company counterparty would result in a loss to the Company, which could be material.
50. To the extent that margin monies of the Company held by the Broker(s) are placed with a market counterparty of the Broker(s), such margin monies may be pooled with margin monies of other customers of both the Broker(s) and/or the market counterparty that are held with such market counterparty and may be exposed to loss through netting in the event of the market counterparty’s insolvency.
51. Funds not immediately required for margin purposes by the Broker(s) will be held in a segregated client account or accounts with a third party bank or banks in accordance with the Client Money Rules. Funds held by the Broker(s) in a segregated client account may be subject to pooling (that is, pro-rata allocation). In the event that there is an overall shortfall in amounts due from the Broker(s) to its customers out of such customer segregated funds the Company may not fully recover funds held on its behalf. Funds held in segregated client accounts will not, however, be available to the general creditors of the Broker(s).

Leverage arrangements

52. In order to implement the AHL Diversified Programme, the Company may borrow and may utilise swaps and other off balance sheet derivative transactions and other forms of leverage. While leverage presents opportunities for increasing total return, it has the effect of potentially increasing losses as well. Accordingly, any event which adversely affects the value of an investment would be magnified to the extent leverage is employed. The cumulative effect of the use of leverage in a market that moves adversely to a leveraged investment could be a substantial loss, which would be greater than if leverage were not used. As a general matter, the banks and dealers that provide financing to the Company can apply essentially discretionary margin, haircut financing as well as security and collateral valuation policies. For example, should the financial instruments pledged to brokers to secure the Company's margin accounts decline in value, the Company could be subject to a "margin call", pursuant to which the Company must either deposit additional funds or financial instruments with the broker or suffer mandatory liquidation of the pledged financial instruments to compensate for the decline in value. In the event of a sudden drop in the value of the Company's portfolio, the Company might not be able to liquidate financial instruments quickly enough to satisfy their margin requirements. Increases in the amount of margin or similar payments could result in the need for trading activity at times and prices which could be disadvantageous to the Company or the underlying vehicles through which the Company directly or indirectly invests and could result in substantial losses.
53. As a consequence of leverage, interest expense may be material as a percentage of the assets of the Company. Interest expense could force a reduction in the exposure of the Company to the relevant trading strategies. The use of such leverage means that even comparatively small losses, or insufficient profits to offset expenses, could rapidly deplete the capital available to the Company and reduce or eliminate its profit potential. Further fees relating to any financing arrangements such as arrangement, commitment, minimum utilisation and renewal fees may also be payable. Changes by banks and dealers in such policies, or the imposition of other credit limitations or restrictions, whether due to market circumstances or government, regulatory or judicial action, may result in large margin calls, loss of financing, forced liquidations of positions at disadvantageous prices, termination of swap agreements and cross-defaults to agreements with other dealers. Any such adverse effects may be exacerbated in the event that such limitations or restrictions are imposed suddenly and/or by multiple market participants. The imposition of any such limitations or restrictions could compel the Company to liquidate all or part of its portfolio at disadvantageous prices, which may lead to a complete loss of the Company's equity..

Interest rate and exchange rate risk

54. Fluctuations in exchange rates could cause the value of investments made by Shareholders to increase or decrease. The Company may have exposure to foreign exchange and/or interest rate risks. The Company may seek to mitigate its risks through hedging transactions. To the extent these hedging transactions are imperfect or are only placed over a portion of the target investment exposure, the relevant Shareholders will realise the resulting benefit or loss.

The investments of the Company will be denominated primarily in US dollars and any return of such investments will therefore be in the same currency. The Company may invest in financial instruments denominated in non-US currencies, the prices of which are determined with reference to currencies other than the US Dollar. However, the Company values its financial instruments in US Dollars. The Company may or may not seek to hedge its non-US currency exposure by entering into currency hedging transactions, such as treasury locks, forward contracts, futures contracts and cross-currency swaps. There can be no guarantee that financial instruments suitable for hedging currency or market shifts will be available at the time when the Company wishes to use them, or that hedging techniques employed by the Company will be effective. Furthermore, certain currency market risks may not be fully hedged or hedged at all.

To the extent unhedged, the value of the Company's direct or indirect positions in non-US investments will fluctuate with US Dollar exchange rates as well as with the price changes of the investments in the various local markets and currencies. In such cases, an increase in the value of the US Dollar compared to the other currencies in which the Company makes investments will reduce the effect of any increases and magnify the effect of any decreases in the prices of the Company's financial instruments in their local markets and may result in a loss to the Company. Conversely, a decrease in the value of the US Dollar will have the opposite effect on the Company's non-US Dollar investments.

55. The Company may have exposure to interest rate risks. To the extent prevailing interest rates change, it could negatively affect the Net Asset Value per Share.

Tax

56. The Company intends to conduct its affairs such that it should not be deemed to be engaged in a trade or business in any jurisdiction other than from Ireland and should not, therefore, be liable to taxes of any jurisdiction other than from Ireland. If any of the activities were deemed to constitute a trade or business from a jurisdiction other than Ireland, then that jurisdiction's taxes may apply. Any such taxes would adversely affect the investment performance of the Shares.

57. This Prospectus does not take into consideration any tax consequences of investing in the Company other than as set out in the section entitled 'Taxation'. Prospective investors should also seek their own personal tax advice from their independent advisers prior to making an investment.
58. The Company may be liable to taxes (including withholding taxes) in countries other than Ireland on income earned and capital gains arising on its investments. The Company may not be able to benefit from a reduction in the rate of such foreign tax by virtue of the double taxation treaties between Ireland and other countries. The Company may not, therefore, be able to reclaim any foreign withholding tax suffered by it in particular countries. If this position changes and the Company obtains a repayment of foreign tax, the Net Asset Value of the Company will not be restated and the benefit will be allocated to the then-existing Shareholders rateably at the time of repayment.
59. The Company may take positions on certain tax issues which depend on legal conclusions not yet addressed by the courts. Additionally, no assurance can be given that legislative, administrative or judicial changes will not occur which will alter, either prospectively or retroactively, the tax considerations or risk factors discussed in this Prospectus.
60. Certain EU Member States have taken steps towards implementing a "financial transactions tax" ("FTT"), applicable to transactions in securities or other financial instruments where at least one party to the transaction, the issuer of the securities or other financial instruments, or the relevant broker, is located in the European Union. If implemented, the FTT may result in substantial loss to the Company, both directly through increased transaction costs and also indirectly through reduced liquidity in markets in securities and other financial instruments. The FTT may also render economically unviable certain investment strategies which the Investment Manager might otherwise have pursued, which may impair the Investment Manager's ability to generate returns for Shareholders.

Depository

61. The Depository must, in the case of the Company, and may, in the case of the Manager and the Investment Manager, review their respective procedures for ensuring that the Company's assets and investments are managed in accordance with the investment objective, policies, strategies and investment and borrowing restrictions contained in this Prospectus and any imposed by the Central Bank pursuant to Part XIII of the Act. However, the Depository, in carrying out any review, may be reliant on information supplied by the Broker(s), the Investment Manager and/or the Manager and the Depository may not be in a position to validate the accuracy of such information.
62. The Depository is not and shall not accept any liability for any losses sustained by the Company (and hence investors) as a result of any default by the Broker(s). The Depository Agreement specifically excludes all such liability (except for negligence, fraud, bad faith, wilful default or recklessness on the part of the Depository).

Identity of Beneficial Ownership and Withholding on Certain Payments

63. The United States Hiring Incentives to Restore Employment Act (the "HIRE Act") was signed into US law in March 2010 creating a new withholding regime referred to as the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act ("FATCA"). In order for the Company to avoid US withholding under FATCA (i.e. a tax of thirty percent (30%) on certain payments including eventually payments of gross proceeds) made with respect to certain actual and deemed US investments, the Company generally will be required to register with the US Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") by 31 December 2013 and may be required to identify and report certain of its direct and indirect US account holders (including debt holders and equity holders). The Company is subject to rules under an Intergovernmental Agreement (IGA), the Company will implement these FATCA provisions under local law and any required information will be provided to the local authorities in Ireland who will then provide it on to the IRS.

Investors in the Company will likely be required to provide to the Company information which identifies any direct and indirect US ownership as well as information that may certify other FATCA compliance or non-US status. The Company will likely be required to provide information on its direct and indirect US investors to the local tax authority of the Company, who may share this information with the IRS. Such information may include, inter alia, the name, address and taxpayer identification number of certain US Persons that own, directly or indirectly, an interest in the Company, as well as certain other information relating to such interest, including amounts paid or credited by the Company to such investor.

A non-US investor that is a "foreign financial institution" within the meaning of Section 1471(d)(4) of the IRC will generally be required to register with the IRS by 31 December 2013 and agree to identify certain of its own direct and indirect US account holders (including debt holders or equity holders). If the non-US investor is subject to rules under an IGA (such as the Company), the non-US investor will implement these FATCA provisions under local law and information may be provided to the local authorities who will then provide on to the IRS. A non-US investor in the Company who fails to provide requested information to the Company register and agree to identify such account holders (as applicable), may be subject to the thirty percent (30%) withholding tax with respect to its share of any such payments attributable to actual and deemed US investments of the Company and the Directors may take any action in relation to an investor's Shares or redemption proceeds to ensure that such withholding is economically borne by the relevant investor whose failure to provide the necessary information gave rise to the withholding. Shareholders should consult their own tax advisers regarding the possible implications of these rules on their investments in the Company).

Performance Based Compensation

64. The Investment Manager will receive incentive compensation based upon the net capital appreciation allocated to Participating Shares. The performance fee payable to the Investment Manager, may create an incentive for the Investment Manager to make investments on behalf of the Company that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case if such arrangements were not in effect. In addition, since such compensation is calculated on a basis that includes unrealised appreciation of the Company's assets (which may never be realised), such compensation may be greater than if it were based solely on realised gains and losses.

Exchange control

Under current legislation in Ireland, there are no exchange control laws or exchange control regulations in effect which would affect either the Company or any Shareholder.

Management and administration

Directors

The Directors, whose details are set out below, control, manage and supervise the affairs of the Company and are responsible for the overall investment policy, which will be determined by them and given to the Manager from time to time. The Directors are all non-executive directors of the Company.

Michael Jackson (Irish) is a partner in Matheson, the legal advisers to the Fund as to matters of Irish law. He joined Matheson in September 1991 following graduation from University College Cork with a Bachelor of Civil Laws Degree. In 1994 Mr. Jackson worked in the investment funds department of a leading international law firm based in the United States returning to Matheson in October 1994. Between September 1998 and January 1999 he was seconded to the private client services division of a major international investment firm based in London. Mr. Jackson returned to Matheson in January 1999 and was admitted to partnership in January 2000. He is a member of the Incorporated Law Society of Ireland and was a member of the committee established by the Irish Government to assess the impact of electronic commerce on the International Financial Services Centre (“IFSC”) in Dublin. Mr. Jackson is a member of the Primary Market Committee and Funds Listing Committee of the Irish Stock Exchange and is a former member of the Council and the executive committee of the Irish Funds Industry Association (“IFIA”). Mr. Jackson was appointed Chairman of the IFIA in May 2009. He is also a member of the IFSC Funds Group and is chairman of the legislative sub-group of the IFSC Funds Group.

John Morton (British) undertook his training contract at Cameron McKenna, qualifying into the Corporate Department in September 1991. He joined Morgan Grenfell Asset Management in May 1994, as the company’s first in house legal counsel. In September 2000 he joined Societe Generale Asset Management’s UK business (SGAM UK) as its Head of Legal and in 2003 he was also appointed to the role of Head of Compliance. Following GLG’s acquisition of SGAM UK in April 2009, he joined GLG’s legal department and he then became a member of Man’s legal department following its acquisition of GLG in November 2010. John is currently Head of the GLG and UCITS Products team within Man’s Legal department.

Victoria Parry (British) was, until April 2013, Global Head of Product Legal for Man Group plc and, prior to the merger of Man Group plc and GLG Partners in 2010, Senior Legal Counsel for GLG Partners. The Directors have appointed the Investment Manager to manage the assets of the Company. The Directors monitor and review the activities of the Investment Manager in relation to the Company through receipt of reports from the Investment Manager at their quarterly Board Meetings and by taking such appropriate steps as they consider are appropriate and in the best interests of the Company in relation to any matters arising out of such reports.

Manager

The Company has appointed Man Fund Management Limited as its manager pursuant to the Management Agreement. It has responsibility for the administration of the Company's affairs (apart from portfolio management or risk management) subject to the overall policy and supervision of the Directors.

The Manager is a private company limited by shares and was incorporated in Ireland on 20 June 1994. It is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Man Group plc. The Manager has an issued and fully paid up share capital of USD 560,000. The Manager's main business is the provision of fund management and administration services to collective investment schemes promoted and sponsored by Man Group. The directors of the Manager are Michael Jackson, John Morton, Victoria Parry and Bronwyn Wright.

Administrator

Pursuant to the Administration Agreement, the Manager has appointed CEP on behalf of the Company to provide general shareholder services (which will include maintenance of the Company's register) and certain accounting and valuation services. The Manager has also agreed to monitor the provision of those services by CEP.

CEP is a licenced bank, authorised and regulated by the Central Bank of Ireland. CEP was incorporated in Ireland on 9 June 1988 under registered number 132781. CEP is a member of the Citigroup group of companies, having as its ultimate parent Citigroup Inc., an US publicly quoted company.

The Company has agreed to both indemnify the Manager and exempt the Manager from liability in respect of all actions, proceedings and claims and against all costs, demands and expenses (including legal and professional expenses) arising therefrom in connection with the Manager's role and provision of its services, the appointment of service providers or the performance or non-performance of the relevant service provider's duties and/or any alleged untrue statement of material fact contained in the Prospectus (otherwise than due to the wilful misconduct, fraud, bad faith, or negligence in the performance by the Manager, its servants or agents of its obligations or functions under the Management Agreement). Further, the Manager shall not be under any liability to the Company or any investors in the Company for any act, omission or default of, the insolvency of, or for the performance or non-performance of any services whatsoever by CEP or other provider of transfer agency, registrar, valuation or other administration services to the Company from time to time appointed by the Manager.

The Administration Agreement also includes provisions pursuant to which the Company has agreed to both indemnify and exempt from liability CEP, members of its group, its delegates and its associates from losses, liabilities, damages or costs in connection with the appointment of the service provider or the performance or non-performance of its duties and/or any untrue statement of material fact contained in the Prospectus that is not due to a breach of the Administration Agreement by, or the negligence, wilful default, bad faith or fraud of, CEP, members of its group, its delegates or its associates. The Administration Agreement may be terminated by the Company or the Manager on giving not less than 3 months' notice in writing to the other parties, or by CEP on the occurrence of certain defined events.

Pursuant to the Administration Agreement, the Manager on behalf of the Company has appointed CEP to provide general administration, valuation, registrar, paying and transfer agency services either directly or through sub-service providers (as the case may be) with the prior written consent of the Manager, not to be unreasonably withheld. Further details of these services are provided below.

Investment Manager

The Investment Manager is authorised and regulated by the FCA in the conduct of its regulated activities in the United Kingdom. A member of the Man Group, the Investment Manager, along with other Man Group entities, provides access for private and institutional investors worldwide to alternative investment strategies through a range of innovative products and solutions designed to deliver long-term investment performance.

The Investment Manager may, in accordance with the requirements of the Central Bank, and subject to the section entitled "Conflicts of Interest", appoint a member of Man Group to purchase or sell or otherwise execute and/or clear transactions on behalf of the Company, and the Investment Manager, or any of its officers or affiliates may receive a charge from any member of Man Group or pay a charge to any such entity or charge the Company in respect of transactions executed and/or cleared on behalf of the Company. The fees of any entity appointed by the Investment Manager to purchase or sell or otherwise execute and/or clear transactions shall not be payable out of the assets of the Company.

Currently within the Investment Manager, the following people are designated as being responsible for oversight of management of the Company's assets:

Tim Wong is the Executive Chairman of AHL, which was formed through the merger of Man Group's two quantitative investing businesses in February 2013. Tim is also a member of the Man Executive Committee. Prior to this he was the CEO of AHL for 10 years. He joined AHL in 1991 as a research analyst, and later assumed overall responsibility for the day-to-day running of the research and investment management operations. Tim graduated from the University of Oxford in 1991 with a first class honours degree in Engineering Science. He subsequently gained an MSc in Statistics and Operational Research from London University. He is an associate of the UK Society of Investment Professionals.

Matthew Sargaïson is the Chief Investment Officer for AHL, with overall responsibility for sector-based research and portfolio management. He served as Chief Risk Officer between 2009 and 2012, prior to which he spent 13 years working at Deutsche Bank, Barclays Capital and UBS. Matthew originally worked for AHL from 1992 to 1995 as a trading system researcher and institutional product designer. Matthew gained his BA/MA in Mathematics from the University of Cambridge in 1991 and a Masters in Advanced Computer Science from the University of Sheffield.

In the event the Investment Manager designates replacements for Mr Wong or Mr Sargaïson, details of the replacements will be advised to the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority (FINMA). Relevant details will be updated at the next following revision to the Prospectus

ISDA Counterparties

The Company may effect derivatives transactions which are “over-the-counter” with counterparties. The Company will, from time to time, enter into a master agreement published by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. (each, an “ISDA Master Agreement”) with a counterparty (either directly or through an intermediary). The ISDA Master Agreement is individually negotiated between the Company (or an intermediary on behalf of the Company) and an over-the-counter derivatives counterparty and governs over-the-counter derivative transactions between the Company and such counterparty. The ISDA Master Agreement includes events of default, such as a failure to pay, a breach of the agreement and termination events (among others) and may include separately negotiated events of default and termination provisions in relation to the Company which differ from counterparty to counterparty. The ISDA Master Agreement will also govern each individual transaction entered into and confirmed between the parties and will regard all the transactions entered into pursuant to a particular ISDA Master Agreement as a single agreement. In the event of a default, typically the non-defaulting party will value the transactions and calculate the amount due on a netted basis and the netted amount may be paid either by the defaulting party to the non-defaulting party or by the non-defaulting party to the defaulting party. Generally there are set-off provisions which allow the derivative counterparty and its affiliates to set off all economic exposure among all agreements entered into between the Company and the derivatives counterparty and any of its affiliates. In the event of the insolvency of its counterparty, amounts due as a result of termination are unsecured and the Company may rank as an unsecured creditor in the recovery of such debt in any such insolvency proceedings.

Broker(s)

Brokers will be appointed pursuant to Broker Agreements. The Company may appoint a number of Brokers to provide clearing services in relation to its trading activities. Man Investments AG has been appointed as the Introducing Broker for the Company pursuant to the Introducing Broker Agreement. The Introducing Broker is responsible for recommending appropriate Brokers to the Company as well as managing these relationships, ensuring appropriate service levels and an adequate diversification of Brokers.

The Broker(s) will hold cash (for the purposes of margin only) on behalf of the Company in the Brokerage Account in connection with transactions contemplated pursuant to the Broker Agreement. Any such Broker will be an appropriately regulated entity.

Use of Dealing Commission

The Investment Manager utilises various brokers and dealers to execute securities transactions. Portfolio transactions for the fund are allocated to brokers and dealers on the basis of best execution (in accordance with the rules of the FCA) based on a number of factors, including commissions/price, the ability of brokers and dealers to effect the transactions, the brokers and dealers facilities, reliability and financial responsibility. The Investment Manager need not solicit competitive bids and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available commission cost. All such transactions will be undertaken in compliance with the rules of the FCA on inducements and the use of dealing commission. Accordingly, dealing commissions will be used only for the provision of execution or research services.

In addition, although soft dollars will be used for brokerage and research products and services within the Safe Harbor provided by Section 28 (e) of the US Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, soft dollars may be generated in transactions and pursuant to arrangements not falling within the Section 28 (e) Safe Harbor. Soft dollars generated through transactions other than agency transactions in securities and riskless principal transactions in securities (e.g. transactions in rights, options, warrants or certificates to the extent that they relate to shares and principal transactions involving securities that are not riskless principal transactions) do not fall within the Safe Harbor created by Section 28 (e) and may be used to obtain brokerage and research products and services.

Brokers sometimes suggest a level of business they would like to receive in return for the various products and services they provide. Actual brokerage business received by any broker may be less than the suggested allocation, but can (and often does) exceed the suggested level, because total brokerage is allocated on the basis of all of the considerations described above. A broker is not excluded from receiving business because it has not been identified as providing research services or products. Research products and services received from the Company's brokers may be used by the Investment Manager in servicing all of its accounts, and not all such research products and services need to be used in connection with the Company. Nonetheless the Investment Manager believes that such investment information provides the Company with benefits by supplementing the research otherwise available to the Company.

Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar

In accordance with the Administration Agreement, the Manager has appointed CEP on behalf of the Company as Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar. The Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar will perform certain general shareholder services including maintaining the register of investors of the Company and processing certain anti money laundering documents.

The register records the legal owner of the Shares (being the Shareholders or, in respect of Shares held in the Clearing Systems, The Bank of New York Mellon, London Branch (Depository) Nominees Limited as the Common Depository). The Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar also maintains (or will cause to be maintained) a register in which the Shareholders and the Direct Shareholders will be recorded.

The Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar may delegate its duties with the prior written consent of the Manager, not to be unreasonably withheld.

Valuations Service Provider

In accordance with the Administration Agreement, the Manager has appointed CEP on behalf of the Company as Valuations Service Provider to the Company. The Valuations Service Provider will perform certain valuation and accounting services for the Company. The Valuations Service Provider may delegate some of its duties with the prior written consent of the Manager, not to be unreasonably withheld.

The Valuations Service Provider is not responsible and will have no liability in connection with any trading decisions of the Company. The Valuations Service Provider will not provide any investment advisory or investment management services to the Company. The Valuations Service Provider will not be responsible for and will have no liability in connection with monitoring any investment restrictions or compliance with the investment restrictions.

In determining the Net Asset Value per Share, the Valuations Service Provider will follow the valuation policies and procedures adopted by the Company. The manner in which the services of the Valuations Service Provider will be performed by the Valuations Service Provider will be determined in accordance with the Articles of the Company and the Prospectus and the liability of the Valuations Service Provider will be determined in accordance with the Administration Agreement. For the purpose of calculating the Net Asset Value per Share, the Valuations Service Provider shall in certain circumstances, and shall be entitled to, rely on, and will not be responsible for and will have no liability in connection with the accuracy of, financial data furnished to it by various third parties which may include the Depository and/or the Investment Manager

Principal Paying Agency Services

In accordance with the Administration Agreement, the Manager has appointed CEP on behalf of the Company as Principal Paying Agent to the Company. The Principal Paying Agent will perform certain paying agency services for the Company. The Principal Paying Agent may delegate some of its duties with the prior written consent of the Manager, not to be unreasonably withheld.

The Depository

The Investment Manager as the Company's AIFM has, under the terms of the Depository Agreement, engaged Citibank International plc (the "Depository") acting through its Ireland branch, as depository of the Company's assets, which shall be responsible for the oversight of the Company.

The key duties of the Depository are to perform on behalf of the Company the depository duties referred to in Regulation 22 of the AIFM Regulations, essentially consisting of:

- (i) monitoring and verifying the Company's cash flows;
- (ii) safekeeping of the Investments, including inter alia verification of ownership;
- (iii) ensuring that the issue, redemption, cancellation and valuation of Shares are carried out in accordance with the Articles of Association and applicable law, rules and regulations;
- (iv) ensuring that in transactions involving Investments any consideration is remitted to the Company within the usual time limits;
- (v) ensuring that the Company's income is applied in accordance with the Articles of Association, applicable law, rules and regulations; and
- (vi) carrying out instructions from the Company or the Investment Manager unless they conflict with the Articles of Association or applicable law, rules and regulations.

Citibank International plc, acting through its Ireland branch, is the Depositary of the Company.

The Depositary shall act as depositary of the Investments and shall be responsible for the oversight of the Company to the extent required by and in accordance with applicable law, rules and regulations. The Depositary shall exercise the supervisory duties in accordance with applicable law, rules and regulations as well as the Depositary Agreement.

The Depositary is a public limited company incorporated with limited liability under the laws of England and Wales regulated by the Prudential Regulation Authority with address at 20 Moorgate, London EC2R 6DA, United Kingdom, and the Financial Conduct Authority, with address 25 North Colonnade, Canary Wharf, London E14 5HS, United Kingdom. The Depositary is also regulated by the Central Bank of Ireland. Those details are available at www.bankofengland.co.uk, www.fca.org.uk and www.centralbank.ie. The Depositary is a holder of a full BCD banking licence obtained from the then Financial Services Authority in the United Kingdom, which regulator has since been replaced by the aforementioned Prudential Regulation Authority and the Financial Conduct Authority. The Depositary's head office is at Citigroup Centre, Canada Square, Canary Wharf, London E14 5LB and conducts its principal business in Ireland from its office at 1, North Wall Quay, Dublin 1, Ireland. The principal activity of the Depositary is to provide trustee and custodial services to collective investment schemes and other portfolios, such as the Company.

Under the terms of the Depositary Agreement and in accordance with the AIFM Regulations, the Depositary has power to delegate certain of its depositary functions. The Depositary has entered into written agreements delegating the performance of its safekeeping function in respect of certain of the Investments to Citibank, N.A.. The liability of the Depositary will not be affected by the fact that it has entrusted to a third party certain of the Investments in its safekeeping. The Company or the Investment Manager will notify the Shareholders without delay where any liability has been discharged to a delegate. In order to discharge its responsibility in this regard, the Depositary must exercise due skill, care and diligence in the selection, continued appointment and ongoing monitoring of a third party as a safe-keeping agent so as to ensure that the third party has and maintains the expertise, competence and standing appropriate to discharge the responsibilities concerned; and maintain an appropriate level of supervision over the safe-keeping agent; and make appropriate inquiries from time to time to confirm that the obligations of the agent continue to be competently discharged.

The Depositary may, in the course of its business, have potential conflicts of interest where it delegates the safekeeping function to Citibank, N.A., as the Depositary and Citibank, N.A. are affiliates. When discharging its duties where conflicts of interest may arise, the Depositary will have regard to its obligations under the Depositary Agreement and applicable laws, in particular, to its obligations to act in the best interests of the Company and the Shareholders so far as practicable, and will ensure that such conflicts are resolved fairly. The Depositary may have a conflict of interest in the event that an error occurs at Citibank, N.A.. Should an error occur the Depositary will examine the issue and will take appropriate action to ensure that the Shareholders are treated appropriately, having regard to its obligations under the Depositary Agreement and applicable laws.

The Depositary Agreement provides that it will continue in force unless and until terminated by either party giving not less than 90 days' prior written notice to the other, although termination may be immediate in certain circumstances, such as the insolvency of the Depositary. Upon an (envisaged) removal or resignation of the Depositary, the Investment Manager as the Company's AIFM and the Company shall with due observance of the applicable requirements of the Central Bank, appoint a successor Depositary. The Depositary may not be replaced without the approval of the Central Bank.

The Depositary is liable to the Company or the Shareholders for all losses suffered by them as a result of the Depositary's negligent or intentional failure to properly fulfill its obligations. The Depositary Agreement contains indemnities in favour of the Depositary excluding matters arising by reason of its failure to satisfy its obligation of due skill, care and diligence, or by reason of its negligence, intentional failure or fraud.

The Depositary Agreement is governed by the laws of Ireland and the courts of Ireland shall have non-exclusive jurisdiction to hear any disputes or claims arising out of or in connection with the Depositary Agreement.

Conflicts of Interest

General Conflicts of Interest

There is a risk that conflicts of interest, as described in this Prospectus, may arise for the Directors, for the Man Group entities providing services to the Company, for the Depositary and for the entity/entities providing general shareholder, registrar, valuations and transfer agency services.

Transactions

Due to the widespread operations undertaken by the Manager, the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar, the Principal Paying Agent, the Valuations Service Provider, the Depositary, the Investment Manager, the Broker(s), the Marketing Adviser, the Directors and their respective holding companies (if any), subsidiaries and affiliates (each an 'Interested Party') conflicts of interest may arise. An Interested Party may acquire, hold or dispose of Investments notwithstanding that such Investments had been acquired or disposed of by or on behalf of the Company by virtue of a transaction effected by the Company in which the Interested Party was concerned provided that the acquisition by an Interested Party of such Investments is effected on normal commercial terms negotiated on an arm's length basis and the Investments held by the Company are acquired on the best terms reasonably obtainable having regard to the interests of the Company.

An Interested Party may transact with the Company as principal or as agent, provided that any such transactions are in the best interests of Shareholders and are carried out as if effected on normal commercial terms negotiated on an arm's length basis and in relation to which:

- (a) a certified valuation of the transaction by a person approved by the Depositary (or the Directors in the case of a transaction with the Depositary) as independent and competent is obtained; or
- (b) the transaction is executed on best terms on an organised investment exchange in accordance with the rules of such exchange; or
- (c) if (a) or (b) is not practical, the transaction is executed on terms which the Depositary (or the Directors in the case of a transaction with the Depositary) is satisfied are normal commercial terms negotiated at arm's length.

The above requirements shall not apply in relation to transactions entered into by the Company and the Broker acting as principal (save that any such transactions must be executed on terms which the Investment Manager is satisfied are on normal commercial terms). In the event that a conflict of interest does arise, the Directors and each Interested Party will endeavour, so far as they are able (in view of the frequency of trading and the importance of timely execution of trades) to ensure that it is resolved fairly.

Directors

The Directors may have conflicts of interests, principally arising from their roles within various service providers to the Company which are set out in more detail in the Section entitled "Statutory and general information", and from their role as directors of other collective investment vehicles. The Directors will have regard to their obligations to act in the best interests of the Company in managing these conflicts.

Fees & Expenses

As the fees of the Investment Manager are based on the Net Asset Value of the Company, if the Net Asset Value of the Company increases, then so too do the fees of the Investment Manager. Accordingly, there is a conflict of interest where the Investment Manager has been appointed as a competent person in accordance with the Articles and this Prospectus, for the purposes of determining, when required, the fair value of certain of the Company's Investments referred to in the "Investment objective and policies" section of this Prospectus.

Man Group entities and affiliates

Each of the Manager, the Investment Manager, the Marketing Adviser, the other members or affiliates of the Man Group from time to time and their respective officers, employees and affiliates (the "Man Group entities and affiliates") may undertake financial, investment or professional activities which give rise to conflicts of interest between (a) the Company and (b) either such Man Group entities or affiliates or another client of them ("Man Conflicts").

The Investment Manager has policies and processes which are designed to prevent market abuse.

Where there is a material risk of damage to the Company arising from any Man Conflict, this conflict will be managed by the Man Group entities and affiliates in accordance with the conflict of interest policy that has been adopted by the relevant Man Group entity or affiliate in order to prevent the conflict from adversely affecting the interests of the Company so far as it is practicable having regard to their obligations to other clients. Where it cannot be managed it will be disclosed to the Company. In many cases, approval by the Company of arrangements with the Man Group entities and/or affiliates will be the primary mechanism of managing potential Man Group Conflicts.

Examples of potential Man Conflicts include the following:

Service provision: Man Investments AG, in its role as the Marketing Adviser providing structuring services, or as the Introducing Broker, may propose that the Company enter into agreements with Man Investments AG, affiliated entities or third parties with which Man Investments AG or its affiliates have a broader commercial relationship for the provision of various services, including in respect of financing arrangements, and brokerage services in respect of which they may receive fees, spreads and other compensation. The final decision as to which service provider is chosen is made by the Directors.

Competitor products: The Investment Manager and/or its affiliates provide and may in the future provide investment management, investment advice or other services in relation to separate competitor investment products or managed accounts. These competitor vehicles may have investment policies similar to those of the Company or entities through which they make investment allocations and the Investment Manager may be compensated in a different manner in respect of those vehicles. The Investment Manager will follow procedures designed to ensure an appropriate allocation of available investment opportunities among the Company and competitor vehicles.

Proprietary investment activities: Any of the Man Group entities and/or affiliates may buy, hold and redeem Shares in the Company in the normal course of their business and may on occasions hold a significant percentage of the Shares. They may also enter into transactions as principal with the Company.

Shareholder, registrar, valuations and transfer agency services

The Manager and other members of the Man Group have selected and appointed CEP and its affiliates to also provide similar services to a number of other funds, investment companies and other clients of the Manager or other members of the Man Group. The fees payable by the Manager or other members of the Man Group to the relevant service providers in respect of the services provided to the Company may not directly correlate to the fees paid to the Manager by the Company. Further, the Manager or another member of the Man Group may, pursuant to their appointment as a manager to another fund, investment company or other client, in relation to processing claims by that other client, act as a claims manager for that other client in connection with claims against the relevant service providers appointed by the Company. Neither the Manager nor any other member of the Man Group shall be restricted from acting in a manner that is, or may be, contrary to the interests of the Company in processing claims. The Manager or other member of the Man Group shall also not be required to inform the Company of the actions that it has taken when acting as manager for another fund, investment company or client.

CEP as well as its respective officers, employees and affiliates may from time to time provide other services to the Man Group and/or its affiliates and/or be involved in other financial, investment or professional activities which may on occasion give rise to conflicts of interest with the Company or members of the Man Group or which may conflict with the investment objectives and policies being pursued at any time and/or which may give rise to conflicts of interest in relation to CEP and other members or affiliates of CEP.

The Depositary

Citibank International plc, Ireland branch and its respective officers, employees and affiliates may from time to time provide other services to the Man Group or its affiliates and/or be involved in other financial, investment or professional activities which may on occasion give rise to conflicts of interest with the Company or members of the Man Group or which may conflict with the investment objectives and policies being pursued at any time and/or which may give rise to conflicts of interest in relation to the Depositary and other members or affiliates of Citibank International plc, Ireland branch.

The Investment Manager has policies and procedures in place to monitor the conflicts of interest that may arise in the context of the Company or the Investment Manager's delegation of certain of its functions. To the extent any actual conflicts of interest are determined to have arisen, the Company or the Investment Manager will effectively manage such conflicts to minimise any potential impact on the investment performance, and will also seek to prevent them from reoccurring. Certain activities may be required to be modified or terminated to minimise conflicts of interest which may be identified from time to time.

Reporting

The Company's accounting period will end each year on the last Monday in June. The Company will prepare an annual report and audited annual accounts, a copy of which will be available to Shareholders four months after the end of the financial period to which it relates. A copy of the unaudited semi-annual reports (made up to the last Monday in December) will also be available to Shareholders two months after the end of the half-year period to which it relates. The Company's annual report and audited annual accounts and the unaudited semi-annual reports will be available to be downloaded from www.man.com. Copies of these reports will also be furnished to Shareholders upon request. For financial periods beginning on or after 1 July 2014, annual reports, audited annual accounts and unaudited semi-annual reports will be prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards written and published by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB), as implemented in Ireland. Annual reports, audited annual accounts and unaudited semi-annual reports relating to prior financial periods are prepared in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Practice in Ireland, comprising applicable law and accounting standards issued by the Accounting Standards Board and promulgated by the Institute of Chartered Accounts in Ireland.

The following information will be made available to Shareholders as part of the Company's periodic reporting process (but will not be in audited form unless required under the Irish Companies Acts and relevant regulations):

- (i) the percentage of the Company's assets which are subject to special arrangements arising from their illiquid nature;
- (ii) the current risk profile of the Company and the risk management systems employed by the Investment Manager to manage those risks; and
- (iii) the total amount of leverage employed by the Company.

The above information will be provided to Shareholders at the same time as the annual report produced in the Company's periodic reporting cycle.

Shareholders will also be provided with information regarding changes to (i) the maximum level of leverage which the Manager may employ on behalf of the Company; or (ii) the rights for reuse of collateral or any guarantee granted under the Company's leveraging arrangements; or (iii) any guarantee granted under the Company's leveraging arrangements.

This information will be made available to Shareholders, without undue delay following the occurrence of that change, by way of update to this Prospectus. Where required, such change will be preceded by notification to Shareholders.

It is intended that Shareholders will be notified if the Company activates gates or similar arrangements or if the Manager decides to suspend redemptions. Shareholders will also be notified whenever the Manager makes material changes to liquidity risk management systems and procedures employed in respect of the Company.

Subscription Prices and Redemption Prices will be published on a weekly basis in data services such as Bloomberg, Reuters, Standard & Poor's and Telekurs.

Man Group also provides access to valuations via its website www.man.com.

Meetings

Shareholders will be entitled to attend and vote at general meetings of the Company. The annual general meeting of the Company will be held in Ireland normally within six months after the end of each financial year. Notices concerning each annual general meeting will be sent to Shareholders, together with a copy of the annual accounts and reports, not less than 21 days before the date fixed for the meeting.

Offer, valuation, subscription and redemption

The offer

The Company is offering Participating Shares to investors on a weekly basis on each Dealing Day (save during any period when the calculation of the Net Asset Value is suspended). The Subscription Price shall be ascertained by:

- (a) determining the Net Asset Value calculated as at the Valuation Point immediately preceding the applicable Dealing Day;
- (b) dividing the amount calculated under (a) above by the number of Participating Shares in issue or deemed to be in issue at the relevant Valuation Point; and
- (c) deducting therefrom such amount as may be necessary to amend the resulting amount down to the nearest cent. Under the Articles, the Directors are given authority to effect the issue of Participating Shares and have absolute discretion to accept or reject in whole or in part any Application. In the event of the Directors rejecting an Application, the application monies (or relevant part thereof) will be returned, as soon as practicable after such rejection, via bank transfer to the Applicant without interest and at the Applicant's risk and expense. All Participating Shares will rank pari passu.

Minimum Subscription, Applications and settlements

The initial Minimum Subscription per Applicant is USD 30,000. All subscriptions for Participating Shares must be made in US dollars. A Shareholder may increase its holding of Participating Shares in increments of not less than USD 10,000. Hong Kong Investors must subscribe for a minimum subscription of USD 65,000. Saudi Arabian Investors must subscribe for a minimum subscription USD value equivalent to SAR 1,000,000.

Subscription for Participating Shares must be made by application through the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar. Applicants may only apply for Participating Shares using an Application Form, which may be obtained from the Company. Application Forms must be received by the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar no later than the Application Closing Date. Subscription monies should be sent by inter-bank transfer to the Subscription Account (for details of banking instructions see the Application Form) and cleared funds must be received on the third Business Day prior to the relevant Dealing Day. The Company shall not issue Shares, or if issued shall cancel such Shares, if the payment for Shares is not made within a reasonable time, as determined by the Directors or as specified above. Alternatively, Applications may be made by fax to the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar at the fax number shown in the section entitled 'Names and addresses' providing the details (including the Anti-Money Laundering Documents) requested in the relevant Application Form. Applicants must promptly mail the relevant original Application Form (and Anti-Money Laundering Documents) duly completed and signed by or on behalf of the Applicant to the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar who has been appointed to process Applications. Subsequent applications for Shares may also be submitted to the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar by facsimile or by any other form of electronic communication agreed in advance with the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar, provided that all on-going anti-money laundering checks are complete. However, any amendments to an investor's registration details and payment instructions will only be effected on receipt of original documents. Shareholders will not be entitled to payment of any Redemption Proceeds (pursuant to a request for redemption) until the original Application Form (and Anti-Money Laundering Documents) has been received by the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar.

The Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar will not require an original executed version of any subsequent Application Form in respect of any application for additional Shares and, in such circumstances, will regard an Application Form sent by facsimile or by any other form of electronic communication as authentic and conclusive, provided that the Applicant has agreed to indemnify the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar in connection with such subsequent Application Form sent by facsimile or by any other form of electronic communication and has provided their relevant bank account information in relation to the account which the redemption proceeds should be credited to as part of its original executed and delivered initial Application Form (as described in the previous paragraph). The Applicant will also always be under the obligation to promptly mail the duly completed and signed Anti-money Laundering Documents to the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar.

Application Forms that are not duly completed may, at the Directors' absolute discretion, be rejected. The Directors may, in their absolute discretion, reject any Application without giving any reason or approve the issue to the Applicant of less Participating Shares than the number comprising the Application. In such event, the Applicant's subscription monies, or any balance thereof, as appropriate, will be returned to the Applicant via bank transfer without interest and at the Applicant's risk.

Any Application Forms received after the relevant Application Closing Date will not (unless received prior to the Valuation Point and the Directors agree otherwise) be accepted for subscription on the Dealing Day immediately following that Application Closing Date (the 'Missed Dealing Day') but will (unless the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar receives instructions in writing to the contrary from the Applicant at least two Business Days prior to the next Dealing Day after the Missed Dealing Day) be held over until, and shall be deemed to be for subscription on, the next Dealing Day after the Missed Dealing Day.

Applicants wishing to have their Participating Shares credited to their account with Euroclear or Clearstream should specify all the details of such account in their Application Form. Applicants who do not have an account with Euroclear or Clearstream should note the nominee account facilities referred to in the Application Form.

Participating Shares will only be issued in inscribed form (that is, no certificate will be issued other than the Global Share Certificate (as defined in paragraph 7 of the section entitled 'Statutory and general information')) but a contract note will be issued by the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar (or its duly appointed delegate) to each Applicant who is issued Shares confirming, among other things, the number of Participating Shares that have been issued to that Applicant, the Subscription Price for those Participating Shares, the Applicant's ownership of those Participating Shares and the noting of the Applicant's ownership of those Participating Shares in the Company's register of Shareholders. The Directors consider that an advantage of this, apart from avoiding the inconvenience of lost or damaged certificates, is that Shareholders will be able to redeem Participating Shares by sending the Redemption Notice by fax to the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar subject to the original Redemption Notice having been received by the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar prior to the payment of Redemption Proceeds. A contract note will be issued to each Shareholder confirming allocation after the Net Asset Value per Share for the relevant Dealing Day has been determined. Once completed Application Forms have been received and accepted by the Company they are irrevocable (unless in any particular instance the Directors shall determine otherwise).

Notwithstanding anything else in this Prospectus, where a Shareholder has approval from the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar and has previously completed a full Application Form and submitted all applicable Anti-money Laundering Documents, the Shareholder may increase its holding of Participating Shares without having to complete a full Application Form.

By providing an e-mail address on an Application Form (the 'Authorised E-mail Address'), an Applicant will agree that the Company, any member of the Man Group from time to time and/or any other service provider and their affiliates (including, without limitation the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar) and/or the Applicant's account executive (the 'Data Recipients') may contact the Applicant by email (which is a non-secure medium) at the Authorised E-mail Address in connection with any of the following: (a) requesting further documentation or information from the Applicant relating to the investment products in which the Applicant has an investment (the 'Investments'); and (b) providing the Applicant with trading advisory reports, performance reports, contract notes and ancillary or generic information relating to Investments. The Applicant will be required to acknowledge that all electronic correspondence between the Applicant, the Company, the Man Group and/or any other Data Recipient shall be governed by the relevant standard terms and conditions, a copy of which is available upon request.

By signing an Application Form, prospective investors will (a) confirm that they have read the Prospectus and the Application Form and that they agree that any personal data provided by them to the Company in the Application Form and any other personal data furnished in connection with their investment in the Company (the "Personal Data") may be disclosed to any Man Group entities and/or affiliates, the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar and/or any other service providers and their affiliated and non-affiliated sub-delegates (the "Data Processors") and may be used for the purposes of processing the Application Form, the administration of their investment in the Company to include the storage and maintenance of shareholders' registers and related activities; the prevention of money laundering, financing of terrorism or fraud; informing the Applicant about their investment in the Company (including information of a confidential nature); statistical analysis and market research; compliance with any legal and regulatory obligations (including statutory reporting obligations to the Central Bank, the Irish Revenue Commissioners or other relevant regulators); and (unless otherwise indicated by Applicants on their Application Form) direct marketing of services that any Data Processor thinks may be of interest to the Applicant (all the "Data Purposes"); (b) consent to the processing of the Applicant's Personal Data, including the transfer of the Personal Data, to jurisdictions outside the EEA that may not have data protection laws or have data protection laws that do not provide the same level of protection as EU data protection law (such transfer will only be carried out for the Data Purposes described above or as otherwise required by law or regulation, and in accordance with applicable data protection legislation); (c) recognise that they have the right to require corrections to, and receive a copy of, the Personal Data and that a fee may be charged to them for any such copy; and (d) consent to their Personal Data being processed by the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar (as Data Processor on behalf of the Company) in accordance with the Data Protection Acts 1988 to 2003. The Applicant's Personal Data will be processed for the purposes of carrying out the services of the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar of the Company and for the Data Purposes described above or as otherwise required by law or regulation, and in accordance with applicable data protection legislation. The Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar or the Company will disclose the Applicant's information to third parties where necessary as set out in this paragraph. This may include disclosure to third parties such as auditors, the Irish Revenue Commissioners, the Central Bank or other regulators or agents and service providers of the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar who may process the Personal Data for the Data Purposes described above.

Subscription monies must be remitted by SWIFT MT103 using the relevant bank instruction letter provided with the relevant Application Form. Subscription monies must not be sent by personal cheque or bank draft. At the Directors' absolute discretion, payments may be accepted in forms of consideration other than cash.

By signing the Application Form, an Applicant will certify, represent, warrant and agree that he/she/it is not a US Person for the purposes of US Federal income tax or that the Shares applied for are not being acquired directly or indirectly by or on behalf of, or for the account of a US Person. An Applicant will further certify, represent, warrant and agree that the Applicant will notify the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar or the Company (as the case may be) in the event that either the Applicant becomes a US Person or holds the Shares on behalf of, or for the account or benefit of, a US Person. A false statement or misrepresentation of tax status by a US Person could lead to penalties under US law. If an Applicant's tax status changes and it becomes a US citizen or a resident, it must notify the relevant party as mentioned above within 30 days.

Subscription Account

The Subscription Account has been opened by the Company with Citibank N.A. – London Branch. Any monies received from an Applicant and credited to the Subscription Account shall be held in escrow for the benefit of that Applicant pending the allocation of any Participating Shares to that Applicant. No interest shall be credited to Applicants on monies paid into the Subscription Account. Upon the issue of any Participating Shares to an Applicant all monies standing to the credit of the Subscription Account and which were subscribed in respect of those Participating Shares shall belong to the Company absolutely. If an Application is accepted by the Company, the Company will issue (subject to the conditions contained in this Prospectus) 'N' Participating Shares to the Applicant. For the purposes of this paragraph, 'N' is the number of Shares (rounding down to the nearest whole number) calculated by dividing the amount of the subscription monies received into the Subscription Account in respect of the relevant Application by the applicable Subscription Price. If the amount of the relevant subscription monies is not an exact multiple of the Subscription Price, the excess subscription monies (the amount of which will in all cases be less than the Subscription Price) shall be retained by the Company, being Man AHL Diversified plc.

Calculation of Net Asset Value

The Net Asset Value is expressed in US dollars. The calculation of the Net Asset Value and the Net Asset Value per Share is the responsibility of the Valuations Service Provider and is to be effected weekly in accordance with the requirements of the Articles and this Prospectus. Further information is set out in the section entitled 'Statutory and general information'. The Net Asset Value and the Net Asset Value per Share will, upon calculation, be notified without delay by the Valuations Service Provider to the Irish Stock Exchange.

Redemption of Participating Shares

Every Shareholder has the right to require the Company to redeem its Participating Shares on a Dealing Day (save during any period when the calculation of the Net Asset Value is temporarily suspended). The Minimum Redemption is 50 Participating Shares.

The Redemption Price shall be ascertained by:

- (a) determining the Net Asset Value calculated as at the Valuation Point immediately preceding the relevant Dealing Day;
- (b) dividing the amount calculated under (a) above by the number of Participating Shares then in issue or deemed to be in issue at the relevant Valuation Point; and
- (c) deducting therefrom such amount as may be necessary to round the resulting amount down to the nearest cent, and subject to the deduction of a sliding scale fee during the first six years after the issue date of the Shares (see the section entitled 'Redemption fee').

The Company is under no obligation to pay any Redemption Proceeds until (i) the original Application Form and Anti-money Laundering Documents have been received by the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar; and (ii) if the Redemption Notice was sent by fax to the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar, the original of that Redemption Notice has been received by the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar.

Redemption procedures for Beneficial Shareholders

Participating Shares may be redeemed by the service (whether by fax or other form of electronic communication of a Redemption Notice by a Shareholder on the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar. Any Redemption Notice must be received by the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar, at the latest, by 10:00 am (Irish time) three Business Days prior to the Dealing Day upon which the Beneficial Shareholder requires the redemption to be effected.

Any Redemption Notice received after this time will be treated as a request for redemption on the Dealing Day after the next following Dealing Day (or such later Dealing Day as may be specified in the Redemption Notice). Redemptions must be for a number of Participating Shares equal to, or greater than, the Minimum Redemption and must not (unless all of the Shareholder's Participating Shares are being redeemed) result in the Shareholder holding a number of Participating Shares less than the Minimum Holding.

Certain limits on the level of redemptions permitted as of any Dealing Day may apply (see section entitled 'Temporary suspension/postponements'). Subject to those limits, redemptions will be effected except in the event that, inter alia, the calculation of the Net Asset Value has been suspended (also see section entitled 'Temporary suspension/postponements').

Unless otherwise requested in writing by a Beneficial Shareholder, any payment due to that Beneficial Shareholder in respect of a redemption of any of its Participating Shares shall be effected in US dollars, at that Shareholder's expense and risk. However, any bank wire charges taken by the Company's bank associated with the payment of Redemption Proceeds to investors will be borne by the Company rather than by the redeeming Shareholder. Upon receipt of the Beneficial Shareholder's original Redemption Notice, such payment will be made by the Company by bank to bank SWIFT transfer in accordance with the SWIFT banking instructions provided by that Shareholder to the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar (or, in the case of a joint holding, the first named Shareholder). Shareholders are requested to provide such SWIFT banking instructions to the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar with their Redemption Notice. Monies will be withheld until the Beneficial Shareholder's original Redemption Notice and SWIFT banking instructions are provided to the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds will be made as soon as reasonably practicable following registration by the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar in the Company's register of Shareholders of the redemption or transfer (as the case may be) to which such payment relates, which will usually be five Business Days following the calculation of the Net Asset Value as at the relevant Valuation Point.

Redemption procedures for Direct Shareholders

Direct Shareholders may give their Redemption Notice to the relevant Clearing System (in accordance with the applicable rules for that Clearing System), at the latest, by 9:00 am (Irish time) three Business Days prior to the Dealing Day upon which the Direct Shareholder requires the redemption to be effected. Any Redemption Notice received after the above specified time will be treated as a request for redemption on the Dealing Day after the next following Dealing Day (or such later Dealing Day as may be specified in the Redemption Notice). The Clearing System account administrator should be requested to quote the Direct Shareholder's application number when issuing its instruction into the Clearing System. That application number will be quoted on the contract note for the Shareholder's Participating Shares. In order for the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar to provide the best service possible, Direct Shareholders should also inform the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar of any transfer or redemption.

The relevant Clearing System will, within 24 hours after receipt of such a Redemption Notice, notify the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar of the details of such Redemption Notice.

Payment of Redemption Proceeds will usually be made within five Business Days after the relevant Dealing Day via the Principal Paying Agent to the Clearing System which will credit the relevant clearing account accordingly. Such procedures shall be effected in accordance with the usual operating rules and procedures of Euroclear and/or Clearstream (as applicable). Payment of Redemption Proceeds will be at such Direct Shareholder's expense and risk, provided that any bank wire charges taken by the Company's bank associated with the payment of Redemption Proceeds to investors will be borne by the Company rather than by the redeeming Shareholder.

In relation to any redemption notice sent by fax or any other form of electronic communication, the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar will not require an original executed version of the redemption notice to be sent as described in the previous paragraph, provided that the redeeming Shareholder has agreed to indemnify the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar in connection with such redemption notices sent by facsimile or by any other form of electronic communication and has provided their relevant bank account information in relation to the account which the redemption proceeds should be credited to as part of its original executed and delivered initial Application Form.

Cancellation of redemptions

Shareholders are not entitled to withdraw a Redemption Notice unless the Directors otherwise determine or unless a suspension of dealings and/or calculations has been declared as per the terms of this Prospectus. Following receipt of a Redemption Notice the relevant Shares will be blocked in the applicable clearing account pending payment of the Redemption Proceeds.

Compulsory redemption

The Directors may redeem Participating Shares compulsorily if:

- (a) they become aware or believe that such Participating Shares are held, or are beneficially owned, by a person who is not a Qualified Holder;
- (b) they become aware or believe that such Participating Shares expose the Company to adverse tax or regulatory consequences; or
- (c) a Shareholder (or the ultimate beneficial holder of the Shares held by a Shareholder) fails to disclose its identity to the reasonable satisfaction of the Directors.

Redemption fee

Costs of advertising the Participating Shares and certain marketing expenses are payable by the Marketing Adviser and are not borne by the Company. In case of Participating Shares being redeemed before they have been in issue for the periods shown below, the Company will deduct from the Redemption Price a redemption fee which will, in turn, be paid by the Company to the Marketing Adviser primarily to compensate it for the costs of marketing, as follows.

For each Participating Share redeemed on a Dealing Day	Redemption fee
During the first two years after the issue of that Participating Share	3% of Net Asset Value per Share
During the third or fourth years after the issue of that Participating Share	2% of Net Asset Value per Share
During the fifth or sixth years after the issue of that Participating Share	1% of Net Asset Value per Share

There will be no redemption fee imposed on Participating Shares which are redeemed after they have been in issue for six years.

Total redemption/winding up

All of the Participating Shares shall be redeemed if:

- (a) the holders of 75% in value of the issued shares of the Company carrying voting rights at general meetings of the Company approve of the redemption at a general meeting of which not more than 12 and not less than four weeks' notice has been given;
- (b) at any time, the aggregate of the Net Asset Value on each of three successive Valuation Points is less than USD 3,000,000 and provided that notice of not less than four and not more than 12 weeks has been given to the Shareholders within four weeks after the third relevant Valuation Point.

All of the Participating Shares may, at the Directors' discretion, be redeemed if the Depositary has served notice of its intention to retire under the terms of the Depositary Agreement (and has not revoked such notice) and no new Depositary has been formally approved and appointed within six months after the date of service of such notice.

On a winding up of the Company the assets available for distribution (after satisfaction of creditors) shall be distributed firstly to the holders of Subscriber Shares to the extent of their nominal value up to the nominal amount paid thereon and secondly to the Shareholders in respect of the remaining assets of the Company in proportion to the number of Participating Shares held.

Transfers

Direct Shareholders

Transfers between Direct Shareholders within Euroclear and Clearstream will be in accordance with the usual rules and operating procedures of the relevant Clearing System. So as to ensure they are properly recorded as Shareholders on the Company's register of Shareholders maintained by the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar and that they receive communications (including monthly investment management reports), transferees should inform the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar accordingly and provide the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar with reasonable proof of ownership of Shares.

A transfer from a Direct Shareholder to a Beneficial Shareholder must be accompanied by a completed 'Transfer request form' of Man Group (available from the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar) and signed for and on behalf of the transferor and the transferee. Neither Euroclear nor Clearstream shall be responsible for monitoring or controlling such transfer restrictions nor will either Clearing System be responsible for monitoring ownership restrictions as referred to under the definition 'Qualified Holder'.

Beneficial Shareholders

Beneficial Shareholders are entitled to transfer Shares to anyone who is a Qualified Holder by completion of the 'Transfer request form' of Man Group (available from the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar) and signed for and on behalf of the transferor and the transferee.

The Directors may decline to register a transfer until (i) the original 'Transfer request form' and Anti-money Laundering Documents have been received by the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar; and (ii) if the 'Transfer request form' was sent by fax, the original of that 'Transfer request form' has been received by the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar. The Directors shall decline to register any transfer of a Participating Share where they are aware or believe that such transfer would or might result in the beneficial ownership of such Participating Shares by a person who is not a Qualified Holder or might expose the Company to adverse tax or regulatory consequences.

Temporary suspension/postponements

The Company may temporarily suspend the determination of the Net Asset Value, the determination of the Net Asset Value per Share and the subscription and redemption of Participating Shares:

- (a) during the whole or any part of any period when any of the principal markets on which any significant portion of the Investments of the Company from time to time are quoted, listed, traded or dealt in is closed (otherwise than for customary weekend or ordinary holidays) or during which dealings therein are restricted or suspended or trading on any relevant futures exchange or market is restricted or suspended;
- (b) during the whole or any part of any period when, as a result of political, economic, military or monetary events or any other circumstances outside the control, responsibility and power of the Directors, any disposal or valuation of Investments of the Company is not, in the opinion of the Directors, reasonably practicable without this being seriously detrimental to the interests of owners of Participating Shares or if, in the opinion of the Directors, the Net Asset Value cannot fairly be calculated or such disposal would be materially prejudicial to the owners of Participating Shares;
- (c) if any breakdown arises with respect to the means of communication normally employed to determine the value of the Investments, or if the value of the Investments or other assets of the Company cannot otherwise reasonably be determined; or
- (d) if, owing to exchange controls or restrictions on other asset transfers, the Company can no longer transact its business.

If total requests for redemptions on any Dealing Day exceed 20% of the total number of Participating Shares in issue, each redemption request may, if in the sole discretion of the Directors acting in good faith it is believed to be necessary or desirable in order not to prejudice the interests of the Shareholders not requesting redemption or on grounds of liquidity or other like reason, be reduced 'pro rata'. Any redemption request so reduced shall be effected in priority to subsequent redemption requests on the following Dealing Day, subject always to the foregoing provisions. Direct Shareholders would have to re-submit Redemption Notices in accordance with the rules and procedures of the relevant Clearing System.

In the event of any suspension as set out above, the Company will immediately (and in any event during the Business Day on which the suspension occurs) notify the Central Bank and the Irish Stock Exchange.

Fees and expenses

General

All fees and expenses relating to the establishment and launch of the Company have been amortised. The Company is responsible for VAT (if any) payable on any fees and expenses payable by it.

Management fees

The fees payable to the Manager are calculated and paid quarterly in arrears. They are based on the following sliding scale and are calculated by reference to the Net Asset Value at the last Valuation Point in each quarter (being the last Valuation Point in March, June, September and December):

Amount of the Net Asset Value to which the fee will be applied (USD)	Fee
0-50,000,000.00	The sum of: (a) USD 12,500; and (b) one-quarter of 0.30% of the Net Asset Value at that Valuation Point.
50,000,000.01 - 100,000,000.00	An amount equal to one-quarter of 0.20% of the Net Asset Value at that Valuation Point.
100,000,000.01 - 249,999,999.99	An amount equal to one-quarter of 0.125% of the Net Asset Value at that Valuation Point.
250,000,000.00 - 499,999,999.99	An amount equal to one-quarter of 0.10% of the Net Asset Value at that Valuation Point.
500,000,000.00 or more	An amount equal to one-quarter of 0.05% of the Net Asset Value at that Valuation Point.

By way of illustration, if the Net Asset Value at the last Valuation Point of a quarter was USD 150 million the fees described above would comprise USD 50,000 (USD 12,500 and USD 37,500) in respect of the first USD 50 million, USD 25,000 for the portion of the Net Asset Value over USD 50 million and up to and including USD 100 million and USD 15,625 in respect of the remaining amount of the Net Asset Value.

Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar fees

The Company shall pay to the Manager the following transaction fees in consideration for the services provided by the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar, calculated and paid quarterly in arrears:

- (a) a fee of USD 75 per new investor account; plus
- (b) a transaction fee of USD 50 per Shareholder transaction; plus
- (c) an annual Shareholder maintenance fee of USD 25 per Shareholder account (subject to a minimum charge of USD 10,000); plus
- (d) an annual product complexity fee of USD 10 per investor account (subject to a minimum charge of USD 10,000).

The sum of fees (a) to (d) shall be subject to an annual cap of 20 basis points of Net Asset Value.

The Manager shall also be entitled to be reimbursed all reasonable and vouched expenses incurred in the performance of its duties under the Management Agreement (including those expenses incurred by third party service providers such as the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar).

Principal Paying Agent fees

The Company shall pay to the Manager the following transaction fees in consideration for the services provided by the Principal Paying Agent, calculated and paid quarterly in arrears:

- (a) USD 3,500 per annum as an annual administration fee; and
- (b) an amount equal to 0.05% per annum on the nominal value of the securities held by the Principal Paying Agent for Beneficial Shareholders subject to a minimum annual fee of USD 2,500 per annum plus out-of-pocket expenses.

Any such fees paid will be disclosed in the annual and semi-annual report and accounts of the Company for the period to which they relate.

The Manager is solely responsible for the payment of fees to the Shareholder Services Provider and Registrar, the Valuations Service Provider and the Principal Paying Agent and the Company will have no liability for such fees.

The Swiss Paying Agent has been appointed as the Swiss paying agent for the Company pursuant to the Swiss Paying Agency Agreement at a cost of CHF 5,000 per annum to the Company.

Investment Manager's fees

The following fees are payable by the Company under the Investment Management Agreement:

- (a) an investment management fee (calculated weekly and payable monthly) equal to one-fifty second ($1/52$) of 3% (approximately 3% per annum) of the Net Asset Value at each Valuation Point; and
- (b) a performance fee (calculated weekly and payable monthly) equal to 20% of the Net New Profits (if any), as determined on each Valuation Point.

For the purposes hereof, 'Net New Profits' means E multiplied by N where:

E is the excess of:

- (a) the Net Asset Value per Share at the relevant Valuation Point (after deducting investment management fees and performance fees for the period in respect of which the performance fee is calculated); over
- (b) the highest Net Asset Value per Share at any preceding Valuation Point or (if higher) US$100.

N is the number of Participating Shares in issue at the relevant Valuation Point.

The Depositary shall verify the calculation and accrual of the performance fee.

The maximum annual fee charged by the Manager and the Investment Manager and disclosed in the Investment Management Agreement shall not be increased without approval on the basis of a majority of votes cast at a general meeting of Shareholders of the Company. In the event of an increase in the maximum annual fee disclosed in the Investment Management Agreement, a reasonable notification period shall be provided by the Company to enable Shareholders to redeem their Shares prior to the implementation of the increase. In circumstances where the fees payable to the Manager and/or the Investment Manager are increased, but remain below the maximum annual fee, Shareholders will be provided with advance notification of such fee increase, but shareholder approval to such an increase shall not be sought.

Third party costs

To the extent that the Manager delegates any of its duties to a third party, the charges of such party (other than out-of-pocket expenses) shall be for the account of the Manager and shall be paid by the Manager from the fees it receives from the Company.

Depositary fees

The Depositary shall be entitled to receive as remuneration for its services to the Company 0.02% per annum of the Net Asset Value at the last Valuation Point in each month. In addition to such fee, the Depositary shall also be entitled to be reimbursed all reasonable expenses incurred by it in the exercise of its duties in connection with the Depositary Agreement. Such reimbursement of reasonable expenses shall be payable out of the assets of the Company. Any sub-Depositary fees incurred shall be paid out of the assets of the Company provided that such fees are at normal commercial rates. The remuneration which the Depositary shall be entitled to receive as remuneration for its services to the Company may be increased up to 0.03% per annum of the Net Asset Value at the last Valuation Point in each month without prior notification to Shareholders.

Brokerage

The Company bears all costs of trading transactions and interest on borrowing. Brokerage fees will be charged by the Introducing Broker and the Broker(s) at their institutional rates plus an amount calculated weekly and payable monthly equal to one-fifty second of 1% of the Net Asset Value at each Valuation Point. The institutional rates vary with the contract and the market on which the contract is traded. The rates comprise two elements:

- (a) actual costs incurred in executing a trade such as floor brokerage, exchange-clearing, execution fees and related expenses; and
- (b) a clearing fee, charged at market rates, levied by the Broker.

The fees of any additional Broker appointed by the Company will not exceed the rates set out above.

Directors' fees

The Directors are entitled to receive a fee and remuneration for their services at a rate to be determined from time to time by the Directors. The aggregate level of fees paid to the Directors in each financial year will be disclosed in the annual report and audited annual accounts relating to such period. The Directors may also be paid, inter alia, for travelling, hotel and other expenses properly incurred by them in attending meetings of the Directors or in connection with the business of the Company.

Operational expenses

The Company will also pay out of its assets:

- (a) any fees in respect of circulating details of the Net Asset Value and/or the Net Asset Value per Share (including publishing prices);
- (b) stamp duties;

- (d) the Company secretarial fees;
- (e) rating fees (if any);
- (f) brokerage or other expenses of acquiring and disposing of Investments;
- (g) the Central Bank's industry funding levy;
- (h) fees and expenses of the Auditors, tax, legal and other professional advisers of the Company;
- (i) fees connected with the listing of Participating Shares on any stock exchange;
- (j) fees and expenses in connection with the distribution of Participating Shares and costs of registration of the Company and the Participating Shares in jurisdictions outside Ireland (a portion of these fees and expenses may be received by Man Group or its affiliates);
- (k) costs of preparing, printing and distributing the Prospectus and supplements, reports, accounts and any explanatory memoranda;
- (l) any necessary translation fees;
- (m) any costs incurred as a result of periodic updates of this Prospectus, any supplements, or of a change in law or the introduction of any new law (including any costs incurred as a result of compliance with any applicable code, whether or not having the force of law); and
- (n) any other fees and expenses relating to the management and administration of the Company or attributable to the Company's investments (including the legal costs of relevant Man Group entities as approved by the Directors).
- (o) Investors may apply for Shares through financial intermediaries who may impose fees that would not be imposed if Shares were purchased directly from the Company. Such investors should contact their financial intermediary for more information.

Rebates

The Manager and the Investment Manager or as relevant other Man Group entities may from time to time and at their discretion and out of their own resources decide to rebate to some or all Shareholders, intermediaries, or Man Group entities part or all of the management fee, investment management fee and performance fees payable to, respectively, the Manager and the Investment Manager.

Taxation

General

The information given is not exhaustive and does not constitute legal or tax advice. Prospective investors should consult their own professional advisers as to the implications of their subscribing for, purchasing, holding, switching or disposing of Participating Shares under the laws of the jurisdictions in which they may be subject to tax.

The following is a brief summary of certain aspects of Irish tax law and practice relevant to the transactions contemplated in this Prospectus. It is based on the law and practice and official interpretation currently in effect, all of which are subject to change.

The taxation of income and capital gains of the Company and of the Shareholders is subject to the fiscal laws and practices of Ireland and other countries in which Shareholders are resident or otherwise subject to tax.

The following is primarily a summary of certain Irish tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposal of Shares by Shareholders who are not Irish Resident or Irish Ordinary Resident and Shareholders who are Exempted Irish Investors. It does not address the position of persons, other than Exempted Irish Investors, who are Irish Resident or Irish Ordinary Resident (because Participating Shares may not be purchased or held by or on behalf of such Irish Residents or Irish Ordinary Residents unless they are Exempted Irish Investors). The following summary of certain relevant taxation provisions is based on current law and practice and does not constitute legal or tax advice and is not exhaustive of all possible tax considerations. Prospective investors should consult their own professional advisers on the relevant taxation considerations applicable to the acquisition, holding and disposal of Shares and the receipt of distributions under the laws of their countries of citizenship, residence or domicile.

Dividends, interest and capital gains (if any) which the Company receives with respect to its Investments (other than securities of Irish issuers) may be subject to taxes, including withholding taxes, in the countries in which the issuers of Investments are located. It is anticipated that the Company may not be able to benefit from reduced rates of withholding tax in double taxation agreements between Ireland and such countries. If this position changes in the future and the application of a lower rate results in a repayment to the Company, the Net Asset Value will not be restated and the benefit will be allocated to the existing Shareholders rateably at the time of the repayment.

Irish Taxation

The Directors have been advised that on the basis that the Company is resident in Ireland for taxation purposes, the taxation position of the Company and the Shareholders is as set out below.

Definitions

For the purposes of this section, the following definitions shall apply.

Residence – Individual

An individual will be regarded as being resident in Ireland for a tax year if s/he:

- (a) spends 183 days or more in Ireland in that tax year; or

- (b) has a combined presence of 280 days or more in Ireland, taking into account the number of days spent in Ireland in that tax year together with the number of days spent in Ireland in the preceding tax year.

Presence in a tax year by an individual of not more than 30 days in Ireland will not be reckoned for the purpose of applying the two year test. Presence in Ireland for a day means the personal presence of an individual at any time during the day.

An individual who has been resident in Ireland for three consecutive tax years becomes ordinarily resident with effect from the commencement of the fourth tax year. An individual who has been ordinarily resident in Ireland ceases to be ordinarily resident at the end of the third consecutive tax year in which s/he is not resident.

Residence – Company

A company which has its central management and control in Ireland is resident in Ireland. A company which does not have its central management and control in Ireland but which is incorporated in Ireland is resident in Ireland except where:

- (a) the company or a related company carries on a trade in Ireland, and either the company is ultimately controlled by persons resident in EU Member States or in countries with which Ireland has a double taxation treaty, or the company or a related company are quoted companies on a recognised Stock Exchange in the EU or in a taxation treaty country; or
- (b) the company is regarded as not resident in Ireland under a double taxation treaty between Ireland and another country.

It should be noted that the determination of a company's residence for tax purposes can be complex in certain cases and declarants are referred to the specific legislative provisions that are contained in Section 23A of the Taxes Act.

Residence – Trust

A trust will be regarded as resident in Ireland for tax purposes if a majority of its trustees are resident for tax purposes in Ireland.

Foreign Person

means a person who is neither an Irish Resident nor an Irish Ordinary Resident for tax purposes who has provided the Company with the Relevant Declaration under Schedule 2B of the Taxes Act and in respect of whom the Company is not in possession of any information that would reasonably suggest that the Relevant Declaration is incorrect or has at any time been incorrect.

The Company

The Company will be regarded as resident in Ireland for tax purposes if the central management and control of its business is exercised in Ireland and the Company is not regarded as resident elsewhere. It is the intention of the Directors that the business of the Company will be conducted in such a manner as to ensure that it is Irish resident for tax purposes.

On this basis, the Directors have been advised that the Company qualifies as an investment undertaking as defined in Section 739B of the Taxes Act. Under current Irish law and practice, on that basis, it is not chargeable to Irish corporation tax on its income and gains.

However, tax can arise on the happening of a 'chargeable event' in the Company. A chargeable event includes any distribution payments to Shareholders or any encashment, redemption, cancellation or transfer of Participating Shares or appropriation or cancellation of Shares of a Shareholder by the Company for the purposes of meeting the amount of the tax payable on a gain arising on a transfer of an entitlement to a Share. It also includes the end of an eight year period following the acquisition of the Shares regardless of whether the Shares have been encashed, redeemed, cancelled or transferred and every eight year anniversary thereafter. No tax will arise on the Company in relation to chargeable events in respect of a Shareholder who is neither Irish Resident nor Irish Ordinary Resident at the time of the chargeable event provided that a Relevant Declaration is in place and the Company is not in possession of any information which would reasonably suggest that the information contained therein is not or, is no longer materially correct. In addition, no tax will arise on the Company in relation to chargeable events in respect of a Shareholder who is an Exempted Irish Investor at the time of the chargeable event provided that a Relevant Declaration is in place. Participating Shares may not be purchased or held by or on behalf of Irish Residents or Irish Ordinary Residents who are not Exempted Irish Investors.

A chargeable event does not include:

- (a) an exchange by a Shareholder (effected by way of an arm's length bargain) of Shares in the Company for other Shares in the Company;
- (b) any transactions (which might otherwise be a chargeable event) in relation to Shares held in a recognised Clearing System as designated by order of the Irish Revenue Commissioners;
- (c) a transfer by a Shareholder of the entitlement to a Share where the transfer is between spouses, former spouses, civil partners and former civil partners subject to certain conditions;
- (d) an exchange of Shares arising on a qualifying amalgamation or reconstruction of the Company with another investment undertaking (within the meaning of Section 739H of the Taxes Act);
- (e) any transaction in relation to, or in respect of, relevant Shares in an investment undertaking which transaction only arises by virtue of a change of court funds manager for that undertaking.

Where Shares are held in a recognised clearing system such as Euroclear or Clearstream, the obligation falls on the Shareholder (rather than the Company) to self-account for any tax arising on a chargeable event.

If, for any reason, the Company becomes liable to account for tax if a chargeable event occurs, the Company shall be entitled to deduct from the payment arising on a chargeable event an amount equal to the appropriate tax and/or where applicable, to appropriate or cancel such number of Participating Shares held by the Shareholder or such beneficial owner as are required to meet the amount of tax. The relevant Shareholder shall indemnify and keep the Company indemnified against loss arising to the Company by reason of the Company becoming liable to account for tax on the happening of a chargeable event if no such deduction, appropriation or cancellation has been made.

Please see the section entitled 'Shareholders' below dealing with the tax consequences for the Company and the Shareholders of chargeable events in respect of:

- (a) Shareholders who are neither Irish Resident nor Irish Ordinary Resident; and
- (b) Exempted Irish Investors.

Dividends received by the Company from investment in Irish equities may be subject to Irish dividend withholding tax at the standard rate of income tax (currently 20%). However, the Company can make a declaration to the payer that it is an investment undertaking within the meaning of Section 739B of the Taxes Act beneficially entitled to the dividends which will entitle the Company to receive such dividends without deduction of Irish dividend withholding tax.

Shareholders

1. Shareholders who are neither Irish Resident nor Irish Ordinary Resident

The Company will not have to deduct tax on the occasion of a chargeable event in respect of a Shareholder if (a) the Shareholder is neither Irish Resident nor Irish Ordinary Resident, (b) the Shareholder has made a Relevant Declaration and (c) the Company is not in possession of any information which would reasonably suggest that the information contained therein is not, or is no longer materially correct.

To the extent that a Shareholder is acting as an Intermediary on behalf of persons who are neither Irish Residents nor Irish Ordinary Residents, no tax will have to be deducted by the Company on the occasion of a chargeable event provided that the Intermediary has made a Relevant Declaration that they are acting on behalf of such persons and the Company is not in possession of any information which would reasonably suggest that the information contained therein is not, or is no longer materially correct.

Shareholders who are neither Irish Residents nor Irish Ordinary Residents and who have made Relevant Declarations in respect of which the Company is not in possession of any information which would reasonably suggest that the information contained therein is not, or is no longer materially correct will not be liable to Irish tax in respect of income from their Shares and gains made on the disposal of their Shares. However, any corporate Shareholder which is not Irish Resident and which holds Shares directly or indirectly by or for a trading branch or agency in Ireland will be liable to Irish tax on income from the Shares or gains made on disposal of its Shares.

Where tax is withheld by the Company on the basis that no Relevant Declaration has been filed with the Company by the Shareholder, Irish legislation generally does not provide for a refund of tax. Refunds of tax will only be permitted in the following circumstances.

The appropriate tax has been correctly returned by the Company and within one year of making of the return the Company can prove to the satisfaction of the Revenue Commissioners that it is just and reasonable for such tax which has been paid to be repaid to the Company.

Where a claim is made for a refund of Irish tax under Section 189, 189A and 192 of the Taxes Act (relieving provisions relating to incapacitated persons, trusts in relation thereto and persons incapacitated as a result of drugs containing thalidomide) the income received will be treated as net income chargeable to tax under Case III of Schedule D from which tax has been deducted.

Where an Irish Resident company is within the charge to tax on a relevant payment from the Company and tax has been deducted by the Company from such a payment, then such tax can be offset against the Irish corporation tax assessable on the Shareholder, with any excess being reclaimable.

2. Shareholders who are Exempted Irish Investors

The Company will not have to deduct tax on the occasion of a chargeable event in respect of a Shareholder if (a) the Shareholder is an Exempted Irish Investor and (b) the Shareholder has made a Relevant Declaration.

Exempted Irish Investors will be obliged to account for any Irish tax due in respect of Shares on a self-assessment basis.

Stamp duty

Generally, no stamp duty is payable in Ireland on the issue, transfer, repurchase or redemption of Shares in the Company. Where any subscription for or redemption of Shares is satisfied by the in specie transfer of Irish securities or other Irish property, Irish stamp duty may arise on the transfer of such securities or property.

No Irish stamp duty will be payable by the Company on the conveyance or transfer of stock or marketable securities provided that the stock or marketable securities in question have not been issued by a company registered in Ireland and provided that the conveyance or transfer does not relate to any immovable property situated in Ireland or any right over or interest in such property or to any stocks or marketable securities of a company (other than a company which is an investment undertaking within the meaning of Section 739B of the Taxes Act) which is registered in Ireland.

Capital acquisitions tax

The disposal of Shares will not be subject to Irish gift or inheritance tax (Capital Acquisitions Tax), provided that the Company falls within the definition of an investment undertaking (within the meaning of Section 739B of the Taxes Act) and that: (a) at the date of the gift or inheritance, the donee or successor is neither domiciled nor Ordinarily Resident in Ireland; (b) at the date of the disposition, the Shareholder disposing of the Shares is neither domiciled nor Ordinarily Resident in Ireland and (c) the Shares are comprised in the gift or inheritance at the date of such gift or inheritance and at the valuation date.

These principles of treating customers fairly focus primarily on risk analytics, technology and business process engineering, and are taken into account when setting strategy and commercial objectives of AHL Partners LLP, in its capacity as the AIFM to the Company.

Shareholders should note however that fair treatment does not necessarily equate to equal or identical treatment and that, as described in the section entitled "Fees and Expenses", the terms and conditions of any given Shareholder's investments in the Company may differ to other Shareholders.

The Company and the Manager may enter into arrangements with certain Shareholders which cover areas such as, inter alia, country specific regulatory and tax matters.

- (c) The Directors may decline to register a transfer of Participating Shares (i) where they are aware or believe that such transfer would or might result in the beneficial ownership of such Participating Shares by a person who is not a Qualified Holder or expose the Company to adverse tax or regulatory consequences; and (ii) where, in the case of a transfer, the proposed transferee would be the holder of Participating Shares with an aggregate value less than the Minimum Subscription. The registration of transfers may be suspended for such times and at such periods as the Directors may determine provided always that such registration may not be suspended for more than 30 days in any one year.

Redemption of Participating Shares

 - (iii) shall not be accountable, by reason of his office, to the Company for any benefit which he derives from any such office or employment or from any such transaction or arrangement or from any interest in any such body corporate and no such transaction or arrangement shall be liable to be avoided on the ground of any such interest or benefit.
- (d) A Director shall not generally be permitted to vote at a meeting of the Directors or a committee of Directors on any resolution concerning a matter in which he has, directly or indirectly, an interest which is material to, or a duty which conflicts or may conflict with the interests of, the Company. - (f) The number of Directors shall not be less than two.
- (g) The quorum for meetings of Directors may be fixed by the Directors and unless so fixed shall be two.

- (v) he is convicted of an indictable offence and the Directors determine that as a result of such conviction he shall cease to be a Director; or
- (vi) he shall for more than six consecutive months have been absent without permission of the Directors from meetings of the Directors held during that period and the Directors pass a resolution that he has by reason of such absence vacated office.

The Company may also, as a separate power, in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the Act, by ordinary resolution of the shareholders, remove any Director (including any managing director or other executive director) before the expiry of his period of office notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Articles or in any agreement between the Company and any such Director.

Borrowing and pledging powers

The Directors may exercise all the powers of the Company to borrow or raise money (including the power to borrow for the purpose of repurchasing shares) but may not hypothecate, mortgage, charge or pledge its undertaking, property, assets or any part thereof, or issue debentures, debenture stock or other securities, whether outright or as collateral security for any debt, liability or obligations of the Company save in accordance with the provisions of Part XIII of the Act or as permitted by the Central Bank. Nothing contained herein shall restrict liens arising in the ordinary course of business. Notwithstanding the above, the Directors may pledge or encumber the Company's assets in respect of short-term loans raised for the account of the Company provided that:

- (a) the aggregate amount of such loans does not exceed 10% of the Net Asset Value; and
- (b) the prior approval of the Depositary to the terms and conditions of the loans is obtained.

Dividends

No dividends are payable on the Subscriber Shares. Subject to the provisions of the Irish Companies Acts 1963 to 2012, the Company may by ordinary resolution declare dividends on the Participating Shares, but no dividends shall exceed the amount recommended by the Directors. If the Directors so resolve, and in any event on the winding up of the Company or on the redemption of all of the Participating Shares, any dividend which has remained unclaimed for 12 years shall be forfeited and will revert to the Company.

Distribution of assets on a liquidation

If the Company is wound up, the liquidator may, with a sanction of a special resolution of the Company or other sanction as required by the Irish Companies Acts 1963 to 2012, divide among the Shareholders in specie or in kind, all or any part of the assets of the Company and may for such purpose value any property to be divided as aforesaid and may determine how such division should be carried out as between the Shareholders.

Restrictions on Shareholders

The Directors have power to impose such restrictions as they may think necessary for the purpose of ensuring that no Participating Shares are acquired or held by:

- (a) any person who is not a Qualified Holder; and
- (b) any person in breach of the law or requirements of any country, government or authority or any person or persons in circumstances (whether directly or indirectly affecting such person or persons and whether taken alone or in conjunction with any other persons, connected or not, or any other circumstances appearing to the Directors to be relevant) which, in the opinion of the Directors, might result in the Company incurring any liability to taxation or suffering any other pecuniary, fiscal or regulatory disadvantage which the Company might not otherwise have incurred or suffered or the Company being required to comply with any registration or filing requirement in any jurisdiction with which it would not otherwise be required to comply.

If it comes to the notice of the Directors that any Participating Shares are so held by any such non-qualified person as outlined above the Directors may give notice to such person requiring the redemption or transfer of such Participating Shares in accordance with the provisions of the Articles. If any person upon whom such a notice has been served fails to comply with such requirements within 30 days, that person shall be deemed to have given a Redemption Notice in respect of all its Participating Shares. A person who becomes aware that it is a non-qualified person is required either to deliver to the Company a written request for redemption of its Participating Shares in accordance with the Articles or to transfer the same to a person who would not thereby be a non-qualified person.

6. Money laundering

The Manager has a responsibility to regulators for compliance with anti-money laundering regulations around the world and, for that reason, existing Shareholders, potential subscribers for and transferees of Participating Shares may be asked for proof of identity. Until satisfactory proof of identity is provided by potential investors or transferees, as determined by the Directors, the Directors reserve the right to withhold the issue or approval of transfers (as the case may be) of the applicable Participating Shares. In case of delay or failure to provide satisfactory proof of identity, the Company and the Manager may take such action as they see fit including the right to redeem issued Participating Shares compulsorily.

The following is a list of the Anti-Money Laundering Documents currently required:

Note: Anti-Money Laundering Documents should be submitted with the Application. Shareholders will not receive the proceeds of any redemption of Shares until the original of the Application and the Anti-Money

(a) Form of Participating Shares held by Direct Shareholders

The Participating Shares will be represented by a global share certificate (the 'Global Share Certificate') registered in the nominee name indicated on the Application Form for credit to the accounts of the subscribers with Euroclear and Clearstream. The Clearing Systems (or their nominee) shall note the number of Participating Shares represented by the Global Share Certificate on the reverse of the Global Share Certificate and shall note any increase (by way of an issue of additional Participating Shares) or reduction (by way of transfer or redemption of Participating Shares) on the reverse of the Global Share Certificate.

Clearstream, Luxembourg has established an electronic bridge with Euroclear Clearance Systems plc as the operator of the Euroclear system in Brussels to facilitate settlement of trades between Clearstream and Euroclear.

(e) Euroclear

Euroclear was created in 1968 to hold securities for its participants and to clear and settle transactions between its participants through simultaneous electronic book-entry delivery against payment, thereby eliminating the need for physical movement of certificates and any risk from lack of simultaneous transfers of securities and cash. Euroclear includes various other services, including securities lending and borrowing, and interfaces with domestic markets in several countries. The Euroclear system is owned by Euroclear Clearance System plc and operated through a license agreement by Euroclear, a bank incorporated under the laws of the Kingdom of Belgium (the 'Euroclear Operator'). Euroclear participants include banks (including central banks), securities brokers and dealers and other professional financial intermediaries. Indirect access to Euroclear is also available to others that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a Euroclear participant, either directly or indirectly. The Euroclear Operator is regulated and examined by the Belgian Banking and Finance Commission and the National Bank of Belgium. Securities clearance accounts and cash accounts with the Euroclear Operator are governed by the Terms and Conditions Governing Use of Euroclear and the related Operating Procedures of the Euroclear system, and applicable Belgian law (collectively, the 'Terms and Conditions'). The Terms and Conditions govern transfers of securities and cash within Euroclear, withdrawals of securities and cash from Euroclear, and receipts of payments with respect to securities in Euroclear. All securities in Euroclear are held on a fungible basis without attribution of specific certificates to specific securities clearance accounts. The Euroclear Operator acts under the Terms and Conditions only on behalf of Euroclear participants and has no record of or relationship with persons holding through Euroclear participants.

9. Calculation of the Net Asset Value

The calculation of the Net Asset Value is the responsibility of the Valuations Service Provider. In determining such Net Asset Value, the Articles provide, inter alia, that:

- (a) the Net Asset Value shall be expressed in US dollars or in such other currency as the Directors may determine in any specific case (translated where necessary at such rate of exchange as the Directors think fit) and shall be determined, subject to suspension, as at each Valuation Point and shall be the value of all the assets of the Company less all the liabilities of the Company subject to any regulations of the Central Bank and pursuant to Part XIII of the Act;
- (b) the assets of the Company shall be deemed to include:
- (i) all cash in hand, on deposit or on call including any interest accrued thereon and all accounts receivable;
 - (ii) all bills, demand notes, certificates of deposit and promissory notes;
 - (iii) all bonds, forward currency transactions, commodities (of every description including precious metals and oils), time notes, shares, stock, units of or participation in collective investment schemes/mutual funds, debentures, debenture stock, subscription rights, warrants, futures contracts, options contracts, swap contracts, contracts for differences, fixed rate securities, floating rate securities, securities in respect of which the return and/or redemption amount is calculated by reference to any index, price or rate, financial instruments and other investments and securities owned or contracted for by the Company, other than rights and securities issued by it;
 - (iv) all stock and cash dividends and cash distributions to be received by the Company and not yet received by it but declared to shareholders on record on a date on or before the day as of which the Net Asset Value is being determined;
 - (v) all interest accrued on any interest-bearing securities owned by the Company except to the extent that the same is included or reflected in the principal value of such security;
 - (vi) all other Investments of the Company;
 - (vii) the preliminary expenses of the Company including the cost of issuing and distributing Participating Shares in so far as the same have not been written off; and
 - (viii) all other assets of the Company of every kind and nature including prepaid expenses as valued and defined from time to time by the Directors. The paid-up nominal capital of the Subscriber Shares shall be excluded as an asset of the Company for the purposes of determining the Net Asset Value;
- (c) where any security or currency contract owned or contracted for by the Company is listed or dealt in on a Market, the value thereof shall be based on the latest quoted mid-market price for such securities or such contracts available to the Directors at the latest Valuation Point or for such amount of such investment as the Directors may consider in all circumstances to provide a fair criterion. Where such security or such contract is listed or dealt in on more than one Market, the relevant Market shall be the one which the Directors determine provides the fairest criteria in the valuation of such security. For the purposes of this paragraph and the following paragraphs the expression 'Market' shall mean any stock exchange, over-the-counter market or

- other securities market, any commodity exchange or market on which commodities are regularly traded or publicly auctioned as relevant to the particular Investment in any part of the world;
- (d) where any security or currency contract owned or contracted for by the Company is listed or dealt in on a Market but in respect of which for any reason, prices on that Market may not be available at any relevant time, or, in the opinion of the Directors, may not be representative, the value therefore shall be the probable realisation value thereof estimated with care and in good faith certified by a person, firm or association making a market in such security or contract approved by the Depositary and/or any other person qualified, in the opinion of the Directors (and with the approval of the Depositary) to provide such a certificate;
 - (e) the value of any security or currency contract owned or contracted for by the Company which is not listed or dealt in on a Market shall be the probable realisable value therefore ascertained as hereinafter provided with the concurrence of the Depositary:
 - (i) the probable realisable value of such security or currency contract as estimated by the Directors, acting in good faith and with due care and approved by the Depositary; and
 - (ii) taking into account interest or interest bearing securities or contracts;
 - (f) the value of any off-exchange derivative Investment valued using the counterparty valuation shall be subject to verification by a party independent of the counterparty and approved for such purpose by the Depositary at least monthly.
 - (g) the value of any forward foreign exchange contracts will be valued by reference to the price at which a new forward contract of the same size and maturity could be undertaken on the day in which the relevant Valuation Point occurs;
 - (h) the value of any future contracts and options which are dealt in on a Market shall be calculated by reference to the price appearing to the Directors to be the settlement price as determined by the Market in question, provided that where it is not the practice of the relevant market to quote a settlement price or if such settlement price is not available for any reason, such value shall be calculated in accordance with paragraph 9(d) above.
 - (i) other derivative instruments shall be valued, on at least a weekly basis, at such price as the Directors in good faith, with the approval of the Depositary and in consultation with the Investment Manager, consider represents the best possible realisation value of the derivative instrument, provided the Company (or its delegate) has adequate human and technical means to perform the valuation. Such valuation shall be reconciled to the counterparty valuation on at least a monthly basis. Where significant differences arise such differences will be promptly investigated and the final position documented.
 - (j) the value of any Investment which is a participation in an open-ended collective investment scheme/mutual fund shall be calculated by reference to the most recent net asset value of such participation calculated in accordance with the requirements of the relevant scheme/fund;

- (k) cash shall be valued at face value (together with accrued interest to the relevant Valuation Point) unless, in the opinion of the Directors, any adjustment should be made to reflect the value thereof;
- (l) if in any case a particular value is not ascertainable as above provided or if the Directors shall consider that some other method of valuation better reflects the fair value of the relevant Investment then in such case the method of valuation of the relevant Investment shall be such as the Directors shall decide provided that such method has been approved by the Depositary and the rationale and the methodology for adjusting the value are clearly documented;
- (m) The Company shall not adjust the value of an asset unless such an adjustment is considered necessary to reflect the fair value in the context of currency, marketability, dealing costs and/or such other considerations which are deemed relevant. The rationale and methodology for adjusting the value must be clearly documented; and
- (n) any valuations made pursuant to the Articles shall be binding on all persons.

10. Circumstances of a winding up

The Company shall be wound up in the following circumstances:

The Company may terminate the Investment Management Agreement forthwith if either the Investment Manager or Marketing Adviser ceases to hold any authorisation or registration or the Company is required or advised by any regulatory authority to terminate the appointment of either the Investment Manager or Marketing Adviser. 15. Governing Law and Recognition and Enforcement of Judgments in Ireland

The 1980 Rome Convention on the Law Applicable to Contractual Obligations (other than Article 7(1)), Regulation (EC) 593/2008 (Rome I) and Regulation (EC) 864/2007 (Rome II), all have force of law in Ireland (together the "Rome Regulations"). Accordingly, the choice of a governing law in any given agreement is subject to the provisions of the Rome Regulations. Under the Rome Regulations, the courts of Ireland may apply any rule of Irish law which is mandatory irrespective of the governing law and may refuse to apply a rule of governing law if it is manifestly incompatible with the public policy of Ireland. The courts of Ireland determine what the public policy of Ireland is on a case by case basis. The fact that contractual parties choose a foreign law, whether or not accompanied by the choice of a foreign tribunal, shall not, where all the other elements relevant to the situation at the time of the choice are connected with one country only, prejudice the application of rules of the law of that country, which cannot be derogated from by agreement.

Council Regulation (EC) No 44/2001 on jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters has force of law in Ireland. In accordance with its provisions, a judgment obtained in the courts of a foreign jurisdiction will in general be recognised and enforced in Ireland without review as to its substance, save in certain exceptional circumstances.
